ATTACK ON REPUBLICAN CLUBS-SEVERAL PER-SONS INJURED. - Last night, about twelve c'clock 8 the Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Nineteenth Ward Republican clubs were passing up Second street, on their way home from the meeting in Broad street, they were attacked by a party of individuals who were assembled at the corner of Race street. Some of this crowd first invited an attack by cheering for Seymour and Blair, but finding that the Republicans paid no attention to them, they began the assault. When the Republi-cans defended themselves, the assailants rushed into the house of the Vigilant Engine Company, which leads to the supposition that they were members or adherents of that company. Bricks and stones were hurled, it is said, from the winand stones were hurled, it is said, from the windows of the engine house, and from the roofs of adjoining houses. During the fighting in the street, pistols were fired and axes were used. A general alarm was struck on the bell on the top of the Vigilant House, as if calling for reinforcements, but the effect was opposite to that desired, for a strong body of the Fourth District Police soon arrived on the ground. By the efforts of the police the disturbance was quelled and the destruction of the Vigilant Engine House was probably prevented. Several parties were injured in the melee.

Thomas Kelley, of the Sixteenth Ward, was shot in the arm.

THE NINETEENTH WARD MURDER.-The horrible butchery of little Mary Mohrmann in the Nineteenth Ward still remains a prefound mystery. All of the efforts of the Detective officers and Lieut. Witeraft and the Eleventh District Police, to obtain a clue which will lead to the arrest of the perpetrator of the fiendish crime, have, thus far, proved unavailing. The officers are still at work energetically.

Total. 5910,000
These ports have a foreign commerce of $990,000,000 and an enormous domestic trade, besides which we have the immense internal commerce of the Empire, radiating from these points, through its canals and navigable rivers The cable being laid, this company propose erecting land lines and establishing a speedy and trustworthy means of communication, which must command there, as everywhere else, the communications of the government, of business, and of social life, especially in China. She has no postal system, and her orly means now of communicating information is by courier on land, and by steamers on water.

The Western World knows that China is a very large country, in the main densely peopled; but few yet realize that she contains more than a third of the heman race. The latest returns made to her central authorities for taxing purposes, by the local magistrates, make her population Four Hundred and Fourteen Millions, and this is more likely to be under than over the actual aggregate. Nearly all of these who are over ten years gregate, Nearly all of these who are over ten years old not only can, but do read and write. Her civilization is seculiar, but her literature is as extensive as that of Europe. China is a land of teachers and traders; and the latter are exceedingly quick to avail themselves of every proffered facility for procuring early information. It is observed in California that the Chinese make great use of the telegraph, though it there transmits messages in English close. To though it there transmits messages in English alone day, great numbers of seet steamers are owned by Chinese merchants, and used by them exclusively for the transmission of early intelligence. If the telegraph we propose, connecting all their great seaports, were now in existence, it is believed that its business would pay its cost within the first two years of its successful operation, and would steadily increase thereafter.
