Horrors of the Civil War-Ontrago Committed by General Domingue, President of the Southern Mepublic.

Homer, Colladay & Co's New Store-Description of the Ldifice-New Do-pariments-Varieties of Goods, &c., a c. Aux CAYES, Hayti, Feb. 17.—On my arrival here last week I found that the Picqueta, kind of guerrillas, who are in favor of Sainave, had oc cupied the plains and hills in the rear of the city, cupled the plains and hills in the rear of the city, and were plying it with shot and shell at a fear-ful rate. The President was in the harbor, on board the Galatea, and waiting for his guaboat, the Salaave, to arrive before commencing the bombardment from the sea. I found every thing in contusion, and everybody in a state of wild alarm. Soon after my arrival, Mr. Hollister, the American Minister, come into port in the United States ship-of-war Yantic, and immediately visited Mr. De Long, the Ameri-On Monday morning next Mesars. Homer, Col-laday & Co., the well-known dry goods mer-chants, will throw open to the public their mag-nificent new marble store, Nos. 1412 and 1414 Chestnut street. This editice is one of the noblest upon the street, famous already for its many handsome buildings; and as our readers are of course interested in it, not only from their familiarity with the firm but because it adds one more attraction the firm, but because it adds one more attraction to the city, and reflects credit upon it, we have determined to devote some space to a description of it. We may commence by stating that Mesars. Homer, Colladay & Go. built this immense store, into port in the United States ship-of-war Yantic, and immediately visited Mr. De Long, the Ameri-can Consul. Mr. De Long is very ill, and occupied the house and store of Mr. Goorge C. Brown, who is now the acting Consul here. I found in Mr. Brown's house at least 500 Haytian refugees, who were lodged and fed at his expense. Their personal effects were piled up in all the rooms of the house, from the bisement to the attle. Mrs. Brown informed me that Mr. Hollister, at the re-quest of Gen. Domingue, who calls himself the President of the South, had an interview with his Excellency and explained to him the real situation of affairs at Aux Cayes, as he understood it. Mr. Hollister and Mr. De Long begged Domingue to spare the town and first, because their rapidly-increasing business demanded much larger space than they could ob-tain in their old location. Their business began tain in their old location. Their business begau as lorg ago as 1842, and it has developed with legitimate rapidity to its present enormous proportions. The store at Eighth and Chestaut streets was built by the firm, and was thought to be ample enough for any increase that could occur. Events have proved that it is not so. In the next place Messrs Homer Colledow & Co the next place, Messrs. Homer, Colladay & Co. desired to be in the advance guard of that western De Long begged Jomingue to spare the town and to take care of the interests of the foreigners there. The President of the new Republic was movement of trade which is progressing so rapidly, and carrying our largest firms toward the Schuylkill. It will not be long before their there. The President of the new Republic was very polite, but expressed a determination to hold out as long as he could, and to die rather than yield. The, murders committed by this man during the last few, weeks surpass belief. On the 3d of February he sent a large force to the prison where he had in irous many of Salnave's principal adherents, and murdered them all in cold blood. A few were killed in their cells, and the others mean thread horse into the juil ward and shot by the Schuylkill. It will not be long before their new palace will be in the very centre of the retail trade on Chestnut street. It is a matter for con-grainlation that the first large store erected west 'of Broad street is so magnificent—handsomer by far than any similar establishment in Europe. The example is a good one, and will be imitated by other ambitious merchants. DIMENSIONS OF THE BUILDING. The long which the store stands, and by which were turned loose into the jail yard and shot by boys about 15 years old in a manner too horrible to relate. Boys use maskets in such a clumsy way that it sometimes takes them a good while to kill a person with small arms. In several Che strut street, and runs back 232 feet to Salasom street. The building consists of three principal divisions, a three-story front building 60 feet deep; a four-story building, 40 feet deep; and between them a one-story part, 132 feet deep—the roof being plerced by seven large sky-lights, each 4 feet high and 22 feet wide, giving a pure north instances, I am told, twenty shots were fired at one prisoner. The women were more difficult to kill than the men; they struggled and fought for life in the most appailing manner, and the cyc-witnesses say that their shricks and imprecations were heartrending and too frightful to be repre-sented. A nephew of the Haytian Minister to France, General Mentor, who was under medical treatment at the time, was placed in a conspica-ous pesition, and obliged to see his fellow-prison-ers murdered before he found relief. Then he ers murdered before he found relief. Then he was placed in a chair within a few feet of the muzzle of a cannon and blown to pieces with grape-shot. One hundred and "ten persons were massacred in this shocking manner. Mr. Hollister, I am told, saw Mr. Rameau, the Secretary of State of this new Republic, which represents Sal-nave as a tyrant and a murderer, and which has for its motto "Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity." The Captain of the American gunboat, and the Captain of the British ship-of-war Jason, were both present at the interview, but no terms could coupled windows. There is a large circular open-ing in the middle of the second-story and a solid marble principal cornice, with heavy ornamen-ial biosking course. The Sanson street front is constructed of brick, with granite. both present at the interview, but no terms could be made with the Rebeis. It became necessary to take care of the women and children in the to take care of the women and children in the city, and with the consent of Salnave, Capt. Ap-boi, of the Yantic, aided by the British sloop Jacon, towed outside the harbor, in three merchant vessels, about 2,000 persons. This was done with the consent of Salnave, who remarked that he "did not wage war with women or children." The bombard-ment, on account of the non-arrival of the Sal-nave, did not come off according to programma ment, on account of the non-arrival of the S41-nave, did not come off according to programme, and as the persons on board the merchant ships had nothing to eat, President Salnave offered to take them to the rearest port in his possession, and feed and protect them, and return them to the city as soon as he was master of it. His proposal was spurned by the parties interested who all went hack to Aux Gaves to interested, who all went back to Aux Cayes to share the fate of the city. What that will be I can-not say, but our situation is very alarming. The Picquets desire to burn the town for the sake of pillage. Domingue threatens, in case of his de-feat, to lay it in ashes, and the President may be obliged to destroy it with shot and shell before it will surrender. There has recently been an attack made by the Cacos upon Gonaives. They tack made by ine Cacos upon Gonaros. They were repulsed with the loss of about 100 men killed and wounded. It is said that the Cacos at St. Marc have received from the United States a ship-of-war known in our late struggle as the Mount Veruon. It is reported that she brought her hold heavy guns concealed under her ballast .- N. Y. Tribune.

