Alian Pinkerton the Intended Victim.

The following paragraphs from Cincinnati, under date of the 15th, give account of a terrible outrage:

The authorities of the Adams Express Company of this city are advised that an attempt was made yesterday morning by the Adams Express robbers, Reno and Anderson, to break the jall in which they are confined awaiting extradition. Word was carried to Allan Pinkerton, then at Windsor, who, with Justice McMicken, proceeded to the jail The prisoners had displaced a portion of the floor, and could have escaped but for the vigilance of the Dominion police.

On their return a carriage was driven rapidly past the party, and a man incide attempted to shoot Pinkerton, but failed.

On crossing the ferry, to Detroit, the same man stepped up to Pinkerton and placed a pistol at ble head. The orders from investors for the purchase of Government securities, together with a brisk speculative inquiry, caused a rapid advance of from one and a half to two and a quarter per cent in five twenties, the bonds of 1867 having been the most active and buoyant. Much excitement attended the dealings at the boards, and purchases were made without regard to price.

The money market was well supplied with funds at six and seven per cent, and in exceptional instances balances were left with the principal dealers in United States stocks at five. He gives the name of George Johnson, which is probably assumed. He is a total stranger to Mr. Pinkerton, but deliberately asserts that he intended to kill him, and that he was hired in Canada to assassinate him.

It is understood that Mr. Pinkerton will move immediately against the remainder of the conspirators, who are now in Canada. Johnson is also known to have had private interviews with Joues, George Eaton, and a man named Nowman. The last named two are Felker's detectives.
