Preparing to Vote by Proxy under

Trove—Money Discovered in an Old Railroad Car—How Did It Come there?—A Curious Case.

(Correspondence of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin; Washington, Oct. 7, 1868.—The Philadelphia Democratic politicians appear to be making a little political capital for their failing cause by getting appointments for internal revenue store keepers for their friends, to keep them in heart, when there is not the most remote prospect that one in ten of the storekeepers so appointed will ever be assigned to a warehouse or draw a dollar from the Government. It is one of the easiest things in the world for a Democrat to get an appointment from Secretary McCulloch as a store keeper of grain, but it is a very different thing to get a storekeeper assigned to the hope of getting a place inside. In the meantime the chimneys were playing a series of sweet and sober cadences with the hubbub and uproar of the busiest thoroughfare.

Yesterday Secretary McCulloch appointed William Winberg, Charles T. Miller, Theodore Tilzer, Lewis Snell, Albert Lawrence and John Murray, Storekeepers for the Third District, Pa., and Frank J. Tamm, Collector, Zallock, and Hon. Samuel J. Randall. To-day he appointed Charles Fauret Storekeeper for the First District, upon the joint recommendation of Col.
Abel and Samuel J. Randall, and Joseph Butler Storekeeper for the Second District, upon the recommendation of Collector Diehl.

PENNYSVILLE SOLDIERS VOTE IN PHONY.
A number of soldiers resident in Pennsylvania, not attached to the regular army, who cannot get leave to go home to vote, have determined to avail themselves of the benefits of the act passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature, in 1864, providing for taking the votes of soldiers actual service when absent from the State. This act provides that soldiers, who have deposited their ballots in separate envelopes, may vote at the polls to which they belong, and then deposit them to some friend in the election district where the voter resides, who, on election day, deposits the ballot at the polls in the name of the party sending it, and the law makes it a misdemeanor for any election officer to refuse to receive such ballots when presented. In consequence of this, many soldiers in Pennsylvania, who have been absent from their posts, have taken the responsibility to send their voters home for the election on Tuesday next, by making affidavits before a commissioner authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds and other legal papers to be used in Pennsylvania.
All the affidavits are forwarded with the sealed ballots, and constitute the authority under which the soldiers vote.

The opening portions of the morning service according to the Anglican ritual were then read by the Rev. H. C. Potter. The Lente was sung in a plain Gregorian chant in unison. The Psalms (8th selection) were read alternately.
Canon of Montreal, read the first lesson, 5th of Isaiah, which slightly enough was full of passages of great sublimity, in the present condition of the Church. The second lesson, 10th Luke, was read by Rev. William F. Perry, of Litchfield, Connecticut, and also contained the highly suggestive passages relative to the sending out of the seventy, and Christ's teaching of the importance of the Gospels.

The Domus was "plainly intoned" in the succeeding portions of Morning Prayer from the Creed inclusive, were taken by the Rev. William Ketchum, rector of St. Andrew's, New Brunswick.
The Creed recited was that of the Apostles, and during its recitation there was no special training to the east, as is ordinarily the case. In Trinity, in fact, the whole service, from beginning to end, was strongly marked for its moderation of ritual, and its thoroughly evangelical character.

The Litany was recited by the Rev. Dr. Howe, seconded, "That the Rev. James Craik, D. D., be President of this House." Carried unanimously.

A Committee having conducted the President to the seat, he sat down.

At length I thank you for this renewed expression of your confidence in me, in electing me to the position of President of this House.
Although I do not propose to occupy your time with a long speech, I think it would be appropriate to say something in regard to the position which is now given to me.

The bishops having left the chancel, proceeded to their seats, the whole of the delegates being seated, and also received the Eucharist.

This portion of the ceremony occupied about half an hour.

The service concluded with the benediction, pronounced by Bishop Smith.

ORGANIZATION OF THE CONVENTION.

The bishops having left the chancel, proceeded at a week past the din of preparation, having arrived in time to participate in the solemn ceremony.

The Rev. Mr. Perry, Secretary, then called the House of Clerical and lay delegates to order, and having requested the delegates to hand in their credentials, proceeded to call the roll. At the conclusion of this preliminary business,

Judge Ous, of Illinois, moved, and the Rev.
Dr. Price seconded a resolution that the House be organized at once.

Judge Ous moved, and Dr. Gray, of Tennessee, seconded, "That the Rev. James Craik, D. D., be President of this House." Carried unanimously.
