it will be a brillant affair there cannot be the least doubt. For years past these annual reunions of the Mænnerchor have been been attended and lighly enjoyed by thousands of our citizens. Every ball given has been a complete success, and the approaching festival will be fully equal to those of former seasons. The management is in

Shall the British Cede Gibraltar? (From the London Times, Dec. 22.)

(From the London Time, Dec. 22.) (The following communication appeared in the 7 since on the above date, and as the subject, ho doubt, will be revived at a coming period, the views of one who occupied the position as Cap-tain of the Port of Gibraltar for ten years may be read with some degree of interest at the present time :]

In a letter published by one of your contem-porarise on Wednesday last, on the subject of the cession of Gibraltar, there is the following paragraph: "It is proposed in some of the Spanish papers that we should restore Gibraltar to Spains and re-ceive Centa by way of equivalent. The ab-surdity of the proposition is too palpable to call for comment.

So far from considering this proposal an ab-surdity, it is now many years since 1 first advo-cated this solution of a difficult question, and I have written to members of both the last and present governments to urge its adoption. I was for ten years Captain of the Port of Gibraltar, and do not, therefore, address you without at least having had a good opportunity of forming an opinion; and while on the spot I brought my view of the case under the consideration of the late Admirals Sir Charles Napler and Sir R. Dun-das, both of whom entirely concurred with me. So far from considering this proposal an ablate Admirats in Chaines Maple, and Sh. R. Dur-das, both of whom entirely concurred with me. I have never heard any reason given against the exchange, except the old stock arguments of its being a loss to our preside and that the country will not consent to it. Has the country ever re-will not consent to it. Has the country ever re-grouted giving up Corfu? But to take up as little of your space as possible I will in a few lines give my principal reasons. Admitting, as I do, that some port at the en-trance of the Mediterranean is a necessity, I maintain that Ceuta might be really made a har-bor of unit, coalling and ratius. bor of refit, coaling and refuge, not one of which conditions does Gibraltar fulfil in a time of war with Spain, the only safe anchorage for merchant vessels being completely commanded from in-numerable points on the Spanish coast. It never numerable points on the spansh cost. It not was considered so, even in the wars at the com-mencement of the century; and with modern ar-tillery, not a honse on the rock would be out of easy range. The "Gibraltar Shield," of which we have heard to much lately, is very suggestive of insecurity and expense.

Such is the case in the event of war with Spain. But even in peace times the bay is so exposed to gales from the sonthwest, and, in spite of the shelter of the Rock, so subject to the flarries and shelter of the Rock, so subject to the flurries and white squalis in an easterly gale, as to be at all times a most insecure anchorage. For coaling purposes for merchant steamers there is no wharfage--only coal bulks, otten totally unavail-able. For men-of-war there is imited accommo-dation at a mole recently constructed. One small and inconvenient point of access only is open for commerce at the Water-port. The larger steamers now seldom touch at Gibraltar if they can avoid it. The ces-sion to Spah will not prevent windbound vessels anchoring in the bay during peace; in time of aion to Spain will not prevent windobild vessels anchoring in the bay during peace; in time or war, as I said before, no one could do so. Ceuta is better suited for our purposes, the Af-rican shore being the most frequented in passing the Straits. With the area surrounding it now possessed by Spain, it might be made almost im-pregnable, but with the Moors as neighbors and a command of the sea its attack would be very command of the sea its attack would be very

a command of the sea its attack would be very improbable. My proposal, therefore, is to express our wil-lingness to make this exchange, under some such conditions as the following: That a certain num-ber of years should be allowed us to form a harbor to the southward of Ceuta by a break-water similar to that at Portland, for which there is every facility, and then to cede Gibraltar intact with all its fortifications, in relurn for a pronotwith all its fortifications, in return for a propor-

with all its fortifications, in return for a propor-tion of the expense at Ceuta being paid by Spain. Other details appertaining to private property and material of war I need not enter into. In conclusion, I would express my firm con-viction that while the exchange would be most advantageous to Spain, it would also be the best bargain for England; and it so, why, in the name of common sense them as a ranking some for the of common tense, keep up a rankling sore for the sake of a vain prestige, which after all is more nominal than real, especially when any one at nominal than real, especially when any one at all conversant with the immense progress made by Spain in the last thirty years, in spite of bad governments, must feel certain that, sooner or inter, she will resume her proper possessions in Europe ?

