A SLEIGH RIDE AND ITS RESULT.—A couple of young fellows residing in the neighborhood of Sixteenth and Carpenter streets longed for a sleigh ride last night. One of them appropriated a sleigh belonging to Mr. Sheridan, and the other got a horse owned by Mr. Ritner. They then started out for a little fun, but at Sixteenth and Montrose streets they were overhauled by a policeman. One succeeded in escaping, but the other was captured. The prisoner gave his name as Lester Watson. This morning he was before Ald. Dallas, charged with larceny, and was held to answer.

A SERIES OF CRASHES.—Matthias Myers, a resident of 225 Coates street, was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Murray, and taken before Alderman Toland, upon the charges of larceny, assault and battery, and keeping a disorderly house. It seems that within a few days Myers has become the proprietor of a drinking saloon on Coates street, above Fourth. A man who went into the place alleges that he was made drunk, assaulted and robbed of $8.00. The accused was committed in default of $2,000 bail for trial.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—Last evening Co. A., Americus Guard, elected the following officers for the term of two years: Captain, Adam Erford, late Captain U. S. V.; First Sergeant Thos. Kelly, late Sergeant U. S. V.; Second Lieutenant, Michael Patten, late of the U. S. Marine Corps. The Company has fitted up a neat armory at the N. W. corner of Franklin and Poplar streets, and has company drills twice in each week, and squad drills every evening for the present.

APPOINTMENT.—Mayor Fox yesterday appointed John Curley a High Constable in place of Joseph Barton, removed. Mr. Curley was a Sergeant of the Second District, under Mayor Vaux, and was promoted to the Lieutenantcy of the Fourth District when Lieutenant Samuel G. Ruggles was appointed Chief. He resigned upon the inauguration of Mayor Henry. He served through the war as a member of the Second Pennsylvania Reserves, and has been employed in the Navy Yard for upwards of two years past.

A BAD FELLOW.—Lewis Runyan, residing at Second and Berks streets, was before Ald. Helms this morning. The complainant was his wife. She alleges that Lewis abused the children last night. She interfered, whereupon her "liege lord" got a poker and "swore that he would come the Twitchell game on her." The poker tipped her on the end of the nose. The belligerent husband was held in $500 bail for his appearance at Court.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—This morning, about half past four o'clock, a man was attacked at Sixth and Shippen streets. He was seized by the throat and held by one man while another rifled his pockets, and took from him $15. William Lee and William S. Witham were afterwards arrested by Policeman Quinn, of the Seventeenth District, upon the charge of having committed the robbery. They were taken before Alderman Bonsall, and were sent to prison to await trial.

A SNOW STORM.—Snow commenced falling about nine o'clock yesterday morning, and continued to fall quite lively during the entire day and up to a late hour last night. This morning the ground was covered with about two inches of snow. In the suburbs the sleighing is very fair, and in the built-up portions of the city a "jumper" may occasionally be seen flitting through the streets.

PILOT SHOT AT.—George Vanderslice, the pilot of the steamboat Camden, of the Camden and Philadelphia Ferry Company, was shot at yesterday while crossing the river. The ball grazed his lip, causing a slight wound. The shot was fired by one of two men who were in a batteau. The boat was followed by the harbor police as far as Shackamaxon street, but succeeded in getting away.

CRUELTY.—A few days ago, Judge Brewster sentenced Philip Flanegan to pay a fine of one cent and undergo an imprisonment of one month for having driven a mare to death last June. Justice is sometimes slow, but always sure. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals were the prosecutors in this case. Other delinquents will take notice.

SUPPOSED LARCENY.—John Grinder and John Graham were arrested this morning at Juniper and Fitzwater streets, on suspicion of larceny. They had in their possession three pieces of muslin, which they were endeavoring to sell. They will have a hearing at the Central Station this afternoon.

PRESS CLUB.—The regular meeting for the reading of essays will be held to-morrow afternoon, at the rooms, No. 607 Walnut street. The essayist will be Mr. Thompson Westcott. His subject will be "The Mysteries of the Associated Press."

LARCENY OF A COAT.—Bernard Power is alleged to have stolen a sack-coat valued at $9 from a store at Second and Federal streets, yesterday afternoon. He was arrested, and after a hearing before Ald. Patchell, was sent to prison.

STEALING BOOTS.—George Smith and George Davis have been committed by Ald. Bonsall to answer the charge of the larceny of boots from a store at Seventh and Shippen streets.

