HEAD OR HEART? BY R. H. STODDARD. The loving songs you sing to me, With such a subtle art, My poet, are they from the head, Or are they from the heart? "From somewhere in the skiest may be near, or far, from cloud, or moon, or star—

A misty Spirit flice, When summer nights are deep, And all are fast asleep— The Spirit of whom the flowers, In the long, dim hours, Who gives, as he goes.

Who gives, as he egos, To illy and reso With rapture dumb, A kiss, that slips in the heart, Where, when the morn is come, We find it as dow— Pare, perfect, divine ! Such are these songs of mine."

Not from your heart, then, as you said, False one! your songs, but from your head.

"Deep down beneath the sea. Whose dreadful waves are whirled About the roots of the world, There death and darkness be.

A little creature lurks, Who npwards works, and works : Thorough the waters vast, Thorough the waters vast, Thorough the waters green, Up, up, until at last The light of day is seen— When lo!, it has builded an isle uch are these songs of mine. And if your songs, so fine your art, re from the head, and from the heart, I wonder now whence this is ? You answer me with kisses ! Hearth and Home. ·-----

And the isle is one great vice !

Charles Reade, born in 1814, is the youngest son of the late Mr. John Reade, of Ipsden House, Oxfordhire, England. He became what is ealled a Demy of Magdalen College in the University of Oxford, and, in due course, was elected a Fellow of that College—the average emoluments of that office being estimated at some $2,000 a year, with a set of rooms rent free. The cheap and neat edition of Charles Reade's novels is already swelled to four vol-umes, each containing one story in a form at ence handy and handsome. Two addi-tional volumes are just out, "Never too Late to Mend," and "Love Me Little, Love Me Long." The former contains Mr. Reade's severe strictures on prison discipline, as well as an absorbing delineation of gold-mining and tender and delicate forms showing no trace general manners in Australia. The second is enriched by his best study of female cha-racter, the cool, polished, but lovely Lucy Fountain. The books, we believe, are as mitch as we shall ever get for a dollar. HAVANA, Feb. 8.—A band of insurgents, whose numbers are unknown, have made their appear-ance at the town of Camarones, on the line of the railroad between Cienfuegos and Villa Clara. A detachment of troops have marched against them. A panle prevails in Cienfuegos, and many families have field from the town, fearing the in-surrection will spread to that district, and have arrived in this city. Fort Cabanos, which guards the place, is gar-risoned only by a battalion of volunteers, and a force of regulars has been despatched to reinforce them. The Diario, in its account of the outbreak at Camarones, states that the first act of the rebes B was to destroy a section of the railroad between Clenfuegos and Villa Clara. The same paper ac-knowledges that the situation in this quarter is ery grave. Much excitement has been created in Havana by versions, more or less exaggerated, of events in the Central Department. An approach of the revolution to the vicinity of Cienfugoes, which is the centre of a large planting district, is ex-pected to cause a rise in the sugar market. Sov-eral attempts have been made in the Vuelts Abajo region, and the first and fifth battallons of volunteers are under orders to proceed to that point to prevent the renewal of disorders. Strangers continue to arrive at various points on the coast, supposed with the intention of joining the revolutionists. Many have been arrested on suspicion. The government has chartered several steamers, and is preparing some men-of-war and light-draught steam isunches to sail to Roman Koys and prevent the expected disembarkation of an expedition from Nassau, and when that is ac-complished, the flotilia will proceed to attack the arthworks which the insurgents have crected at La Guanasa. The rebels recently assembled at Managua to the number of three hundred. They were at-tacked by the troops, according to official report, were defeated, losing all their arms and ammunition, and eleven prisoners.
