POLITICAL. Republican Meeting in the Twenty second Ward. Last evening one of the largest meetings of the campaign was held at Mermaid Station by the Republicans of that portion of the Twenty-second Ward. There were present the Republican Invincibles and the Grant and Colfax Clubs of the Sixteenth and Twenty-second Wards. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested by those present, among whom were a large number of ladics.

The meeting was called to order by Joshus Comly, who proposed the following named gentlemen, who were unanimously elected of

Rev. Bishop Stevens has issued the following circular:

To the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.—Beloved in the Lord: The General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, which holds its essions once in three years, will meet in the city of New York on the 7th of October next.

In this great council of our church will be gathered, for the first time since 1859, bishops, clergy and laity from all of the United States.

It will comprise a larger number of bishops and a larger number of dioceses than any of our previous councils. | Content of the Content of the Content of the Convention, as well as scach, and an accession of the Convention, as well as reach and accession of special prayer to Almighty God, I affection of six or septically to convention. The business which will be brought before it is of the deepest importance to the well-bring of the church, now and hereafter. The credition of six or severa fiew Diceases and mission of six or several fields possible of the content of our code of canons to new phases of church growth and action; the various memorials to concling vital points of faith, ritual and discipline, which will be presented; the recasting of the whole Foreign Missionary work of the church; the needed revision of the course of studies for candidates for Holy Orders, as prescribed by the House of Bishops; the devising of new and enlarged agencies of church education and church extension; the methods by which we can best minister to the spiritual needs of the poor, the working-classes, the freedmen, the fallen of every grade, on the one hand; as well as reach, and successfully grapple with, the various forms of rationalism and unbelleving science on the other; these, and other causily grappe with, the various forms of rationalism and unbelleving science on the other; these, and other causily great questions, each big with untold consequences, will engage the deliberation of the Legislative Council. In addition to these matters, which perhalm specifically to conventional action, the working can be content on the several grace with the constitute of the several grace with the constitute of the several grace with the constitute of many reasons why we should make the approaching excession of the General Convention and conceasions of special prayer to Almighty God, I affectionately request:

1. That the Frayer for "The Meetings of the Convention," found among the occasional prayers, after the Litany, be used on all occasions of proble, worship, beginning with the sevention. In addition to the changes which the clerky will Charles E. Graff, Charles Millman and Joshus Comly.

Hon. Caleb N. Taylor was first introduced. He alluded to the basis of the Democratic party as adopted by the New York Convention. He gave a scathing rebuke to the doings of that party while, they were dominant in Congress. He showed the gross inconsistency and hypocrisy of the Democrats in many things—in their momination of General McClellan for President in 1864, and their efforts to regain their prestige.

Did the Republican party faisity their promise? Did we fight the war to preserve the Union? Yes. We restored the rebels to power, and pardoned them, so far as we could consistently with national honor and national luterity. Could the Republicans, humiliate. Themselves before those who had striven to destroy our country? Could they sgain ensiste the negro who had just been disentivalled? For the first time in the history of our country suffrage is left to the different States and to the people. Now the results of the war come directly before the people. So, does the our country satirage is left to the different states and to the people. Now the results of the war come directly before the people. So does the credit of the country. It makes no difference whether our debt is payable in gold or greenbacks, our honor is safe, our credit good.

He showed the incompetency of the Democratic party while in power, and the unanimous verdict against them for the last eight years; their fallacies and fraudulent doctrines, and the lying clonence with which they endeavor to win prayer, they will, on the first Sunday in October only, substitute the words "soon to assemble" for 'here assembled."

2. I also earnestly request that this prayer, or its equivalent, may be used as a part of the family morning prayer of the several households in this clocese; and also, that each communicant will make daily prayer and supplication, that the Holy Ghost who presided in the Councils of the blessed Apostles, may preside over this Council; and that God would be pleased to "direct and prosper all their consultations to the advancement of His glory, the good of His church, the safety, honor and welfare of His people; that all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors, upon the best and surest foundations, Mr. Chairman and Fellow-citizens: I am glad to see this large assemblage of the citizens of Philalelphia. It has been my privilege, during the ast three or four weeks, to see tens of thousands of Republicans in Maine, and I came here to say hat while the country looked to Maine, and as he has spoken so intelligibly, now all eyes are irected toward Pennsylvania. We look to you with entire confidence. You will stand where you stood during the civil war—by your country, and the men who fought for it.

The issue is as clearly presented as it was on the field of Gettysburg. Then the country understood that the Grand Army of the Republic, engaged in perilous battle, carried our flag against the fee who sought our destruction. To things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors, upon the best and surest foundations, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety, may be established among us for all generations."

Never was there a time when we so needed
the presence of the Divine Spirit in our Council as now; never were greater interests at stake, or greater effects, for weal or woo, likely to follow.
Under such circumstances it is our bounden duty;
as individuals, as families, as congregations, and as a Diocese, to seek God's special guidance and blessing. he sing.