A BIG SNOW STORM .-- Up to the present time we have had a remarkably mild winter. Ice has been exceedingly rare in this locality, and there have been slight spits of snow four or five times. It seems to day as if winter was about to begin A enow storm, something in the old-fashloned style, has been prevailing all day. The flakes began to descend about daylight, and have con-tinued to fail without intermission up to the pre-cent writing and these is account of the tinned to fall without intermission up to the pro-sent writing, and there is every prospect of the storm continuing throughout the day. The atmosphere is very moderate, but the enow lays as it falls, and the ground and heuse-tops are already covered to the depth of about two inches. The snow is wet and heavy, and where it modernes a partix wood freezing. and unless it undergoes a pretty good freezing, there will be very little chance for sleighers. The Possenger Railway Companies have their sweepreserver rativaly comparies have their sweep ing machines in operation, and the tracks are in a much better condition than they were under the old process of salting. The cars are running on all of the roads, without the slightest diffculty.

THE FIFTH POLICE DISTRICT .- Lieut. John G. Connelly, of the Fifth District Police, will retire from the force on Monday next. He resigned several weeks ago, but remained in charge of the district by request of Mayor Fox. He has always given entire satisfaction to the citizens of his disrict, which composes the Seventh and Eighth Wards.

ASSAULT WITH A RAZOR.-Peter Robinson (colored) was before Alderman Bonsall this morning. It is alleged that last night he attacked Andrew Collins (colored), at Eighth and Emeline streets, and, drawing a razor, inflicted an ugly gash across his face. He then ran into a house in the neighborhood, where he was arrested. Robinson was committed in default of $800 bail.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.-Charles Grough weat into a skin-dressing establishment on Canal street, near Germantown avenue, yesterday, and attempted to help himself to some of the skins. He was captured and handed over to a policeman. Ald. Eggleton held the accused in $400 ball to answer at Court.

