Congress has adopted the suffrage amendment to the Constitution, and it now goes to cation. The new amendment is very brief. STEINWAY'S PIANOS RECEIVED THE STEINWAY'S PIANOS RECEIVED THE Not it settles the question which has, for gecerations past, laid at the root of the politi-cal agitations of this country. It declares that to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." This amendment opens the way to political equality to all men of all races, who choose to become citizens of the United States. The provision is simple and broad, and if it shall be accepted by the constitutional majority of the State Legislatures, the grand experiment of the capacity of portance will be fairly tested. Time alone can decide the ultimate result. It is for us to give to every man his chance to better his condition, and to enjoy, to the ex ent of his capacity, the blessings of our free institutions. It is for every such man so to use and improve the chance thus given to him, as to ment and the wisdom of those who have now extended to him the boon of unlimited suffrage. _____

Mr. Menard then addressed the House, referring to the fact that Mr. Hunt had not taken the testimony within the time prescribed by the act.
 He sold that if Mr. Hunt did not know the law of Congress, he was a very poor subject to be sent to Congress.
 The point was deemed a good one, and caused some anneement among members.
 He went on to argue the details of the question in an easy, guilet, good-humored style, which attracted the attention and apparent sympathy of a quarter be asked and obtained leave to print a quarter be asked and obtained leave to print the remainder of his remarks in the Globe.
 After he resumed his seat many members approached and congratulated him in a friendly manner.
 Mr. Maynard suggested that as the action of the House in the Case of Mann and Jones, showed that there was a yagancy in the District