Herewity on Swates. [From the New York Bound Table.] A pretty girl on akates, if any girl on skates can be otherwise than pretty, clad in one of those jaunty fur trimmed pelieses that Caold himself must have fashioned, the lithe form The New York Tribune says: Though the dead are soon forgotten, we trust there are still many friends of the late General Charles G. Halpine who will hear with a melan-choly satisfaction that the income of the Regischoly satisfaction that the income of the Regis-ter's Office, which, through the intervention of Gens. Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, and other-friends, was secured to his widow and orphans, has amounted to fully $18,000; all of which has inured directly to their benefit-Generals Patrick H. Jones, who received the office from Governor Fenten, declining to. accept any fraction of the proceeds. This amount, added to what was left by General Halpine, mainly in the form of a house but partially paid for, secures to the widow and her siz, minor children (only two... of, them boys, and they the fourth and sixth in bending to and fro in undulous and rhythesic motion, the glowing check and radiant eyes kissed by kindly winter into tenfold beauty, is such a sight as the holiest and hardest o anchorites might be pardoned for falling in love with. And if she be, on the contrary, a poor skater, the charm is, if anything, heightened, at least to her cavalier. There is such an irresistible fascination in her absolute dependence on his protecting arm; there is such a charm in her pretty terror, her delicious helplessness, the whow side her size minor contract (out) two of them boys, and they the fourth and sixth in years) the means of keeping the wolf from the door. We are sure that thousands who never met General Halpine, with all who personally knew him, will hear this with pleasure. her graceful tumbles; such a music in her little shricks of dread and self-accusing laughter; and then it is so delightful to pick her up after each comical upset, and she is throughout so good natured, and so grateful, LICENSES TO PLACES OF AMUSEMENT .- An act and so provokingly pretty, that she is, if anything, more adorable than if she skated like a championess! An ice-pond, too, on a bright still night, with the moon and stars all in their places to smile encouraging ap-proval, is no bad place to make love in. When the most adored of her sex asks you, for example, as you go gliding like the wind over the glassy surface "if this isn't heavenly" and anys "she could go on so forever," what s easier or more natural than to press a little tighter the tiny hand that nestles in your own and suggest that it is heavenly, and that it will be her fault if you don't go on forever. Or if she be one of the tumbling kind, she is quite as likely to observe, wh en you pick her up-not too quickly-for the fifteenth time, that you are a dear, sweet love, and what can she ever do to repay you, whereupon you can only murmur in her blushing ear that she can be yours, and the thing is settled at once. Then there is all that business of lacing and unlacing skates, and buttoning and unbuttoning of tippets, and a thousand other delights that only the initiated know; and, last of all, the brisk walk home (no sensible skater ever rides) under the mild benediction of the starlight.

If there be any of our readers whose memory does not hold a better picture of this win-ter joyance than any words can give, he or she has our commiseration and our counsel to be wiser hereafter. There are one or two drawbacks, however, even to this delightful exercise. Skaters, and more especially those of the gentler and—shall we add ?—giddier sex, are in the habit of making too little pro-vision against the risk of taking cold. After getting into a violent glow on the ice they will rush precipitately into the stifling heat of the waiting room to coax back the circula-tion into the feet which have been numbed by the tightness of the skate straps; retaining and so practically neutralizing their cloaks and furs and wraps of all sorts. Then, with lungs debilitated and system generally weakened by that pestilantial atmosphere, they ride for miles (of course we are speaking again of New York, but the analogy holds good of most other places) in a vehicle which admirably illustrates a truth not recognized by most people, that air may be uncomfortably cold without being fit for breathing. Next day, as a natural consequence, there are influenzas and rheumatism and neuralgias without number, and corresponding blasts from paterfamilias against the folly and wickedness of skating. But this danger can be averted with reasonable care and prudence, and by the use of a skate which dispenses altogether with straps. There is such a one, we believe, in use, which can be attached to the sole of the boot with screws; but it demands a very accurate fit in the boot and considerable skill in the wearer.