VIOLATING AN OBDINANCE .- Matthew Murray was arrested vesterday in the Eleventh Ward, for violating the ordinance which requires teams to be kept ten feet apart. He was fined by Alderman Passing through the old hall of the House, on to the right that purports to be of George Washington; and so it is—a fac simile from the origi-nal. It was done by the French artist Houdon, who covered the Father's august head with plaster, leaving two straws in his patriotic nose to breathe through. It is, therefore, as perfect in figure and feature as a work of art can be; and it is amusing to note the effect on the crowd this statue produces. It dwindles the Father. appears as an ordinary man, and not a very striking one at that. The head is small, and the expression of the mouth is damaged by false teeth, that, in that day, were gotten up in a clumsy style, even for the first President; while the legs in the tight breeches startle one, they are so slender. I heard an old lady ask one day: 'Is slender.

I have before me a copy of his great work, and regret that my space will not permit me to make some extracts in illustration of his won-derful style. On the title page I read an indorse-ment from the pea of Harry Lee, of Revolution. fame, to the effect that-"the author has treated his great subject with admirable success in a new way. He turns all the actions of Washington to the encouragement of virtue, by a careful application of numerous exemplifications drawn from the conduct of the founder of our republic, from his carllest life." And the precious, old, plous humbug, not to be at a loss for material, makes up the incidents as he gote along. He created that little hatchet and cherry-tree story out of entire cloth, as he did all the pious incidents of his feeble, yet popdid all the pious incidents of his feeble, yet pop-ular book. Old George was a quick-tempored, profame man, vain of his person, particular about his clothes, fond of fox-hunting and the heavy eating and dricking that accompanied that wild pursuit. In a word, like ail leading men of that day, he imitated the illustrious statesmen and soldiers then famous in Europe, and we know what they were To make hum stern we need not lia about were. him. To make him great we need not lie about him. That he fought through a long, weary, dis-heartening war without breaking down; that he and bitter focs; that he bravely laid down the sword and retired to private life, having, without fall, always done the right thing at the right mo-ment, make up enough for us to admire and love without resorting to feeble lies and pious humbuggery. Let me say, in conclusion, that the good ladies of the Mount Vernon Association deserve credit for the care with which they preserve the prop-erty intrusted to them.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.-About half-past eleven NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—About half-past eleven o'clock last night a man jumped off the Hoboken ferry-boat on the trip to New York. By great exertions on the part of the deck hands, he was drawn out with hooks and ropes. His pockets were filled with coal and stones, intended, doubt-less, to sink him more effectually. When taken up he was quite insensible, and on the boat ar-riving at the Barclay street slip, he was given in charge to the partoman. He is somewhat over middle age. As we have hinted above, Messrs. Homer, Colladay & Co. will introduce several novel features into their establishment. There will be, in the List place, a dress-making establishment, in the bands of the most accomplished artists that can be procured. It will be complete in all its details so that the smallest as well as the most extensive work can be done in it. Ladies can parchase goods at the counters, be measured, fitted and supplied with the finished article with promptness. There will be also a cloak and mantilla department, as of old, excepting that it will be conducted upon a

Another department will be conducted upon a much larger scale than formerly. Another department will be devoted to lingerie, embracing all kinds of underwear for ladies and children. Any article of underclothing will be made to order in the shortest possible time by the best artists, and a large stock of ready-made garments of all descriptions will be kept on hand. Especial attention will be given to furnishing bridal outlits. These will be kept on hand complete, or be made to order.

It is hardly necessary to commend these de-partments to the public. Ladies will appreciate at once the impense advantages to be derived from their existence, and the great trouble and annoyance that will be saved by having them all in one large establishment.

PRICES.

It must not be supposed, however, because of the magnificence of this store, and the extent of its operations, that prices will be any higher than at other places. On the contrary, Messre. Homer, Celladay & Co. claim to offer unusual induce-ments to purchasers of all classes—to those of moderate means as well as to the wealthy. A moderate means as well as to the wealthy. A member of their firm is nearly constantly in Europe, buying direct from the manufacturers in all cases; so that there are no mildle profits to be paid. They buy for cash, invariably, and their customers have thus an opportunity not always offered of obtaining goods at first hands, and with a single reasonable profit upon them.

VARIETIES OF GOODS. The stock erubraces nearly everything that can be desired for clothing the human body. It con-tains silks of every fabric, hue and price; Parls dress goods in novel and fashionable styles; laces of every description; velvets, cloths and cassi other things innumerable. Persons in want of the smallest article will find it here, and can procure it at the most advantageous prices, ---prices which cannot be underbid by any other firm in America.

THE WHOLESALE DEPARTMENT. The wholesale department is not the least im-portant in the establishment. The firm offer to retail dealers a magnificent shock of cloths, silks and dress goods at the most advantageous prices.