Remember the gracious promise of the Lord

Jesus, "If two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven;" done for them of my Father which is in heaven;"

and that other promise, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son."
Commending you, beloved, to God, and to the riches of His covenant mercy in Christ Jesus, made ours by the applying grace and sealing power of the Holy Ghost, In looking over this assemblage, I see before me men who have, by manual labor, to support the wives of their bosoms and the children of their love. Now, if you look into God's Holy Word you will read how our first parents fell from their purity to eat their bread by the sweat of their faces. Portions of the human family, forgetful of the rights of common humanity, have deluged the land in blood, debauched the soul, and brought mem into degradation in order that they might eat their bread by the sweat of others. Our laws are founded on Christianity, and on the principle that all men are created equal. Those who believed in caste rinneed this great country into civil war, and I remain your devoted servant, WILLIAM BACON STEVENS,
Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

And to-day, we have the men who bathed this nation in blood for the sake of caste, going into a National Convention at New York and invasing these ideas are Madame Hugo's Funeral. ARIS. September 1, 1868.—The death of Mme. Victor Hugo, which unexpected and sad event happened on the 27th of August, has been the happened on the 27th of August, has been the occasion of deep sympathy for the great writer, her bereaved husband. The public papers have all shown as much respect for the memory of this excellent and faithful woman as they would have done for some high princess whose virtues had entitled her to love, and the feeling has been so universal that the Pays has stributed heartfelt regret to a political demonstration. "We do not like," says that organ, "to make any noise about a coffin, and we understand all the delicacy called for by a painful and legitimate grief, but we will never permit tears to be made the means of a political propagandism, without right or reason, and to the detriment of truth and justice." The writer then proceeds to state that Victor Hugo is no exile; that he is quite free to come and go; that as Mme. Hugo expressed a wish to be buried in France near her daughter, Mme. the people:
1. That the reconstruction laws of Congress are revolutionary and void.

2. Equal taxation—that the poor man shall be taxed equally with the rich. taxed equally with the rich.

These principles are put into that platform in the interest of privilege and caste. To-day the Democrat stands as the mortal enemy of every workingman of the United States.

He had been born poor and had to work for a living, and he had some interest in a laboring man. He challenged any man to meet him on that issue. that issue.

Victor Hugo, however, did not come; he accompanied the body with his two sons, Charles and Francis, and an immense number of friends, many of whom came from Paris to the station of Quievrain, the last on the frontiers, then turned back, after a heartrending farewell of the coffin and the remains of a much be-Vacquerie (who was drowned with her husbane Carolina is respectable now.

Now the Rebel leaders tell us we must overthrow all this; that we must relinquish all that we have gained to the big landholders again. The doctrine of equal taxation came from the brain of John C well of the coffin and the remains of a much beloved wife. Camille Berru, Henri Rochefort, Paul Meurice and many others were present. The brother of the deceased is M. Paul Foucher, of the Independance, and she was herself a writer of great ability. She is the authoress of "Victor Hugo, by a Witness of His Life," and other works of less importance. A marble bust by Clesinger, the son-in-law of George Sand, represents her in all the pride and beauty of her youth, when both she and Victor Hugo were very poor, and the best friend of the latter a poor, peasant looking man, with thick soles and naits to his shoes, soiled linen, threadbare coat, and nothing to recommend him to attention but a pair of large eyes—only this retiring, modest and uncouth man was Lamennais. quier, near Havre, where the Vacquerie and which caused considerable delay.

The rollowing prompt contradictions of a statement made by a correspondent of the Inquirer should have a wide circulation. This correspondent having stated that "another meeting was to be held next week, at which Wayne McVeigh was and uncouth man was Lamennais.

Absalom, the Leper,—as the very acme of tenderness, combined with silk drapery and a decent attention to coiffure. Do young people now-a-days, we wonder, hold these marvelously decorated and naturally-moving wax figures in the same high estimation? Clark and Maynard have brought out a very recherche, and gem-like edition, introduced by a biography very gently written. There are engravings from Darley, White, Lumley & Co., in the very glessiest style of the American holiday-edition-artist. But what has become of the fine old plates on which poor Leutze (rest his soul!) once displayed a severe and Germanesque series of Bible subjects which went far to endue even the symbles.

The Boston correspondent of the Sringfield Republican writes as follows about art in the former city:

"While literature languishes art is animated. Church's new picture of Niagara has just been placed on exhibition here, and there are several other notable paintings at our art galleries. Why do we need another and less workmanlike set of illustrations when those fine plates remain and might perhaps be bought?—Clayton, Remsen, & Hatfelinger sell this bijou.

"Grace Owen's Engagement," an agreeable narrative from Blackwood; is reprinted by Loring in his "Tales of the Day." It is a story a little of the "Charles Auchester" type, the interest depending lars sty upon the delicate strain of musical or attoism which runs through and harmonives the action. The conclusion—a magnificent opera-scene, with the introduction and tragic death of a fresh and unparalleled Norma—is a vivid bit of word-color. Are now finished and in operation. Although this road is built with great rapidity, the work is thoroughly done, and is pronounced by the United States Commissioners to be first class in every respect, before it is accepted, and before any bonds can be issued upon it.

Rapidity and excellence of construction have been secured by a complete division of labor, and by distributing the twenty thousand men employed along the line for long distances at once. It is now probable that the Whole Line to the Pacific will be Completed in 1869.

The Company have ample means of which the Government grants the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations; also 12,600 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of the road; also United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $45,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built, for which it taked a second motifage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. troops, mails, &c.
THE EARNINGS OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAIL-BOAD, from its Way or Local Business only, during the year ending June 30th, 1863, amounted to over Four Million Dollars, which, after paying all expenses, was much more than sufficient to pay the interest upon its Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they cer-

Are Entirely Secure. The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1.00 The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each; and have coupets, attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July at the Company's office in the city of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The principal is payable in gold at maturity. The prite is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

A very important consideration in determining the value of these bonds is the length of time they have to run. It is well known that a loin bond always commands a much higher price than a short one. It is safe to assume that during the next thirty years the rate of interest in the United States will decline as it has done in Europe, and we have a right to expect that such six per cent. securities as there will be held at as high a premium as those of this Government, which, in 1857, were bought in at frum 20 to 23 per cent, above part. The expert demand alone may produce this result, and as the issue of a private corporation, they are beyond the reach of political action. The Company believe that their Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest security in the market, and the right to advance the price at any time is reverved.
