To be true, and to deny one's sell," he continued, with increasing warmth, "is the first and highest law of the dramatic composer. Woe to him who does not find his best reward in his own labor." The music of 'Romeo and Juliette' has for years past filled my whole soul, day and night, with mingled joy and pain; I owe to it in heavy atmosphere. The ball in the first, and in the labor.

The music of 'Romeo and Juliette' has for past filled my whole soul, day and night, with mingled joy and pain; I owe to it he heavy atmosphere. The ball in the first, and first filled my whole soul, day and night, with mingled joy and pain; I owe to it he heavy atmosphere. The ball in the first, and filled my man and siter the lith of whates.

The single scene of this kind, where both anger and the wildest passion use the entire power of both chorus and orchestra, is the duet scene in the third act. The tempest, however, lasts too short a time to succeed in cooling the heavy atmosphere. The ball in the first, which wil be taken on accommodating terms, apply to wwentully moved by this music as by Gou hods "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effective contrasts to the tender scenes as many pow erful and "Romeo" as effectiv pletion of an opera-the rehearsals, the representation, the subsequent success—is nothing vexation and disappointment. sation in Paris, where, a few months later I and active in extending every prope opera, "Sappho," was represented. Although a fine and original talent was universally recognized in this opera (the principal rôle of which was sung by Madam Viardot Garcia), it had only a limited and brief success. People found fault with the length of the recitative, the attempt at novelty in the musical forms, and the ignorance of stage effect. Half of the failure of this opera, however, was unanimously attributed to the libretto, which was the work of Emile Augier. "FAUST," IN PARIS AND GERMANY.
On the 19th of March, 1859, a day never to be forgotten in Gound's artist "Faust" was given for the first time in the Theatre Lyrique, in Paris. The high rank which this opera at once took in Paris, and still maintains, soon extended its fame throughout the whole musical world of Europe. Darmstadt was the first German city which ventured to produce the novelty.
