It is also true that the same Bitters were hade and sold in the Jeland of St. Thomas, over forty and and sold in the Jeland of St. Thomas, over forty made and sold in the Island of St. Thomas, over forty pears ago, as any old planter, merchant or sec. captain doing busin-ss with the West Indies will tell you. It is istinctly within my recollection that on the return of my father (who was a sec captain, and doing an exten-sive trade in the tropics.) he would invariably have these Bitters among the ship's stores, and our family iddehoard was never without them. For any sickness, it matters not how severe or trifling, the decantor of these Bitters, by a different name, was always resorted to as a sovereign remedy.

THE STATE OF THE SOUTH. It is probable that some part of the Northern people begin to understand the actual condition of things at the South; but it is certain that a large number believe the instances of outrage and violence, which are stances of outrage and violence, which are made public through authentic sources, to be only occasional in their occurrence. Besides, allowances are doubtless made for the exag-gerations natural to an excited political con-test. But, if all the circumstances are given their proper weight, it will be seen that the evils prevalent at the South are likely to be under rather than overrated. The Alabama Olaims. The London correspondent of the N. Y. Tri-

The London correspondent of the N. Y. Tri-tune says: Mr. Reverdy Johnson had his first interview with Lord Stanley on Thursday, and is to have andlence of the Queen on Monday. A provin-rial paper makes the remarkable assertion that be has carte blanche from Mr. Seward to settile and despatches heretofore proceeding from the American Government are to be considered as cancelled. You have better means than I have of knowing whether that state-in the state ment, or anything like it, is true. But I know that the Tories are confident that Lord Stanley and Mr. Johnson will come to an understanding before Parliament meets—that is, before the 10th of December. They are jubilant over the prostects of such a smears mentant over the prospects of such a success, meaning to treat it as a triumph over Lord Russell and Mr. Gladstone, under whose administration the Ala-bama difficulty arose. No doubt Mr. Reverdy Johnson, whose sympathy with the old enemies of his country he takes no pains to disguise, will rejoice to contribute what he can to their politial success. Dickens's Farewell Readings. The same corresponden: writes: The sgents of Mr. Charles Dickens announce the sigents of Mr. Charles Dickens annonnee that his farewell series of readings will begin at St. James's Hall, Tuesday evening, October 6th; the first course to comprise five readings. Their advertisement declares it to be the determina-tion of Mr. Dickens finally to retire from public readings at an early date, "and that on no con-elderation whatever will Mr. Dickens be in-duced to appoint an extrag night in any place in which he shall have been ence announced to read for the last time." The prices in Lordon to read for the last time." The prices in London are 7a., 5s., 8s., and 1s. for admission. This being the "first course" of the final series, it is left to the public to conjecture when the series it is left to the "Hirst course" of the final series, it is left to the public to conjecture when the actually last readings will be given. I suppose during the winter, or perhaps even during the next season— the season in London beginzing usually with the meeting of Parliament in February, and ending with July. As Parliament is to assemble in December, the commencement of the period when the fashionable world consents to be considered in town may be earlier than to be considered in town miy be earlier than usual. But the very highest people and the height of the season arrive together it. May and depart before the end of July. I presume, therefore, it is safe to anticipate that the London readings will not be concluded before nett spring.
