ELECTION OF PRESIDENT

APPOMATTOX OVER AGAIN

"LET US HAVE PEACE."

Glorious Triumph of the Union Cause

GRANT OUR NEXT PRESIDENT

Colfax Our Next Vice-President

Philadelphia

The triumph of the Republican party yester day was even more glorious than was anticipated. Grant and Colfax are to be our next Presiden and Vice-President, and that by an overwhelming majority of the popular vote, and in the electora colleges. We subjoin a summary of the returns The Electoral Vote.

CITY BULLETIN.

ELECTION DAY. Disturbances and Shootings-Arrests

for allegal Voting-Scenes Last Night. The election in the city passed off quietly yesterday, and owing to the absence of Deputy Sheriffs from the polls there were no disturbances of a serious character. Last night the scenes usual on election night were witnessed on Chestneual on election night were witnessed on Cheat-nut street at the newspaper offices and at the po-litical headquarters. Very shortly after the polls closed, Cheatnut street became exceedingly lively. The Union League House was the centre of attraction, and thousands of per-sons wended their way towards Broad street. The house was brilliantly illuminated, and the returns were announced upon a transparency. Between nine and ten o'clock the crowd on Broad street became very dense, and occupied the entire square from Chestdense, and occupied the entire square from Chest-nut to Walnut street. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and as return after return came in announcing the success of Grant and Colfax, there was hearty and prolonged cheering. During the evening there was a handsome display of areworks in front of the League House, and Colonel Wm. B. Mann, Hon. Wm. D. Kelley Ex-Govornor Pollock and others, made brief speeches.

The National Union Club House, No. 1105
Chestnut street, was gally decorated with flags, and was brilliantly illuminated during the even-At the Press office, at Seventh and Chestnut streets, another large crowd assembled, and the returns, as they were displayed on a transparency, were greeted with enthusiastic cheers. A large transparency inscribed "The Second Rebellion Closed—Grant and Colfax elected—Peace and Liberty Secured," and containing the names of the State known to have been revised were and the state known to have been revised when the state when the stat Liberty Secured," and containing the names of the States known to have been carried, was put up, and speeches were made by Col. John W. Forney, Hon. James H. Campbell.

The Republican Invincibles, 1,500 strong, and accompanied by the Liberty Cornet Band, turned out early in the evening and paraded through a number of streets. Everywhere, and especially on Broad street, the Club met with an enthusiastic reception. Saveral Ward clubs, carrying siastic reception. Several Ward clubs, carrying transparencies with the majority of the Ward inscribed upon them, also paraded through the streets.

The Democrats assembled in considerable force at Ninth and Arch streets, but there was very little enthusiasm manifested. Occasionally it would be announced that some townships gave a Democratic gain and then there were a few faint cheers. The Fourth Ward return, showing a gain of 1,500, enlivened the assemblage greatly, notwithstanding it must have been known to every-body that great frauds had been perpetrated to obtain this increase. Beveral speeches were made at intervals in an endeavor to keep up the spirit of the "unterrified," but they were of no

By cleven o'clock it was apparent that Grant and Colfax had received a very large majority of the popular vote of the country, and thereby secured a heavy majority of the electoral vote, and the crowds began to disperse. The passenger railway cars leading from Chestunt street to all parts of the city were filled, and by midnight nearly all of the streets presented their usually quiet appearance. quiet appearance.

How Affairs are managed in the fourth ward.

It will be seen by the returns that the Democratic majority in the Fourth Ward has been increased upwards of 1,500 votes since the October election. It is pretty well known, however, how the Democracy manage things in that respectable locality of the city. They are not at all particular how often any individual votes, provided their own ticket is deposited, but it is with the greatest difficulty that a Republican can vote once and escape without having his head broken. Names of persons known to have been dead for years frequently appear in the list of voters.

Yesterday afternoon two merchants on Market street, named J. H. Devans and A. R. Neal, made a tour through the Ward, for the purpose of HOW AFFAIRS ARE MANAGED IN THE FOURTH a tour through the Ward, for the purpose of ascertaining how the Democracy did things in that locality. As they neared the Sixth Precinct polls they were met by a party of roughs, who desired to know if the visitors were going to vote. They replied that they had no right to do so, but were precially upon to deposit their ballots.

They replied that they had no right to do so, but were prevailed upon to deposit their ballots. Mr. Devans was handed a ticket, and instead of voting it, as was desired, he placed it in his pocket and walked off. He was followed and very badly beaten by the roughs. No arrests were made.

MAN SHOT IN THE FIRST WARD.

Yesterday afternoon, between four and five o'clock, a quarrel arose between three or four men. near the Fourth Division poll of the First Ward, on Fourth street, near Wharton, which resulted in the serious shouting of Moses Louther. The ball entered the groin, producing it is besulted to the serious shooting of Moses Louther. The ball entered the groin, producing, it is believed, a fatal wound. Several discharges of one or more pistols took place, Louther himself firing two or three times. A ball struck a young man named Robert Hale in the forehead, but it produced only a slight wound. Louther was taken to a drug store in the neighborhood, and was afterwards removed to the hospital. He is 34 years of age, and resides in Plain street, between Laucaster and Wheat. He is well known to the police as a desperate character, and at the October election wore the badge: "Deputy Sheriff." No arrests were made.

