EVENING BULLETIN. Saturday, December 26, 1868.

THE LAST DITOR. Andrew Johnson has evidently determined that, according to the old adage, "it is as well to be hung for a sheep as for a lamb." Having heaped these past years of infamy upon his name, until it has almost made the very office of the Presidency ignominious, he has still struggled downward to deeper depths. until it may fairly be assumed that he has found "the haven where he would be,"-his peachment Trial, several other candidates "last ditch" of disgrace and dishonor.

of 1864, by his famous despatch, presenting the conquered city of Savannah to Abraham Ebincoln. Carrying out that grand design lican force in the Legislature, and securing that will forever be known in American hisi ory as Sherman's March to the Sea, Sherhan, "by virtue of the power and authority in him vested by the Constitution, and in the name of the sovereign people of the United States," crushed the tinguished leader as their candidate, and Rebellion in the Cotton States beneath the | we carnestly trust that the eminent talents | iron heel of his loyal troops, and showed to which he has displayed as a journalist and the world how odious a thing treason is to an orator will be transferred to the Senate of this sovereign people.

Christmas Day by a crowning act of homage to treason and to traitors. His proclamation thereof," to all and every person who was in any way connected with the rebellion, is An-drew Johnson's notion of the true way to give the American people a "merry Christ-mas." He sweeps up the Davises, the Sli-date the Breckenridges, the Masons, the thereof," to all and every person who was in place. Thompsons-the whole "band of traitors to] their country and their country's institutions," as he once very properly called them, and gathers the foul brood to his paternal bosom. With this delightful act of miserable treachery he celebrates his Christmas Day. Every sense of remaining shame seems to have gone down with Andrew Johnson's failure to secure any position of respectability before the American people. We go back to me noble words with which this man made The moble words with which this man made is sense to be sense of the sense at the Cabinet manufactory of the sens is too thack to have been achieved in the lifetime of a map who was over really honest and true to the professions of loyalty by which he clip, bed to his present high office. We open the volume of his - published speeches almost anywhere, only to find the guage of his total debasement. Everywhere we find utterances like these: "I would show them who were the traitors. That CHEAT AS REFERENCED, and the public-those who have purchased them and those who have not-many of the forner to their cost, are gener. ally becoming aware of this fact. Show them who were the traitors. That being done, were I the President of the United States, I would do as Thomas Jefferson did in 1806 with Aaron Burr, who braken, we being in receipt each day, of large lots of now goods, replacing those sold, which was charged with treason; I would have them must be punished. Its enormity and the ex-TARANTEE ALL TENCES LOWER THAN THE LOWEST REGUMERE: ALSO GUARANTEE FULL SATISFAO TIGHTO EVERY PURCHASER, OR THE SALE OAN. The time is not distant, if must be done !" What stuff and nonsense all this pretence of hatred for treason on the part of Andrew Johnson was, is now clearly seen; and yet the American people found this language expressing their own honest instincts, and they took this man into their generous confidence and set him upon the pinnacle of the temple of American liberty, only to find him betraying and insulting those who thus trusted

How far this amnesty proclamation is really operative we are not prepared, at this time, to say. What "rights, privileges, and immunities" these traitors possess "under the Constitution, and the laws which have been been made in pursuance thereof," are not for Andrew Johnson to determine; and Congress may yet find it necessary to see to it that the constitutional laws which it has passed shall be enforced. But the spirit of the man is shown in this proclamation, and he will go out of office degraded, despised and hated, as no other man has ever been who was born on American soil.

The country will remember that for this last insult to the memory of the dead heroes of the war it is not indebted to Andrew Johnson alone. There are seven men in the Senate Chamber who share with him this bad responsibility, Fessenden, Grimes, Trumbull, Henderson, Ross, Fowler and Van Winkle, failing in their great duty of impeachment, left Andrew Johnson free to work this final wrong upon the country; and they must needs bear some portion of the load that sinks him n his "Last Ditch."

This compounding of the great felony cannot, in any fair sense, be charged upon the American people. They were deceived by the high-sounding professions of the Tennessee demagogue, but they have never followed him in his defection. The few men whe, for sake of office, followed him into the camp of treason, have shared his fate. The great heart of the people protests against this alliance with traitors. It beats as true as ever in its devotion to the memory of the brave men who died that this nation should not perish from the earth. It still holds these leaders of the Rebellion to their full moral accountability. It neither palliates nor forgives their crime. It counts their lives too worthless to be reckoned in atonement for the death and misery which they have caused; and it is content, in its grand magnanimity, that they should wander in foreign lands with the parricidal and iratricidal brand upon them. But it makes no further compromise with them, and Andrew Johnson is absolutely powerless to take that brand from their brows, or to reinstate them upon the level of honorable American citizenship. He would gladly Jefferson Davis, force these men, hobert E. Lee and the whole nest STEINWAY'S PIANOS RECEIVED THE Phighest award (firt gold med.) at the interna Exhibition, Paris, 1857. THE CHICKERING PIANOS RECEIVED them away. This generation must pass the Lighest award at the Paris Exposition, away before any man who as a leader of the away, before any man, who, as a leader of the Rebellion, strove to gratify what Anarew Johnson called his "disappointed, impatient, inhallowed ambition" by breaking up this Government, shall be counted the equal of the humblest man, white or black, who stood firm and faithful in his devotion to the old flag.

THE MISSOURI SENATORSHIP. The contest over the Missouri Senatorship being carried on with much vigor. The present incumbent, Henderson, having forfeited his claims upon the confidence of the Republican party, by his treachery in the Imhave been put forward for the vacancy. Of General Sherman signalized Christmas Day | course, Mr. Henderson with immense virtue, is laboring for a re-election; his success being based upon the hope of dividing the Repub-Democratic votes enough to elect himself. But he has powerful opponents, and among them none so powerful, and so justly popular as Carl Schurz. We are glad to see that our Republican friends have taken up this disthe United States. General Schurz would Andrew Johnson celebrates his last official make a noble representative of the real Republicans of Missouri, and his election | F would not only be a proper rebuke to an unof a full pardon and amnesty, with "restora- | faithful Sevator, but would add great force to tion of all rights, privileges and im- the dominant power in the Senate. [Special Derpatch to the Phils, Evening Bulletin] Washington, Dec. 96.—There is no foundation what-ever ior the statements current about the difference bo-tween General Grant and the Redical Congressmen in regard to the Civil Fennre of Office bill. The reported conversations are either whelly ficti ions or so far dis-torted as to convey the reverse of truth. Bo far from having expressed an emphasic opinion in favor of the repeal of the civil foururs law, General Grant, to day, in reserve to the published statements to which his mitention had been called, said he had Bot given any attention to the subject of the act, as he thought the matter properly belonged to Congress, which body understood the question better than he did himsels. Sad Suicide, Chroaco, Dee 26.-Mrs. Augusta N Dickers, widow of Augustus Dickers, brother of Charles Dickers, the cele-bated novelist, committed suicide yesterday at No. 858 North Clarke street, by taking au overdose of .acrybine. Bhe sent her children to the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. Lawrence, on Christmas tree. They remained likers over night, and on their return home their mother was discovered on the floor dead. Mra. Bickens was 35 years of axes and leaves three children. Bhe has suffered much lately from poverty, being de-pendent almost entirely upon friends for the noccessaries of life. The agimonious controversy growing est of the conduct of her dictinguished brother in-law, Charles Dickens. towards Mrs. Dickers, on the occasion of his visit, will be remembered by all.
