He was born in Jefferson county, in that State. September 7, 1815, and was graduated at the col-lege in Athens, where his parents then resided, in 834. He soon became favorably known as a lawyer of popular ability and as a dexterous politician, and in 1843 took his seat for the first time in Congress.

Mr. Cobb was five times successively elected to the House of Representatives, and was elected Speaker of the House for his fourth term, beginning in 1849. He was one of the most active of the Southern Democrats in promoting the compromise measures of 1850 and at the close of the session returned to his State to fight against the followers of Onimtan, known as the Southern ade next man in and next out, for on last ball Graffen is next representative. Wright make a single off Wilsher, and Freeman takes his place, bowling again. Wright secures a single on Willsher's next over from Willsher, and on second ball of Freeman's next over he is sent to the rear by a beautiful baier on the off stump. Wright's score was 8 runs secured in fine style. George Newhall next makes his appearance for the defence, and first ball of Willsher's next over Graffen blocks a ball into Humphrey's hand, who closes on it securely; 16 wickets for 44 runs. Rogerson, the solitary representative of the New York Club, now comes forth and applause, takes block, and first ball from Willsher beat a hasty retreat, Willsher taking his leg stump by a beauty. Clay comes forth and applause, as the thest of fight against the followers of Quimtan, known as the Southern Rights men, for the control of the Democratic party in the Gulf States. He then professed imperishable devotion to the Union, and in 1851 he was elected Governor of Georgia, as an unconditional union man, by 57,400 votes, against 38,800 and in 1855, a year after the end of his term as Governor, Mr. Cobb was again sent to Congress. Upon Mr. Buchanan's accession to the Presidency, in 1857, he called Mr. Cobb into his Cabinet as Secretary of the Treasury. His term of office is in many respects the saddest record in the financial record of the Union. He found the Treasury full to overflowing; he bought up the bonds of the United States not yet due, at a high premium; in his hands the treasury was so rapidly depleted that new loans became necessary; these were negotiated in the most awkward manner, and the foundation of the Control of the Democratic party in the Gulf States.
