THE FRAUDULENT VOTE. The view which the Evening Bullett has taken from the beginning, that the reve lations in the Prothonotary's office and th discovery of the fraudulent naturalization pa ers, discredit the whole issue of the Supreme Court, is now fully sustained by a majority of the Court itself. The letter of Judge Read to Chief Justice Thompson, al though it has not the binding effect of a legal decision, expresses the opinion of three of the justices of the Supreme Court, Read, Agnew and Williams. The latter has not, as yet, taken his seat upon the bench. but his views coincide with those of Read and Agnew, and this document will carry with it all the moral force of a decision of
