SPEECH OF GEN. THOMAS.
At this point the proceedings were in dings were interrupted by the arrival of Gen. Thomas, who was greeted with great enthusiasm. Upon being introduced by the Chair, he said:

Soldiers As I belonged to the Army of the those who never let anybody know of their own by the Chair, he said:

Soldings: As I belonged to the Army of the Tennessee for a short time, I hope you will permit me to make a few remarks. I am gratified to be accourteously received. Now at the present time there is a very interesting meeting of the Army of the Cumberland to which I especially belong, and I must be there to keep them in order.

Three cheers were proposed for Gen. Thomas and given with a will.

The proceedings were again interrupted by the entrance of Gen. Grant. He was received with the wildest enthusiasm. The men rose to their feet and shouted hurrah; while the ladies in the gallery kept up a lively waving of handkerchiefs. gallery kept up a lively waving of handkerchiefs. Upon introducing the distinguished visitor, the Chairman said: Gentlemen, I have the pleasure of introducing to you the President elect, who has proved his failth by his works. Loud cheers, I have decreed, but all parties and all sections will Gen. Grant said:

Genellemen of the Army of the Tennessee:—My first associates in the beginning of the rebellion through which we have all so happily passed. I am heartily glad to be with you and with the other officers of the armies who fought so gallantly with you. VICE-PRESIDENT COLFAX.

Banquet at the Union League.

ELOQUENT SPEECH BY MR. COLFAX.

The Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Vice President elect was entertained as the guest of the Union League, on Saturday evoping, at a very handsome dinner.

ARLLED BY A FAIL.—Mrs. Acating, wite of the Article Mrs. Acating, a waiter, was found dead on Saturday night, at the foot of a flight of stairs, at her residence, rear of No. 742 Passyunk avonue. There was a severe cut upon the head, and some blood upon the face, and these, with the position in which she was lying, led to the belief that she had fallen down stairs. The husband was engaged at his place of business, and no one but the wife was in the house at the time of her death. on Saturday evening at a very handsome dinner, RESIGNATION. - Rev. J. H. The misanthropist of the man of the world at once answers, "none at all," for the one wilfully closes his eyes to all good, and the other has no time to bestow even a thought on the possibility of others having higher ideas than his own. But of others having higher ideas than his own. But like that which signalized the administration by its President elect of one of the governmental deof others having higher ideas than his own. But it seems to me that there is more worth in this world than either the misanthrope or the fashionable is aware of.
