OITY BULLETIN.

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE. -- At the regular monthly FRANKLIN INSTITUTE.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Franklin Institute, last evening, after the usual busices of minutes and reports from committees, the resident Secretary. Profes-sor Morion, read his report on Novelties in Science and the Mechanic Arts. In this a des-cription was given of the sinking of two inverted synhons under the Seine at Paris, to carry off the slorm waters from the east side; of the manufac-ture of nitro-glycerine at the Hoosac Tunnel; of some remarkable engineering works executed by the Moors in Spain, and now restored; of im-provements in turbine water-wheels; of a new arrangement of anti-friction rollers, by Mr. J. H. Cooper, of this city; of improvements in prepa-ration of leather for boots, by Mr. _____; of some curious experiments in published by Mr. Erric-son as to his tolar engine, and of many other things. There were also exhibited a new series of lower york, about which we find in the latest and most able English work on Astronomy (that by G. F. Chambers, 1863), the following state-ment: "To an American (Mr. L. M. Rutherfurd) we are indebted for the best pleures of our satel-ilte yet produced, and it is difficult to conceive that anything superior can ever be obtained." These pleures were projected on the screen with beautiful. effect. There were also exhibited, by Messrs. J. W. Queen & Co., some beautiful pieces of electrical apparatus, in which exhausted unbes were revolved while traversed by the elec-tric flash, so as to produce the most beautiful ef-fects. A remarkable feature about this apparatus was its low cost as compared with any before produced. After the Secretary's report an intermeeting of the Franklin Institute, last evening, lects. A remarkable leature about this apparatus was its low cost as compared with any before produced. After the Secretary's report an inter-esting discussion followed on various points mentioned, in which Mr. Coleman Sellers, Mr. Robert Briggs and Professor R. E. Rogers took ROBBING PRODUCE HOUSES.—William Devine and Henry Logan were arrested yesterday in the Fiftcenth Ward, by Pollceman Simler, of the Ninth District, upon the charge of larceny. For some time past the provision dealers along Dela-ware avenue have been losing cheeses, barrels of ware avenue have been losing cheeses, barrols of flour, kits o mackerel, &c. Thesé articles must necessarily have been taken away in wagons. The accured are bucksters, and drive wagons. It has been atcertained that they have been selling cheeses, which are supposed to have been selling. Cne cheese was disposed of in the Fifteenth Ward and another at Thirty-suxth and Haverford streets. The defendants were taken before Alderman Pancoast and were committed for a further hearing.

CHARGED WITH BUEGLARY .- Daniel Gallagher was arrested yesterday by Policeman Schaeffer, of the Seventeenth District, upon the charge of burglary, &c. It is alleged that he went into a drinking saloon on Broad street, near Washington, drinking saloon on Broad street, near Washington, and, during the temporary absence of the proprle-tor, abstracted a pistol and about $15 from the money drawer. He then broke open the shutter of another dripking saloon opposite and helped himself to two bottles of whisky. Gallagher was taken before Alderman Bonsall and was committed for trial.

Found DROWNED. -- The body of a man was found yesterday afternoon, by the Schuylkill Harbor Police, on the marsh near the mouth of the Schuylkill. The deceased had apparently been in the water for some time. He had sandy hair and red whiskers. He wore a blue navy undershirt, a white shirt, brown pants and gray vest. His boots were slit on the instep.

CALL ACCEPTED.-Rev. Dr. E. G. Brooks, of New York, has been invited and accepted of the invitation to take the pastoral charge of the Church of the Messiah (Universalist), in this city, officiate next Sunday morning and evening.

The Florida Impeachment.

The Florida Impeachment. The Tallahasse Scatinel, the official organ of the State, in a leading article says: "It is rot a question of preference of one individual over another, although there are those on both sides of the question to whom we shall always hope to be able to extend the band of friendship. But there are prin-ciples involved that rise far above all personal consid-erations. There are legal points and issues involved which we do not feel compe ent to decide upon, with the light at present before us. Or, if we did, we have grave doubts of the propriety of so doing. thereby in a measure prejudging the case before the proper. tribunals render their vardict. We have no criminations to offer acainst any one in connection with this imbroglio. We cannot decipher men's motives, but are under every oblication of honor to give all concerned the credit of good purpos: s. mull shown otherwise. When the result is determined, however, lot that be the end of it, and no matter who suffers he must abide the issue. Ambilion, malice, cellibaness, violation of law, or whatever it may be, if there is anything of the kind, there must then be an end of. THE PARAGUAY WAR.

The Washburn Case as Viewed by For-cigners—socious Reflections Against the American Minister.

the American minister. Rio JANEIRO, Oct. 8th, 1868.—When Lopez or-dered the population of the capital to retire into the interior, Mr. Washburn retused to leave Asun-cion, and ordered the protection of his flag to several forcign residents, and among these to a Mr. Pereira, the Portuguese Consul there. The Paraguayan authorities, however, dis-The Paraguayan annonace, however, dis-covered, or pretended to discover a con-spiracy in which these men were said to have been implicated, and exacted from the American Minister that they should be given up. Mr. Washburn commenced to discuss e point, whereupon the Paraguayan Minister became more exacting, and even sent a police-man for the Portuguese Consul. This gentleman secing how feeble was the protection offered by the American Legation, left Mr. Washburn's the American Legation, left Mr. Washburn's house, was put into prison, and has since been shot. The example of Mr. Pereira was followed by Dr. Carreras and others, who had sought re-fuge under the American flag, and they shared the fate of the Portuguese Consul. According to this correspondence Lopez's thirst for blood, however, was not yet satisfied, and he next demanded that two members of the legation, Mr. Bliss and Mr. Masterman, should be given up, and Mr. Washburn allowed them to be taken from his side as they were all going on board the Wasp. Instead of returning and insisting on their being released Mr. Washburn left them to their fate and made haste to get on board the gueboat, whence he sent the Paraboard the gruboat, whence he sent the Para-guayan Minister a very energetic note, which, it is remarked, would have done him honor if it had been written in Asuccion. The existence of the conspiracy has not been proved, and not a single document is mentioned in the notes as having peen discovered; but what is an undoubted fact is that nony men, and women also, of the highest social position in Paraguay have been sacrificed, and it is even possible that Mr. Washburn, whom the Paraguayan Minister accuses of being the centre of the con-piracy and of having been bribed with 1,500 gold onnees and nearly the same sum in Paraguayan currency, might have met with the same fate but for the timely appearance of the Wasp. In a note which Mr. Washburn addressed to the British Minister in Bacnos Ayres he says that "unless urgent measures be taken to protect for-eign residents in Paraguay perhaps not one will be left to tell the tale of his misfortunes.'

The comic papers in Buenos Ayres contain caricatures of the leading personages in the Washburn aflair, including our minister him-self— who is represented as ranning off with his unbrella and carpet-bag in a state of great excitement. The Buenos Ayres Standard publishes a let-ter from Mr. Porter C. Bilss, dated at the United States Legation in Asuncion, September 7, and addressed to the Rev. William Goodfel-low. Miles Market States low. Mr. Bliss says:
