and M. Specimens in the state of the policy of a statement, with all his record in collections and concluded in the state of the policy of the policy of the policy of the state of the policy of us, and assure us a spleadid triumph in November try was made great and prosperous. None of over the serried phalanx of military despots and these changes could be made violently; none Congressional asurpers.

Congressional asurpers.

Could endanger the public peace; but they would all tend in the end to promote the welfare and prosperity of these United States. by the Convention which met in New York in July, is authorized to make this suggestion to their constituents. Coming from them, the whole party will promptly fall into line, and even within the few days to clapse before the election, the number of Conservative recruits will be sufficient not only to compensate for the describe of renumber of Conservative recruits will be sufficient not only to compensate for the desertion of recreates, but to insure victory. The people do not want Democratic candidates; they want to defeat Radicallism. They are auxious to defeat the Radical party. They desire to hurf from power those who have abused it, and heaped upon them intolerable burthens. Give to them what they want—what they so earnestly demand—and all will 'yet be well. Our candidates. selected under peculiar circumstances at New York, have been tried. Let the committee now come together at once, and place before the people the men who were really the choice of that Convention—either Chase, Hancock, Johnson or Hendricks—and the action will at once be recognized. Hendricks—and the action will at once be recognized as one of patriotic endeavor, and will be responded to from the St. Lawrence to the Rio Grande, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, with one universal shout of joy and triumph that shall drown forever the voice of Radicalism.

The Democrate have made extraordinary electric forts, and have had help from outside of the State.

The Republican majority may be 5,000, but hardly below 3,000. The Republicans will probably elect all three Congressmen and a majority drown forever the voice of Radicalism.

Seymour's Stumping Tour—A Speech

Hon. Horatio Seymour made a speech at Ruffalo vesterlay. He said. Hon. Horatio Seymour made a speech at Buffalo yesterday. He said:

The first words uttered by the Republican Convention, in their resolutions, congratulated the country upon the scheme of reconstruction; the last words uttered by their speakers and presses, declare that reconstruction is a failure; that the South Is still in a condition of rebellion; that its special disorder demands the presence of great armies; and that the first duty of Cengress when it meets will be to turn reconstructed Georgia out of the Union. Again, at the outset of this canvass, the Republican party asked to be
