THERE is a tract of country in the northwestern part of Pennsylvania, including parts of the counties of McKean, Elk and Cameron, and covering nearly two hundred square miles, between the sources of the Susquehanna and Allegheny rivers, to which the attention of capitalists is called by the advertisement of sale in this afternoon's paper. This property will be sold by M. Thomas & Sons, Auctioneers, at the Exchange, on the 20th of October. The area is over 100,000 acres. The forests are now untouched, and the iron and coal mines are intact. The Philadelphia and tanneries may be profilably constructed. A portion of the soil is admirably adapted for ag-riculture, and the residue for grazing. Coal can be mined without shafting and with natural drainage. The lands have been carefully surveyed by several competent persons, and their mineral wealth is established. The castern portion of the territory to be tra-The eastern portion of the territory to be tra-versed by the Philadelphia and Erie cut-off, the suffalo and Washington, and other roads, has coal and iron mines. All of the coal is of good quality, abundant, easily mined and moved to market. Buffalo is but one hundred miles dis-tant, and will demand all the gas coals that can be mined. The town of Kane has several hun-dred inhabitants, machine shops, an engine-house and other conveniences, besides a large hotel. Wilcox is a flourishing town near by, and both give a market to farmers. The subdivisions of the route embrace coal, timber and farm lands, and water power apportioned to each. These are the general facts of a very important transfer of creal estate. They must commend themselves to the attention of business men at once. The development of that whole section of the commonwealth cannot be slow when the ad-vancing ralls have penetrated it, and those who are able to buy and hold must eventually realize richly from their investments.

unteer Refreshment Saloon of Philadelphia is a bistorical institution. More than a million meals were there furnished gratuitously to the brave defenders of the Union, and its noble band of faithful men and women is held in grateful remembrance in every corner of the country whither a loyal soldier returned from the war.

The signal gun of the Refreshment Saloon, which for four years summoned the corps of willing attendants, at all hours of the day and night, to the grateful duty of ministering to the weary, hungry, and sometimes sick and dying soldier, now occupies an honora ble place in the Trophy Room of the Philadelphia Nav y Yard. And the column which has just been presented to the Government will stand as a lasting monument, marking at once the patriotism of the brave men who sleep in the cometery lot of the Refreshment Saloon, and the loving devotion of the true-hearted men and women who paid the last sad offices of kindness to them.

The community is indebted to Samuel B. Fales, Esq., for his untiring exertions in every department of the operations of the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon, from the beginning of its Refreshment Saloon, from the beginning of its career down to the procuring of this monumental marble to mark its close. Senator Cattell and Representative O'Neill have also given their cor-dial aid in promotion of the patriotic design of the officers of the institution. "PHILADELFINIA, October 17th, 1867.—Hon. Hugh McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury, Washington—DEAR FIE :—Upon the final closing of the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon, foot of Washington and Swanson streets—De-cember 1st, 1865—I was elected chairman of a committee for erecting a monument to the brave soldiers who died in our hospitals, and whose remains have been interred in our cometery lot. Every dollar, and all sani-tary stores, provisione, &c., collected by con-tributions for the soldiers, were expended on them either in the form of refreshments or in our hospitals, and our present limited amount of cash for the monument to be erected, was realized from the sale of the building mate-rials of the Baloon, and is not sufficient for the purpose. Having head that the United States was realized from the sale of the building mate-rials of the Saloon, and is not sufficient for the purpose. Having heard that the United States Government intended to present to some of the States the marble columns which formerly deco-rated the forch of the Fennsylvania Bank, (In Second, near Dock street,) I have been requested by the Committee of the Union Volunteer Re-freshment Saloon to ask (in case they are incom-Scould, heat Does Steer, J have been requested by the Committee of the Union Volunteer Re-freshment Saloon to ask (in case they are given away) that one of them may be presented to their institution; to serve as a monument to the brave soldiers who have died in their hospitals; and who laid down their lives that their country might live; the greatest and bravest general who lost his life on the battle-field did no more. Our Committee deem it their duty to preserve the names and memory of these loyal men, in the form of a monument, if possi-ble; and the gift of one of these columns for this purpose will materially assist us, and at the same time be gratefully acknowledged. "I remain very respectfully yours, "Chairman of the Monument Committee and Corresponding Secretary of the Union Volun-ter Refreshment Saloon."

"PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17, 1867.- A. B. Mullett. "PHILADELFHIA, Oct. 17, 1867.—A. B. Mullett, Esq., Supervising Architect, Treasury Depart-ment, Sir: I have made application to the Hon. Hugh B. McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury, as Chairman of the Monument Committee, and Corresponding Secre-tary of the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon, for the donation of one of the marble columns of the Preneviyania Bank (in Sacord theor Philofor the donation of one of the marble columns of the Penneylvania Bank, (in Second street, Phila-del phia.) to be used as a monument for the brave soldiers, who have been interred in our cemetery lot. This application is made by me in my official capacity, and fully, approved and indorsed, by the Committee, who think that they can make this request with great propriety, from the fact that from the first call for thoose at the commencement of the civil coll for troops at the commencement of the civil-war, until the last soldier had returned, our In-stitution was a free hotel for all soldiers, whether ski wonded, hungry, on their march, dis-charged, or in our hospitals; the committee have always recleved, refreshed and provided for the U. S. sallors, freedmen, refugees, contrabands, and rebel deserters, and have endeavored to co-operate with, and assist the United States Govorment from the first; and although they re-ceived no compensation for their services, have always cheerfully met and responded to every re-quirement, and all demands on their time and At the commencement of this rebellion and tefore the United States Government could make the necessary and much needed provision for the core and refreshment of our brave defenders, as fur back as May 27th, 1861, the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon sprang into existence. It was the first organization in the field in Philadel-phia in the cause of patriotism and Christian philanthrophy, and was gotten up expressly to assist the Government, and to provide (as far as in their power) for the reception, entertainment, and comfort of the soldiers? At that time every-thing was new and crude to the generality of the officers and soldiers, their rations were imper-fectly and improperly cooked, and there were At the commencement of this rebellion and fuctly and improperly cooked, and there were no regular militaryhospitals. We gave them good and nourishing food, and tried to alleviate their burdships and discomforts; and our ladies re-ceived and nursed at their own houses over (70) feventy sick soldiers. We claim to have created the first military hospital in Khudalaha the first military hospital in Philadelphia, at the foot of Washington and Swanson streets, at the very commencement of our national troubles, for the reception of the sick and suffering men. Our Committee for over four and a half (continued) scars have faithfully devoted themselves to their years have faithfully devoted themselves to their assumed work, and our Ladies' Committee, as the late Rev. Dr. Thomas Brainard truly and justly said, "literally during that time, slept at the tap of the drum." We can further state, and it has been admitted by officers in the United States service, that we have often saved the troops from demoralization; that the pleasant smile of welcome, the hearty grasp of the hand and; the full appreciation of their services and sacrifices (which money could not purchase), have proved to them that they their services and sacrifices (which money could not purchase), have proved to them that they were "cared ior," and has cheered them on in their rugged pathway of duty. "In conclusion, we can say that the Union Vol-unteer Refreshment Saloon was entirely sustained by the voluntary contributions of the citizens of Philadelphia and vicin-ity, and received no aid or assistance from the city or State authorities, or from the United States Government; and without being con-sidered as boasting or valiglorious, can fearlessly-assert that we have assisted the United States Government in the care of our soldlers, &c., ascri that we have assisted the United States Government in the care of our soldiers, &c., added honor to the State of Pennsylvania; and that as long as Philadelphia exists as a city, so kng, we believe, will her name be cherished and gratfully remembered in connection with her volunteer Refreshment Saloons. Therefore, I have no hesitation in making this request of the Government, on behalf of the Committee of the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon, for it is really a very small boon in return for the services rundered by them. "I have given you the foregoing facts and statements with regard to the operations of our Institution, which now, having become a matter of history, you are no doubt fully conversant with. Any assistance you can render us by en-dorsing our request for one of the marble col-nums for our proposed monument will be duly time greatly oblige Yours, very respectively, [Signed] "SAMUEL B.FALES, Chairman, &c."

A PALATIAL STORE. — We are always pleased to chronicle the march of improvement in the erection of fine business edifices, and to-day, propose to give a sbort description of the splendid new building now just being completed for Messre. short description of the spienoid new building now just being completed for Messre. Strawbridge & Clothler, at the northwest corner of Eighth and Mar-tet streets. This firm, finding their old store entirely too small for the needs of their constantly-growing business, made during last spring a contract, with Messra. Bai-derston & Albertson to erect for them a frst-class Flicton stone store—one that would accommodate the demands of a large business and at the same time be a credit to the builders and an improvement to the neighborhood. The conditions of the contract were that possession should be given on June 1s, and the building ready for occupancy by September 10th. This would scem an impossibility, but the energetic builder so contracted, and on June 1st commenced to take down the old buildings. Since then its daily progress has been watched by thousands of our citizons, and to day one of the handsomest and most substantial structures in our city stands at the northwest corner of Eighth and Market streets. The building is live stories in beight, and has a front on Market street of 42 fost. It is fron front up to the second story, from there to the top Nova Scona Pic tonstone. The side on Eighth stree, is of fine pressed brick, with stone plasters and trimmings. Tho stone work was furnished by Mr. Wm. Gray, and was done in such a manner as to add to his already high roop-tation. The interior is worthy of more notice than our space will admit of. It is criating one of the neetest, most conventently-arranged and artistically-minished buildings of their arrangement and alepta-bility to the purposes required. In place of the cobble stones on Market and Eighth streets a Belgian pavefuent has been laid, in keeping with the nicety that pervades everything about the hulding, and making a comfortable stopping place for carriages. The pavement of North River flagstone was laid by Messers. J. W. Solby & Co, and is of the most substantial kind. One thing that particularly impresed us was the very substantial manner in which everything has been done. From the founda-tion up everything is solid and massive. The upper rooms, not being entirely complete, we withhold noticing for the present, but advise our read-ers who have an eye for the neat and tasteful in busi-ness improvement to visit this fine building; without
