BINES & SHEAFF, 1210-tf Arch street wharf, Schuylkill. From our late editions of Saturday. Bythe Atlantic Oable ST. PETERSBURG. Septs 261-There is much tion, and of a desire on the part of a large number of discriminating people to enjoy a select entertainment, was afforded at Milestown. Pa., on Thursday evening, September 24th, 1868. Notwithstanding the fact that the night was a stormy one, nearly every available sent in the house was occupied at an early hour. The exercises were opened by a prayer of invocation by the Pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Swinden, followed by reading of Scriptures by Rev. B. T. Phillips, Superintendent of "Home for Little Wanderers."

The display of illuminated paintings was unique and highly satisfactory, and the descriptive lecture by Dr. J. H. Houghton, being a criticism on the life, style and writings of the late Artemus Ward, together with an allusion to missionary work at the Philadelphia police stationhouses, and among the neglected children of the street, was enthusiastically received. The Union School and Children's Home; the "Home for Little Wanderers" and the "Foundling Home and Infants' Hospital of Philadelphia," were represented.

Infants' Hospital of Philadelphia," were represented.

The singing by "the Little Wanderers" on this occasion was admirable. A new piece of music, composed by J. E. Gould, entitled "The Other Side," was given for the first time in public, with fine effect. Mr. Gould also furnished an excellent George Steck plano for the occasion. Prof. H. V. McCully's rendering of "The Vagabond." "The Lost Heir" and "Sam Weller's Valentine" were remarkably well done, and applauded to the echo. Prof. A. B. Paul, Mr. S. B. Miller, Mrs. Branson and Miss Knorr, the quartette choir from St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, New street, Philadelphia, discoursed superb mudec. The quartette singing by the Misses Rorer, Prof. Paul and Mr. Miller, was well done. In a solo, Miss Laura Rorer reflected great credit on her instructor, Mrs. Levis., of Frankford. Miss Josephine Shalleross, of Frankford, also one of Mrs. Levis's pupils, accompanied Miss Rorer by Mrs. Levis's pupils, accompanied Miss Rorer i plano accompaniment, in solo, and Miss Lizz Danforths accompanied the remainder of the sin Danforths accompanied the remainder of the singing. The scholars, and teachers and choirs gave several of Bradbury's selections in spirited style. The first of Dr. Houghton's illuminated paintings represents Artemus Ward in his great Union speech at Baldingville. As the stars and stripes were unfolded to the audience, Mr. S. B. Miller sprung a "Star Spangled Banner," the entire company joining in the chorus. Great credit is due the young and gifted artist, E. F. Dardine, who executed the paintings employed on this occasion. The correct ides of the much-abused phrase, "under the gaslight," is admirably brought out. The references to the children of want and sorrow invariably drew tears of sympathy from the eyes of the audience, and also called out pecuniary contributions, aside from the admittance-fee, as the treasury for charity purposes will testify. POLITICAL.

The Plain Issue. The remarkable result in Maine and Vermont shows that the apparent reaction of last year is spent, and that the issue of the election is fairly understood by the country. The feeling and purpose of the Southern Democratic leaders have been fully revealed both in their speeches and nawagages, and in the action of the Georgia Lesia.

leaders have been fully revealed both in their speeches and newspapers, and in the action of the Georgia Legislature, and that of the Democratic Clubs. A country forn with the struggle of a four years' learful war is asked whether it will trust its safety and tranquility desporate men. It is asked whether, under the ples of attempting to lighten taxation, it will call to power those who imposed the necessity of taxes. It is asked to forget history, repudiate experience, and to disregard all the principles and laws which usually govern human conduct. In the height of its civilization it is asked to recur to the brute methods of barbarism, and to overthrow by force the policy which has been established by law, and which, if inexpedient or unjust, the regular process of law can remedy.—Harper's Weekly. A Voice from Andersonville.

The Same Old Story. The Same Old Story.

Harper's Weskly says:—The Democratic Committee of Pennsylvania have issued a congratulatory address upon the Republican victory in Maine. It begins with these words: "The sturdy Democracy of Maine have covered themselves with glory,"

After Beauregard's disastrous defeat by Grant at Shileh, and the reckless retreat which he begged Breckinridge, who commanded the rear-guard, not to suffer to "be converted into a rout," the foolieh Book and Beauty Beauregard felegraphed to Richmond that he 'had gained a giorious victory."

The kind of victory that the rebels won at Shiloh compelled Lee's surrender to Grant. The kind of triumph in Maine, over which the Democrats rejoice, will bring Seymour to the same little ceremony.
