not understood by them, and might have been just as atrenuously related by them if It had been explained. First came confusion and jostling. Blows followed: clubs were used, and so on, through the regular mob gradations, until the final resort to firearms, with the usual result when freedmen attacked their former masters. One white man killed, four more or less wounded, five negroes killed, and 20 to 30 wounded. The negroes, in compliance with the repeated instructions of their leaders, had gone to the polls, with very few exceptions, unarmed, and were consequently unprepared to offer any great resistance. The struggle was short. They were driven from the polls, and, flecing for their lives in every conceivable direction, were pursued for squares by citizens and police, and fired on whenever opportunity offered. Only a small number of the negroes ventured to return to the polls, and they stood at a distance, and finally left the vicinity altogether. The Democrats by this time had reliled by thousands, and now pressed forward in lines the same as the negroes at that it was nutarly impossible, if innegroes had done, crowding every avenue of approach, so that it was utterly impossible, if indeed it had not been a reckless exposure of life,

The Louisiana Election Parce. New Orleans has made herself for past weeks the theatre of violence and proscription. Capital and commerce have shunned her as a plague-stricken spot. Her warehouses have been empty, her merchants, gentlemen of leisure, and all her lower industries prostrated. At the election yesterday, deterred by a paralyzing foar of violence and death, the masses of Republicans avoided the polls, and from a registered strength of nearly 20,000, showed a vote of only 270. At all the polls, yesterday, there was a remarkable degree of quiet and order, in marked contrast with the turbulent and bloody scenes enacted in Augusta and Savannah, Georgia. The patition colleges that the corder was treated. beach to be tested, and burst after having some seven hundred rounds fired. The gun which arrived yesterday will be used about the 20th instant for experimental firing on a large stone arrived yesterday will be used about the 20th instant for experimental firing on a large stone target, erected during the last summer by the Engineer Department at this place. The experiments were to have taken place some two months ago, but have been delayed in order to have the twelve-inch gun here for the occasion. It is mentioned that Gen. Grant, Secretary Schofield and a number of other prominent officials will be present to witness the firing. The target is an immense grante structure, about 20 feet high, 30 feet in breadth and 8 or 10 feet in thickness. It is similar to the one the audited account for said regiment.

The petition alleges that the order was presented to the City Treasurer, but he refused to pay the amount, notwithstanding the possession militia fund.

The Court granted an alternative mandamus Secretary Schofield and a number of other prominent officials will be present to witness the firing. The target is an immense granite structure, about 20 feet high, 30 feet in breadth and 8 or 10 feet in thickness. It is similar to the one erected during the summer of 1866, except that it is not iron-clad. It is surmounted by heavy ordnance, and is a very formidable structure.

The three companies of heavy artillery, which were ordered to Atlanta, Columbus and Raleigh a short time previous to the election, raturned to the fort this evening and were welcomed back by a large concourse of people. The band of the argument of tillery school was on the wharf, playing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and other appropriate airs. The boys lock well and express themselves as highly pleased with their trip.

In Canal Shares the only sales were of Lehigh Navigation at 18% The cauvass so far shows an activity and carnest ness which may foreshadow the actual contests when the Legislature-shall assemble.

Yesterday, a well-known Senstor announced the withdrawal of the Hon. Wm. H. Kemble from the field. The announcement was made on the strength of that gentleman himself, and took many here by surprise because of the apprehension that he was the most formidable contestant for the position.

The novelty of this withdrawal consists in the complete ignorance that each a contingency was contemplated on the part of the individual specially charged with the management of his case, until Mr. Kemble's conclusion was promulgated as has already been stated.

What relative positions this withdrawal leaves the remaining contestants in, we shall not undertake to tell. But we feel satisfied that if there was but one aspirant in this county his chances would be greatly improved, insomuch that his success would appear probable. Shall there not be only one?

It is just to state that Mr. Kemble's friends who are on the ground entirely discredit the statement of his withdrawal.

The Savannah Biets and Their Entural Sequence—Who made Riot—The Truth at Last—The Bemocratic Pregramme for a Victory.

A Savannah correspondent of the N. V. Tribune wilte as follows:

The only object of this letter is to give the simple truth in regard to the barbarous measures adopted by the Seymour and Blair Democracy to carry this city and county on Tuesday last.

The polls were opened at 7 A. M.—there being but three boxes for the whole city and all these at the Court House. The negroes began to assemble as early as 3 o'clock. As the hour for opening approached they formed in line opposite the several entrances, and when the doors were opened, moving quietly forward, proceeded to cast their votes. There was no struggle on the county on Tuesday last, the collection of the several entrances, and when the doors were opened, moving quietly forward, proceeded to cast their votes. There was no struggle on the collection of the collection of the collection the collection of the collection o 81 60. Whisky is firmer, and sales at $1 08@1 12, duty paid. Few white men were present at the time, and they—the negroes—gained their position by virtue of that most remarkable patience they have always manifested under such circumstances. There was no disturbance, no demonstration, no exultation, not even the ordinary excitement, until about $8', o'clock, when quite a large number of railroad employes marched up in a body and an attempt was made to open a way through the solid ranks of negroes, to enable these Democrats to reach the polls. This rayor, it was proposed by certain officials, to grant the employes, in order, it is alleged, that they might not loss their day's work by waiting quietly their turn—by placing themselves beind either of the lines and moving up in their regular order, like other people. The object of opening the way was not understood by them, and might have been explained. First came confusion and jostling. Blows followed: clubs were used, and so on, through the regular mob gradations, until the final resort to firearms, with the usual result when freedmen attacked their former masters. One white man killed, four more or less wounded, five negroes killed, and 20 to 30 wounded. The negroes, in compliance with the repetated instructions of their leaders, had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few explanters had gone to the polls, with very few exp

(From the N. Y. World of to-day.)

Nov. 11.—The statement that the Secretary of the Treasury intended to relieve the money market by the issuing of 84,000,000 of three per cent. certificates is contradicted by the Assistant Treasurer. All the relief which the Treasury Department is likely to give the money market or the banks is by abstanting from solling gold or bonds. If any legal tenders are reissued it will be to supply the necessities of the Greasury, and not with any view of interfering with the course of the money or stock markets.

The money market is quiet, and berrowers are supplied at 7 per cent. in currency, but there is no confidence in the continuance of the present comparative case. The money markets in the West are stringent, and the drain for greenbacks to the South will colored further contraction on the part of the New York banks. The loss is from the heavy decline in produce have fallen mainly on the West, and the banks in that section are in a cripoled West, and the backs in that section are in a crippled condition. The cliqued stocks are held by them, to some, extent, as collaterals.

The government bond market was stoady at the open.

The slock market opened heavy and lower in the moining, but afterwards railied and prices advanced. The improvement, however, was not survained, and after biP. M. there was a break in the market Eric selling down to 87, with symptoms of running into a panic, which was checked by the Broadway brokers' firm employing numbered to the state of t
