THE CUSTOM HOUSE CORRESPONDENCE.

The correspondence relative to the dismissal of the inspectors in the Philadelphia Custom House is now in the hands of the Congressional Printer, and will not be ready before next week. It is a compulsive with the morning service. It is a compulsive with make a property of the propert and will not be ready before next week. It is voluminous, and when completed will make a good sized pamphlet. Secretary McCulloch has submitted a number of authorities and precedents to sustain his position, and appends a circular, continued in force by five former Secretaries of the Treasury, taking the ground that the right to select officers for discharge rests with the Secretary, if he chooses to exercise it. Collector Cake has been here, advocating his side of the question with Congressmen.

Assistant assessors appointed.

ASSISTANT ABSESSOES APPOINTED.

THENTON, Feb. 12.—U. S. District Court—
Judge Field.—The case of George W. Thorn, Collector of the Fifth District, charged with allowing whisky to be removed from bonded warehouses without paying the specified tax, involving a loss of $100,000 to the government, was resumed to-day.

warehones without paying the specified tax, involving a loss of $100,000 to the government, was resumed to-day.

This action is brought by the government to recover from Thorn and his streties the deficiency. R. Williams, revenue detective, testified that he discovered a distillery in Jersey Cit. Subject—"The Poinca. The right of Confirmation in the billing of the purpose of defranding the government. Williams, with another inspector, shortly after seized the establishment. Hir. Thorn then, as Collector, seized it upon the following morning. Also, that Thorn suggested compromising the matter with these parties for $1,000. The compromise not being accepted, the case was prosecuted.

On the cross-examination of this witness was asked what he found out in relation to the above distillery; he replied that he found out they were going to cheat. At this the counsel for the defence took umbrage and said, "He's too smart for us" District Attorney—"And he has proved too smart for a great many whisky men." The Judge ruled that it was a proper answer. William Richards, from the Commissioner's office in Warkington, was then placed upon the stand, and gave a clear and lucid explanation of the bonded system as it then existed, and the duties and requirements of collectors.

Charles W. Benjamin, U. S. Deputy Marshal, teslified that the District Attorney had placed summons in his hands, for the apprehension of the parties who signed the fraudulent bonds. The old tell him where the parties lived, or anything concerning them, and that Mr. Thorn replied, he neither knew where they lived, nor anything concerning them; nor did he know how he came by those fraudulent bonds. The District Attorney had placed summons in his hands, for the apprehension of the parties who signed the fraudulent bonds.

The District Attorney then offered a large of the parties who signed the fraudulent bonds. The District Attorney had placed summons in his hands, for the apprehension of the bonds who signed the fraudulent bonds. The District Attorney had p pincu, we neither knew where they lived, nor anything concerning them; nor did he know how the came by those fraudulent bonds.

The District Attorney then offered a large amount of documentary evidence, and rested the case for the Government. Mr. I. W. Scudder then opened the case for the defendants in a warm and earnest speech, in the course of which then opened the case for the defendants in a warm and earnest speech, in the course of which he said: "Whisky will be made and will be drank until the world shute up shop."

George W. Thorn was placed upon the stand, and testified that he went into office on the first of November, 1866, and went out on the first of April, 1867; knew his predecessor, Mr. Wallace, and his deputy, Mr. Darling; requested Mr. Darling to remain in office with him, but that gentleman declined doing so; he appointed Mr. Gardener as Bonded Clerk, who had charge of the bonded account; always received the bonds; supposed that he looked after the sureties and their sufficiency, as he relied wholly upon him for that purpose.

He stated that Mr. Gardener may have said something to him concerning the fraudulent

He stated that Mr. Gardener may have said something to him concerning the fraudulent bonds several months after he went out of office; did not recollect ever having seen the fraudulent bonds before yesterday; had no recollection of any circumstance connected with any of the bonds. In reply to a question as to whether he had retained the clerks of his predecessor, he replied that he retained all who desired to stay, with the exception of two. His predecessor, having two offices, employed two young ladies Secretary.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18, 1869.

The Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company are now prepared to exchange, or purchase from the holder thereof, the Bonde of said Company dated ist day of July 1865, irsued under authority of the Act of Assembly approved March 9th, 1865, and will exercise the option o having the mortgage securing the same satisfied in pursuance of the agreement and conditions endorsed on said bonds.

GEO. P. LITTLE, MADRID, Feb. 12.—At the opening of the Cortes, yesterday, Marshal Serrano said: The nations of Europe, in attaining a higher degree of civilization, threw off the traditional bonds which fettered the public mind. Spain delayed for a long time following the example of her neighbor of the content of the content of the public mind. Spain delayed for a long time following the example of her neighbor of the content of the conte 230 Walnut street bors. She now calls on her representatives to construct a new edifice. Revolution has achieved a bloodless victory. The strength of the nation has not been impaired, but the extravarance of former administrations has disorganized and embarrassed its finances. The government replies upon the Cortes to remedy this, by No. 1221 Spring Garden street.

STAR SPRING

SARATOGA, NEW YORK. The analysis proves that the waters of the ARATOGA STAR SPRINGS have a much larger amount of solid substance, richer in medical ingredients than any other spring in Saratoga, and shows what the taste indicates—namely, that it is the STRONGEST WATER.

t also demonstrates that the STAR WATER contains 100 Cubic Inches More of Gas in agallon than any other spring. It is this extra amount of gas that imparts to this water its peculiarly sparkling appearance, and renders it so very agreeable to the tastet also tends to preserve the delicious flavor of the water when bottled, and causes it to uncork with an effervesence aimost equal to Champagae.