ON MONDAY

This establishment will be opened, and we think the public will agree with us in estimating its beauty, the enterprise of its occupants and own-cre, and in regarding it as an ornament and a credit to the city. While we are praising it, it will be but fair to say that the building was delipsed by Mesers. Collins & Autenreith, archi-ects; that it was built by Mr. J. L. Stewart; that desars. Cornelius & Baker attended to the gas ets; that Messrs. Merrick & Son supplied the heavy girders and the hydraulic elevator, and Robert H. Shoemaker furnished the plate that 2 ass.

STEALING AT A RAILWAY DEPOT .-- FOR SOME time past the officers of the Spruce and Pine Streets Passenger Railway Company have been annoyed by theits of iron, &c., committed at the depot. Yesterday Joseph McDevitt and Alexan-der Stophens were caught on the premises. They had in their possession a lot of wheel boxes, from which they were endeavoring to knock the brass. They were arrested, and will have a hearing at the Central Station this afterncon.

PASSING COUNTERFEITS .--- Isaac Henck was arrested last night by Policeman Renard, upon the charge of passing counterfeit 25 cent notes at the charge of passing connected 25 cent notes at a tayern on Market street, above Ninth. At the time of his arrest eight of the bogus notes were found in his possession. Henck had a hearing before U. S Commissioner Smith this morning, and was committed in default of $2,000 bail for trial

Broad Street. Messis. Editorse-The BULLETIN is entitled to our thanks for its persistent efforts to preserve Broad street from the grasp of disinterested benefactors, who, had they dared, would ere this have griddled this noble thoroughfare with rails. But whilst we are contending against one evil, let us take care we do not fall into another; and it is much to be feared that this elegant street, instead of being a quiet, safe drive for our citizens, is likely, from present indications, to degenerate nto a regular, or rather irregular, race course. Knots of idlers now assemble on the corners to see the races, and in front of the "Punch Bowl," at the intersection of Broad street and Turner's for the accommodation of the patrons of the turf. Thanks to Mayor Fox, his police have abated the nuisance so far as it extended over the wooden pavement, but from the end of the pavement to the Norristown Rallroad crossing, and all the wsy up the Township Line road to Germantown, it is not saving too much that it is almost at the risk of life or limb to be caught on these roads towards evening. Yesterday afternoon I was induced to accomabout surdown, on the way home, about four miles from the city, on the new turnpike road. It kept us both busy in looking out behind for what was coming, for all seemed to be testing the speed of their horses, and all were driving at a killing pace. We got along without accident to the Connecting Railroad crossing, when the rapid clatter of hoofs, accompanied with the most un-earthly yclis, admonished us to lose no time in drawing up on the side of the road, when, with the speed of the wind, some half dozen wagons went by with a flash their horses covered with foam, and almost maddened with fright; their drivers leaning far back, with all their strength sawing the mouths of the poor brutes, and jerking them out of a gallop into a trot, and all the while yelling like a parcel of demons, alnost made me wish they would break their necks. It seemed hard to believe I was not among sav-ages instead of in the Christian city of Brotherly ove. When I reached my own door I involun tarily breathed a prayer for preservation from the dangers of the road. This sketch is not colored, and 'tis earnestly to has solven is not colored, and the carnestly to be hoped that if the "Society for the Prevention of Crueity to Animals" cannot abate this nut-sance, our Mayor Fox will. Mayor Henry effectually arrested it in his term in the rural dis tricti. W.

To the Public:- Our attention has been called to a card, which appears in yesterday's But.RSIN. signed by one Charles McGill, cauvasser for Gop 178 Directory, reflect-ing upon the correctness of our work, and all-eine that the same was copied from Gopsill's Directory of last year, which we pronounce an unmitigated faisehood, as references and comparison of the two publications will satisfy the most as optical, and which hundreds of mer-chants will testify to the efforts made by us to have our lists correct by submitting them to their personal exami-nation in their respective branches of trade. We do not claim entire perfection in our work, but we do claim a superior complication and a better classifica-tion than any similar work ever published, and can only account for this attack upon our work as emanating from a non-resident publisher, in view of our intimation in our work that we intend publishing the Giv Directory dext year, and the unpreceduated success of Watson's liveiner-Directory. As far as this Charles McGill is concerned we have our remedy in law against him, and shall not fail to apply it specify. We invite an inspection of our listic volume.
