OITY BULLETIN.

GENERAL GRANT.-General Grant left Philadelphis to day for Washington. Yesterday morning, he paid a visit to the venerable Borace Bining, no paid a visit to the venerative horace bill-noy, Eeq., who, in his 89th year, rotains his ac-tive interest in his country's welfare, and who expressed in warm terms the gratification with which he regarded the election of Gon. Grant as the one thing needed to ensure the satisfactory conclusion of the great struggle for National ex-istence through which we have nessed the one thing needed to ensure the satisfactory conclusion of the great struggle for National ex-istence through which we have passed. During the day, General Grant received many vistors at his rooms at the Continental, and at five o'cleck dined at the Union Leagne House with about fifty members of that body, the num-ber being limited by the capacity of the Banquet-room. Among the gentlemen participating in the affair were General Dent, General Badeau, General Owen, General Selfridge, Hon. A. G. Cattell, Hon. William D. Kelley, Hon. Charles O'Neill, Hon. Leonard Myere, Hon. Mr. Sypher, of Louisiana, Adolph E. Borle, Eeq., who pre-sided, Hon. Charles Gibbons, Daniel Smith, Jr., Eeq.; William D. Lewis, E.-q., Henry C. Carey, Esq., Hon. G. A. Grow, George H. Boker, Esq., Wayne McVeigh, Esq., George H. Boker, Esq., Hon, John P. Verree and other prominent mem-bers of the League. The dinner was a very elegant affair, and re-flected great credit on the efficient Steward of the League, Mr. A. Frohmann, who had evidently taxed the full resources of bis cusine to provide an entertainment worthy of the occasion. The following was the carfte: Oysters in the Half Shell. (Latour Blance.) At about nine o'clock, Generai Grant descended to the drawing-room, which was crowded with the members of the League, He was greeted with hearts charge as he appeared on the grand the members of the League. He was greeted with hearty cheers as he appeared on the grand staircase, and was afterward introduced to the gentlemen present, individually. The storm which raged during the evening prevented the contemplated serende, but the band of the Boys in Bine and the Invincibles was stationed in the main hell and placed a variety of appropriate in Side and the Invitcibles was statistical in the main hall, and played a variety of appropriate inusic. After receiving the many gentlemen who were anxious to greet him, the General returned to the Banquet Room, and enjoyed an hour of pleasant conversation and cigar. At about halfpleasant conversation and cigar. At about half-past ten o'clock, he walked down to the Academy of Music with a small party of gentlemen, and made his appearance in one of the proscenium boxes, a short time before the cur-tain fell on the last act of La Belle Hêlene. He was immediately recog-nized, and the performance was intermuted by a La Belle Hélene. He was immediately recog-nized, and the performance was interrupted by a burst of applanse from all parts of the house, to the great astoniahment of the performers, who had not observed his entrance. He remained until the cless of the piece, and then returned to his hotel, receiving fresh tokens of Philadelphi's appreciation, "B" he passed through the andience who had congregated in the vestibule of the Academy to greet him. The storm, which prevented the serenade in front of the League House, disappointed thou-sands of our cilizens, who had hoped to pay their respects to the President-elect on this occasion. respects to the President-elect on this occasion. We are glad to be able to announce that it is his purpose to return to Philadelphia in a short time, remaining here long enough to receive as many of his friends as desire to call upon him. General Grant and his party spent this morn-ing quietly at the Continental, receiving a few personal friends who called upon them. We ob-served a few office-seckers hovering in the corri-dors, but not many. General Grant expressed himself as greatly pleased with his visit to Phila-delphia, and especially with his evening at the Union League, which he seems to have enjoyed especially. The party left for Washington by the Union League, which he seems to have enjoyed especially. The party left for Washington by the 11.45 A. M. train._____

BISHOP STEVENS.-We regret to learn that the injuries received by Bishop Stevens at Bethlehem, on last Sunday night, while not actually alarming, are more serious than has been reported. The Bishop walked over a perpendicular bank, in the dark, falling a distance of seven feet. His right arm is broken so near the shoulder as to make it impossible to set it in the regular manner, and the surround have been compalied to depend upon it impossible to set it in the regular manner, and the surgeons have been compelled to depend upon bandaging, hoping that the use of the arm may be restored by the ligamentous adhesions. There is also a very serious injury to the knee-joint, the full extent of which has not get been determined. In the Bishop's enfeetbed condition of health, the reaction from the shock to his system has been slow, and his recovery will be necessarily quite tedious. He is at the house of the Rev. Mr. Potter, the son of the late Bishop Potter, and is, of course, receiving every possible attention, and the advantage of the best medical skill.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY .- William Manger CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.---William Manger was arrested yesterday by Detective Brown and Sergeant Cameron of the Thirteenth District Po-lice, upon the charge of having robbed the house of Mr. Chas. R. Abbott, at the Falls of Schuyl-kill. A lot of clothing, some silver-ware and a flute were stolen. The flute was recovered and Manger admitted the theft. He will have a hear-ing at the Central Station this afternoon.

AN INTERESTING PORTBAIT GALLERY .- MESSIS. Read & Fisher, of this city, have just issued on one large sheet, the portraits of all the officers of the Pennlarge sheet, the portraits of all the officers of the Penn-sylvania Central Railroad Company. The easily-re-cognizable head of J. Edgar Thompson, in the centre of the grotp, is surroanded by between thirty and forty smaller likenesses, generally quite recognizable go far as we know the originals. These gentlemen, , on whom devolves the management of a road 878 miles long—a road so safe, so indispensable to the commerce and the travel of the country—are the friends of us all; and many will be glad to secare, in a kind of photo-graph-abeet of the compactest sort, the album of their faces.

BIETH-DAY PRESENTS are being made every day, and people are often at a loss to know what is appropriate. We would suggest that if it is the birthappropriate. We would suggest that if it is the birth-day of your father, or your son, or your husband, or your brother, or your "gentleman friend," you could not please him better than by giving him a stylish wrapper, or a smoking jacket, or a new suit, or some-thing in that line, from Wanamaker & Brown's.

To THE PUBLIC.-The came of Geo. O. Evans, in connection with certain oil operations, having appeared in the public press, I desire to state that 'tis not the undersigned. GEORGE O. EVANS, 229 Church street.
