MILITARY DESPOTISM.

The Copperhead press has, for a long time, been teeming with invective against the miliary rule in the South. We should have neard less of this if the President, in whose power it lay, had given out for publication he official documents on the subject, sometimes written with special reference to the nalicious slanders which have been circulaed so freely. Now and then, as in the case of the famous garbled reports of Sheridan about the New Orleans riots, and in the recent one of Meade's. burn murderers, a partial and unfair abstract of such documents is given out from the a view to build up a city there, the locality

We are informed that Brigham Young has given orders to Bishops, throughout the Territory to cut off from the Mormon Church every member who deals at a Gentile store, or purchases of an outsider. We have heard it stated by parties coming from the north, that preaching upon that subject had been done at Ogden and other places. This is but a part of the plan arranged by Brigham, and carried out by his subordinates, to place an effectual embargo upon the location of Gentile business men in this Territory; and which would be made a total prohibition

The Prosperity of Utali-Condition of the Prosperity of Utali-Condition of the Properior of the 10th inst., specking of the arrival of Marmon immigrants, easy:

The Descret News, the Mormon Church organ, takes occasion to state in its leader of the 8th mst., that the results of the labors of those Mormon enigrants, whom the New York press term low and degraded, are thriving towns and villages arroughout the Territory of Utah, and the tenor of the article would lead many, unacquainted with the actual state of affairs, to suppose that fine houses or neat cottages, beautiful gardens sur-Preferred. of the article would lead many, unacquainted with the actual state of affairs, to suppose that fine houses or nead cottages, beautiful gardens surrounded by nicely painted or whitewashed fences, respectable outhouses and other domestic improvements are to be found in every town throughout the Territory. How then will the traveler passing through the settlements of Utah, be disappointed when he finds that the mass of the people outside of Salt Lake City, and one or two other places, live in poor "dug-outs," actually burrow in the earth, or in miserable log cabins, surrounded by old tumble down fences made of poles; the corral and cow stables very often closer to the street than the dwelling-house, and everything presenting a dilapidated appearance. If there happens to be a respectable-looking adobe house in the village, they belong to the Bishop, the President of the place, and his connsellers or some other favored one; and frequently the poor, people have spent their time and labor rearing houses for these leeches upon their energies for which they get no returns. We find a total absence in Mormon settlements of that air of prosperity and soild, comfort which is generally to be found in eastern villages. It is a noticeable fact that the majority of the foreign immigration into Utah is Danish, while the greatest number of immigrants to the Western States are Germans. The latter, as a people, are far superior to the former in enterpise, intellect, industry and everything that goes to make up and sustain a prosperous community. The Danes will remain for years in the place upon which they have settled in the same "dug-out" or old tumble down log shanty, making no improvements and content to remain in that condition until they die.

There is scarcely an eastern village, even the poorest, but what is far imperior to the best Utah can boast of, in this respect. Even in the City of I Salt Lake, and upon the principal street may occasionally be found a cornal and cowshed in close proximity to the shiewalk. As for prosperity, it does not exist in Utah, at the present time, because there is nothing to encourage trade or commerce. A general depression exists in nearly every branch of industry, which is the reverse of prosperity. Our theory is that the want of thrift and comfort in this Territory is a stributable to the pernicious social system that obtains in it and sups the fountain of general prosperity, as a slow but sure strocco. ATLANTIC CABLE NEWS THE LONDON MONEY MARKET. New York, Sept. 18.—The splendid mansion of Mr. James Gordon Bennett, at Fort Washington, on the Hudson, took fire at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. It was caused by a defective flue. The flames were confined to the inside of the building, but before they were extinguished considerable damage was done to the costly furniture and works of art. The damage was estimated at $20,000, fully insured.

The scene after the suppression of the fire was one of thorough discomfort and confusion. The least injured of the rooms still contained furniture, statues, pictures and mirrors, lying in utter ture, statues, pictures and mirrors, lying in utter disorder. other places. This is but a part of the plan arranged by Brigham, and carried out by his subordinates, to place an effectual embargo upon the location of Gentile business men in this Territory; and which would be made a total prohibition had they the power to enforce it. It has been the constant aim and object of the Mormon leaders to keep out Gentiles, and prevent them from selling in this territory. To such an extent was this formerly carried that Mormons were even prohibited from renting houses to Gentiles; and several who dared to brave the displeasure of their rulers were considered as Apostates. Lately, owing to force of circumstances, the rigor of that rule has been somewhat relaxed in this city although the intolerant feeling towards Gentiles, upon the part of church authorities, still exists in the country settlements of Utah. It now seems to be cropping out afresh, coupled with a determination, if possible, to drive Gentile traders out of Utah. Preaching against the Gentiles is indulged in to a far greater extent in the country settlements, than would be considered prudent in the Tatornacle at Salt Lake City. Thus while matters are kept quiet at Mormon headquarters to pull wool over the eyes of some, elsewinere the anathemas against outsiders and the government are as loud as ever.

The Sentence of Whalen.

The following is the full text of the impressive sentence imposed upon Whalen, the murdere of D'Arcy McGes:

His Lordship said: You have been treated with every forbearance, and more latitude has been allowed than you could justly claim. You have had a fair trial, even by your own confession; a verdict has been rendered by twelve of your countrymen, and the law always presumes such verdict to be right. Whatever presumptions in law there may have been of your innocence before, now we must assume you to be guilty. With regard to many of the observations you have made as to the prejudices against you as a Roman Catholic, as the motive of the country for proceedings against you, I may be permitted to say, as having been born in this country, that no such prejudices exist as you have referred to—that every man is equal here in the eye of the law—and neither in a court of justice, nor in the country is any man unjustice, nor in the country is any man unjustly treated or deprived of any of his rights on account of religion. Your countrymen in this country have precisely the same rights, privileges and opportunities as any other, and to this the murdent men described.