The regular Government Commissioners have pro-nounced the Union Pacific Railread to be FIRST CLASS in every respect, and the Special Commission appointed by the President says:

"Taten as a whole, THE UNION PACIFIC RAIL ROAD HAS BEEN WELL CONSTRUCTED, A D THE GENERAL ROUTE FOR THE LINE EXCEEDINGLY WELL SELECTED. The energy and perseverance with which the work has been urged forward, and the rapidity with which it has been executed are without parallel in history, and in grandeur and magnitude of undertaking it has never been equaled." The report concludes by saying that "the country has reason to congratulate itself that this great work of national importance is so rapidly approaching completion under such favorable auspices. The Company now have in use 137 loconotives and nearly 2,000 cars of all descriptions. A large additional equip-ment is ordered to be ready in the Spring. The War Department of Switzerland proposes to extend the obligation of service to every citizen of twenty years old and to aban-don the system of the 'Federal scale 'fixing the strength of the contingent according to the proportion of the population; every canton is to furportion of the population; every canton is to tur-nish all its troops to the general army, divided into three portions, the active, the re-serve and the landweir. The time to be passed in the first is seven years, in the second nine, and every man from thirty-six to forty-five is to form part of the third. The council has resolved to post-pone the presentation of this bill to the Legisla-tive Assembly of the Confederation until the military authorities shall have been able to collect the views of cantonal governments on the sub-

MANZANILLA DE CUBA, December, 1868.—To the Editor of the World—Sin: By allowing space in your columns, you would, besides granting me a personal favor, also render one to your fellow creatures and countrymen, who, by a despotie rule of government, are suffering and replaining here in prison for no other offence but appearing suspicious as strangers to the authorities, and, as they have stated, to prevent their being in any way useful to the insurgents. I came here from the interior, where I am administrator and engi-neer of a sugar estate, with a pass of the leaders of the insurrection, and by consent of the Governor of this place, to visit my wife's rela-tives, and was arrested the same evening, as it is stated, for having given to some Spanish officers an account of their wives, who were detained at Bayamo in the interior. It appears that some officers, hirdings of the Custom-house, over-heard some of my remarks, which were entirely in reference to private affairs, and went and were false avidence arguingt me studies these gave false evidence against me, stating I was a spy of the rebels. I have been kept a formight till now in prison, exposed to much privation and in the anxiety of losing all I have worked for these last fourteen years. At last, through the medium of some kind friends, the Deputy Governor was pre-valled upon to allow me to return to my family and residence at Bayamo. Thus far I considered myself fortunate to get out of the lion's paws; but what I would bring to your readers' notice, is the case of my poor countryman, Mr. Alexander Macnell, a native of Scotland, who has been locked up with some others in a narrow cell for over a month without the least prospect of being liber-attd; and this for an offence which poor Mr. Macnell knows as much about as the man in the Mr. Macneil is an engineer, already fifty-seven years of age, and came here destitute only two months ago, to take charge of a steam engine on Mr. Munez's sugar estate. He has been arrested theft on the evidence of a negro, who had committed theft on the estate, and was threatened with chas-tisement; he ran down to the sea-shore, on the appearance of the Spanish guaboat, and on making signs, got a party of salors to come in a boat on shore, when he told them a lying story, after being, I suppose, questioned, to the effect that they were casting balls and making lances on the said estate, "San Ramon," and that Mac-neil was the one making these balls and lances to the insurgents. Mr. Macneil denied the charge, and brought four or five witnesses to give a contrary state ment, and the true cne-besides, no balls nor moulds could be found-but their evidence was not taken before the military commission who examined him; and on the evidence of the negro examined him; and on the evidence of the negro thief he has been now over a month confined in a close dungeon, without any one looking into his case, or after his defence, in order to see his speedy release from that hole. The old man de-clared to me, some days ago, that it would be better for him to suffer death than to be locked up in such a pasty, damu place with others who better for him to somer death than to be locked up in such a nasty, damp place, with others who were infested with vermin; so I trust you will, through your columns, bring his case to the a no-tice of the British government, in order to have justice and redress done for him. Your obedient gervant, WILLIAM KYNOCH.

It is alleged that he attacked the old man, knocked him down and beat him in a terrible manner. The accused was held in $800 bail to answer at court.

ATTACK ON A FIRE COMPANY .- As the West Philadelphia Hose Company was proceeding to the fire, last evening, the members were attacked by roughs, on Twenty-fifth street, below Locust.