BY REFERENCE to the advertisement in another column, it will be seen that the two Marvin & Co. safes which were in the store of Messrs. James E. Caldwell & Co. at the time of its destruction, passed through the terrible ordeal triumphantly, the books, papers, diamonds, jewelry and other valuables contained in them having sustained no damage whatever. Messrs. Caldwell & Co. express the greatest confidence, as well they may, in the excellence and superiority of the safes made by Messrs. Marvin & Co.

GREAT SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING.—This afternoon and evening the meeting of the Sunday School Institute will be continued at Rev. Dr. Talmage's Church, Seventh street, above Brown. The subject of temperance in our Sunday Schools will be under consideration. Thomas M. Coleman has been requested to open the proceedings by an address on the subject. The meeting this afternoon and evening will no doubt be largely attended.

LECTURE.—The Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., lectures in this city, January 26th. Subject—"John Bunyan, and his relation to certain live issues of Church and State."

ANNUAL BALL.—The fourth annual ball of Professor Acher will be given at Musical Fund Hall on Monday evening next. A very pleasant affair may be expected.

—The real name of Mark Twain is Samuel G. Clemens. Blessed with long legs, he is tall, reaching five feet ten inches in his boots: weight, 167 pounds; body lithe and muscular; head round and well set on considerable neck, and feet of vast size. He smokes tobacco. The eyes are deep set and twinkle like stars in a dark night. The brow overhangs the eyes, and the head is protected from the weather by dark and curling locks.

—It is stated that many of the chimney-sweeps of New York—a branch of high art altogether monopolized by Sambo—never divest themselves of their apparel from one year's end to the other, but shed their rags gradually, as trees do their leaves, and replace them with fresh patches. Yet they have a daily choice of soots.

The Bank Defalcation at Chestertown.

[From the Kent News.]

It is already generally known that Samuel W. Spencer, late Cashier of the Kent National Bank, was a defaulter to that institution to a large amount. The fact was ascertained a few days before the death of Mr. Spencer, and when confronted in regard to the matter, he immediately made restitution to the bank to the full extent of his ability. He had a valuable real and personal estate, and it is believed that it will realize nearly sufficient to cover the amount of his indebtedness, so that his bond will suffer but little loss. The bank is doing business as usual, and no apprehension is felt in this community as to its perfect ability to meet all its liabilities. The defalcation has of course been a general topic of conversation, but nothing like an excitement has prevailed. There has been much speculation as to what disposition was made of the abstracted funds, but it is most likely that they were mainly absorbed in extravagant living, as there is no evidence to show that any considerable portion of them were invested.

The manner in which the defalcation, which has extended through several years, was concealed from the other officers of the bank, was by false entries and erroneous reports of the amount of individual deposits and accounts with city banks. The cashier of a bank has exclusive control of its funds, for the proper application of which his bond is given, and he has every opportunity to abstract and apply them to his own use if disposed to do so. No mention was made of this matter in our last issue from the fact that the amount of the defalcation had not been definitely ascertained, and even now it is not exactly known, but is supposed to be about $50,000.

Bank Robbery in Pittsburgh—$4,600 Stolen.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch of yesterday says:

On Saturday, shortly after noon, at the Union Banking Company's office, Mr. Thomas Fergus, residing near Elizabeth, had five-twenty bonds to the amount of $4,600 on deposit. He called there at the time stated for the purpose of getting the coupons then due cashed, and to invest the proceeds further. He was waited upon by Mr. Robt. Smith, who laid the bundle of bonds on the counter, took off the coupons and turned to get others. Meantime some one stepped in, dequired of Mr. Fergus the location of Brady's banking house, and being shown the direction, departed. By this time Mr. Smith returned to the counter, where Mr. Fergus still stood, and then it was discovered that the package of bonds had been abstracted. Where they were gone was evident, but no trace of the thief could be discovered, and Mr. Fergus could give no distinct description of the man who had been in. The bonds were four of $1,000 each and six of $100 each.

The English Law of Primogeniture.

Speaking of the recent proposal to revoke the primogeniture laws, the London Standard declares that the Conservative instincts of the nation, which desire to preserve our social and political aristocracy, and see that the law of primogeniture is its foundation, are against change. The soberer judgment of the ambitious part of the middle class is opposed to a change which would destroy the very object of their ambition, and render it forever impossible to found a family. And if the notion of an abstract injustice in the present law be dispelled, the Radicals have no chance. The consequences of the legislation of which the initial measure is the abolition of primogeniture in cases of intestacy are very great indeed, involving an utter revolution in the whole fabric of society. Consistency would require, first, the cessation of entail beyond the life of persons in being, and the same rule applied to personal property, thus crippling the present power of families to secure themselves against the wastefulness of a single generation. Next would follow the French law of compulsory division, with all its proved domestic and economical mischiefs.
