BUSINESS NOTICES. Buye the evidence each day of humbers who purchase of us, after having er- mined other stocks, which under different best, are being "skylifed," that err goods are sold at lower prices than any other Clothing in Philiselphis. The general experience is that such goods are who have purchased them and those who have moto-many of the former to their cost, are gener- ally becoming aware of this fact. Brook is Foll and Complete, our a sortment un- breken, we being in receipt each day, of large else of new goods, replacing those seld, which are being manufactured not between the former to not be being manufactured not	ously over the devoted head of Philadelphia. One of its most pious writers, whose chival- rous and chaste love for the female sex seems to have led him to be a special champion of a wretched child-murderess in this city, has determined to take us all in hand and re- form us. Having slandered and abused all our virtuous women and men, in his re- ports and editorials concerning this convict, he now proposes to try and elevate them to the New York standard of purity and intelli- gence, and as ameans for this end, he will establish here a Philadelphia World! AT LAST. If Philadelphia moves slowly in some of her reforms and improvements, still she city to quake. But a new World might be moves, and yesterday a grand move was made in the passage of the bill, by both branches of one for New York and one for Councils, for the erection of our much-needed Philadelphia-would go far towards perfectpublic buildings on Independence Square. For years past, the Evening Bullerin has abored in behalf of this movement, and continnal dropping has at last worn away the stones of prejudice and old fogeyism, and to the Tombs and to Blackwell's Island, to Councils have crowned their year's work by hunt up interesting murderesses, who might

The erection of the public buildings of Philadelphia on the Walnut street front of ndependence Square has been advocated too long and too thoroughly to need any demonstration of its necessity and its wisdom now. The measure, as adopted by Councils, and as it will andoubtedly meet the approval of Mayor McMichael, is not a half-way one. R comprehends, not only the erection of mitable buildings, but also the removal of the unsuitable ones that now disfigure the Square. There would be a certain reciprocity in this, for the New York community was indebted to Philadelphia for laying the foundations of its own World. Special Derpatch to the Philadelphia Evening Balletin] WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The following is a portion of the remarks of Judge Woodward, of Pennsylvania, made yesterday on Thaddens Stevens. "In the fall of 1833, the great political contest came on between David K. Forter, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, and Governor Ritner, who was up for re-election on the Anti-masonic ticket. Mr. Stevens did his utmost for Ritner. He brought into full play not only all bis great resources of elequence, wit and sarcaem, but, as Canal Commissioner, having the control of considerable patronage, he also insa-gurated a system of colonization for political effect, which politicians have improved upon and practiced more or less ever since. Porter beat Ritner in 1838; and then Mr. Storens-made the capital mistake of his life in determining to treat the election as if it had not occurred. This brought on the "Buckshot war." That disturbance made no strain upon our politic-enting in the strain upon our politicon Thaddens Stevens. "In the fall of cal institutions. Indeed it is doubtini if it excited as much stiention from the people of the other States as its importance demanded; but abroad it was looked upon as a portentous event. The late Mr. Dallas, our then Minister at the Coart of St. Petersburg, told me he was annoyed Court of St. Petersburg, told me he was annoyed by daily notes from the whole diplomatic cirele, anxionely inquiring for the news from Harris-burg, while his correspondents at home treated the subject as too insignificant to allude to; and therefore he had no information to commu-nicate. But the "Buck Shot War," if it wrought no great political revolution, took Mr. Stevens out of political life for many years. He removed to the city of Lancaster and addressed himself, with great ability and success, to the practice of his profes-alon. It was my privilege to know much of him as a lawyer, and it affords me far more pleasure to contemplate his professional than his political Harry Barton, when called, stated that he was not the subject as too insignificant to allude to; and therefore he had no information to communities. But the "Back Bhot War," if it wrought no great political revolution, took Mr.

 Stevens out of political infe for many years. He removed to the city of Lancaster and addressed himself, with great ability and success, to the practice of his profestion. It was my privilege to know much of him as a lawyer, and it affords me far more pleasure to contemplate his professional than his political met. dicate the high regard in which the deceased was held as a lawyer in Fennsylvania. Differ-ing from him toto celo in politics and religion, I cannot think that the final influence of his great talents that the hut inhere public mind was salutary, nor do I think pos-terity, to whom the arbitrament belongs, will rank blm as a benefactor of his race. But, nevertheless, there was much in him to ad-mire. His honesty and directness of purpose: his courage; his scorn and contempt for the low aris of political tricksters; his generosity to the poor, for his hand and his heart were as open as the day, to them; his learning; his eloquence; his temperance, his industry; his firm will; his self-poise; --these were the qualities that constituted his great-ness and his excellence, and if his fame outlasts the age in which he fame outlasts the age in which he lived, it will be because it is built on these fourdations. "De mortuis nil nisi bonum." Dr. Johnson thought that for bonum we should read rerum. I approve the criticism, and I ceteem it high praise of Mr. Stevens, that it can be said of him that he so passed through life, that his name can endure the application of the maxim even in its approved reading."