RIOT ON CHESTNUT STREET.

Last night, about half-past eleven o'clock, two men who were discussing politics on Chestnut street, below Ninth, got into a quarrel, and one knocked the other down. Others joined in the fight, and a general row ensued. About ten shots were used. W. Beverly Powell, residing at No. 44 North Ninth street, was shot in the right arm, but his wound was not serious. Another man was shot in the leg and another in the side, but they were immediately carried away, and their names were not ascertained. No arrests were made at the time of the riot. Soon after, Reserve Officer White arrested a genteely dressed man, who gave the name of J. D. Jennings. A four-barrelled pistol was found on him. He was held for a hearing this afternoon. Reserve Officer White was accidentally shot in the hand while accidentally shot in the hand while taking the pistol from the prisoner's pocket. A crowd continued about the hotel for an hour after the riot, and there were fears that the disturbance would be renewed, but it was not. REJOICINGS TO-DAY.

During to-day the excitement over the election During to-day the excitement over the election has conunued. Chestnut street is crowded, and the newspaper offices were visited this morning by hundreds of persons anxious to hear the result from States which were doubtful, or from which returns were not received last night. The city is in gay colors. The display of bunting from both public and private buildings is veryfine. The Union League House is very handsomely decorated in honor of the victory. The Republicans are rejoicing, while the Sexmourities have on very long joicing, while the Seymourites have on very long teces. It won't do to mention election to a Dem-cerat to day. They all feel very sore. Salt River tickets in almost every imaginable form have been printed, and the juveniles have been doing a thriving trade with them during the day. ARRESTS FOR ILLEGAL VOTING.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

Two more unfortunates, Weary of breath, Rashly importunate, Gone to their death!

Take them up tenderly,

Lift them with care, Handle them gingerly, SEYMOUR and BLAIR!

-Grant will now "Let us have peace." -"Tois is too much."-II. Seymour.

_ "Your President I cannot be." _ H. Seymour. -" Plty me, Harvey, plty me."-H. Seymour.
-"Tilden, this is terrible."-H. Seymour. -How about those Democratic gains?

-Ho! (ratio) for Salt River! —Seymour doesn't "blow his bugle horn" now. He weeps, and blows his nose. -"After Grant, What?" Why, more Grant. We now nominate him for a second term.

-Those reconstruction acts are not as "unconstitutional and void" as they were. -The Democratic boys are all in blue this mourning. -That "era of good feeling" is just about instituted now. -There seems to be a good many "bloated bondholders" around after all.

—The Copperhead candidates Seem-o'er-come, slightly. The contents of Wallace's coffee-pot seem to have been pretty effectually settled.

—Seymour, like Wallace's coffee-pot, ran entirely too much into spout. —Seymour's "bugle horn" was a good deal "blasted," but not so much so as his hopes.

-Grant has "fought it out on this line" and —Democracy counted largely on Seymour's "bugle horn," but we held all the trumps. -Seymour won't have any rumpus with that

Rump Congress. -It is likely we shall pay our honest debts now, having repudiated repudiators.

—And now the question arises, "Will every Southern man have to marry a negro?" That was to be one of the results of Grant's election. -Blair thinks Grant will be a dictator. Rough on you, we know, Frank, that you are elected simply to be a spectator.

One advantage of this arrangement is that now Seymour will have a chance to give us more learned opinions upon watermelons. -Extract from Wallaco's October proclama-tion: "It is the last battle for the salvation of the making a change of base soon. -Dearest Seymour, thou hast left us; Here thy loss we do not feel.

U. S. Grant, he has bereft us;
But he suits better, a great deal.

-Wallace in October said to his clans: "You have discovered the weak points in your organization!" So have we. The difficulty seems to be general debility. —The American people seem to be a very perverse and hard headed lot. They wouldn't "scare worth a cent" on Democratic prophecies of Grant's despotic intentions.

In which we took no pride; But ah! it tried to carry Blair, And doubled up and died. —Wallace's last proclamation said: "We will go forward to victory." Wallace, our boy, it was unreasonable to expect to defeat the whole mation by tackling it with one ineffectual coffee-pot. -"You know no such word as fail" (Coffee-not Wallace on the October elections). The loyal people have since supplied that fine old verb to the Democratic lexicon for the sake of those who can read. —Poor Horatio; when he took the stump, the other day, his friends said—

"One blast upon his bugle horn

Is worth fen thousand men."
But his horn had too much blare to it. -The Age this morning says "The fight has only begun!" "You have knocked me down, kicked me in the ribs, pulled my rose and mangled me generally," said an under man in a fight, "but you had better be careful or you will rouse the lion in me directly."

...The American people got tired of Seymour and Blair's palayer. Yesterday they said to them as the Irish justice said to his loquacious prison-
