The sudden death of Mr. Henry Hess, the father and endorser of Samuel Hess, yesterday morning, invests the case with a painful interest. There can be no doubt that the excitement con-There can be no doubt that the excitement consequent upon the failure produced this sad catastrophe. The funeral will take place from the late residence of deceased, in West Lampeter township, to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Samuel Hess, who started West on Wednesday night, was intercepted by a telegraphic despatch somewhere on the road and informed the latest takes.

of his father's death. He immediately started upon his return home.

Owing to the suddenness of the death of Mr. Henry Hess, it was deemed advisable to notify the Coroner, which was done, and that officer held an inquest on the remains. The evidence showed that the deceased came to his death from apoplexy, and a verdict was returned accordingly.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

The Supposed Drowning of Five Persons in the Mononganela Giver—Further Particulars of the Affair.

The Pittsburgh Commercial of yesterday says: A special despatch from Morgantown, pubhahed yesterday, stated that five men were sup-posed to have been drowned between that place and Geneva. We have obtained the following adand Geneva. We have obtained the following additional particulars of the affair. It appears that on Friday of last week John McNeeley, a resident of Morgantown, West Virginia, died in Monongahela City, and Mr. E. H. Tower, formerly a resident of Pittsburgh, R. J. Williams and Stockton Harvey, of Monongahela City, took the body of deceased to Morgantown, going up on the Brownsville boat to Geneva, the head of slack-water navigation, and from there across the country to Morgan. to Geneva, the nead of sheet-whet in avigation and from there across the country to Morgantown. On Friday these three gentlemen, together with William Lowe, of Wooster, Ohio, and Beckwith Sears, of, Morgantown, started in a skiff to come down to Geneva, a distance of about twelve miles, to meet the Brownsville boat, on which they expected to come down the river. Nothing has been seen or heard of the party since. Their friends in Monongahela City became alarmed and telegraphed to all points between Morgantown and Geneva, but were unbetween Morgantown and Geneva, but were unable to obtain any information of the missing party. On Monday last the skiff in which they started was found in the river a short distance above Geneva bottom upwards, and a hat, identified as the one worn by Williams, has since been found. The affair has created a great deal of excitement in Monongehala City, and cast a gloom over the entire community. The public generally entertain the opinion that the disappearing parties have all been drowned.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT IN NEW JER-SEY.

An Engine Runs in the River. The Newark Advertiser of yesterday says:-The engine Paterson, attached to an iron-train on the Morris and Essex Railroad, ran off the Hackensack bridge, about nine o'clock this morning. The train was bound east. The engineer and fireman state that owing to the driving, blinding snow, which prevailed during the morning, they were unable, until they had run upon the bridge, to see the usual danger signal, which indicates that the draw is open. The brakes were whistled down and the engine reversed, but the wheels slipped upon the track, and pushed the wheels slipped upon the track, and phases by a long, heavy train, the locomotive ran off the draw into the river. The engineer and driver had sufficient time given them to jump off upon the bridge, barely escaping with their lives. The first car to the rear of the engine-tende broke its coupling, and so was saved. The engine and tender alone were precipitated into the water. They are completely hid out of sight, the water, and mud being, at that point, it is stated. water and mud being, at that point, it is stated, nearly sixty feet deep. The locomotive was a new one, having been in use only about three

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 27th,—The trial of the suit of Mr. Chas. Reade, the English novelist, vs. Mr. Chas. H. Sweetzer and others, publishers of the weekly known as the Round Table, for an alleged libel, growing out of criticisms on the story known as "Griffith Gaunt, or Jealousy," was commenced yesterday in the Supreme Court, Circuit, before Judge Clerke and a jury. The day was mainly occupied by Prof. Geo. Vandenhoff, who, being placed upon the stand, commenced the reading of "Griffith Gaunt." At the hour of adjournment he had read about seventy pages. The trial will be resumed on Monday. The damages are laid at $25,000.

The will of James T. Brady was proved before Surrogate Tucker yesterday. His sister Annie receives $5,000, his brother John a portrait of Washington by Peale, and various articles of jewelry are left to other members of the family. Mr. Brady lived very nearly up to his income, and did not leave much property.

NEW JERSEY MATTERS.

PRUDENT AND IMPRUDENT PROPIR. -These individuals are easily distinguished, especially in the small matter of cleaning snow from their payements. Prudent people, as quick as the snow ceases falling, lose no time in cleaning it away, and thus free the passage in front of their dwellings from slush and dampness. Imprudent people let it remain, to disappear by natural people let it remain, to disappear by natural causes, making their pavements disagreeable and slushy for days, or ley and dangerous, it the weather is cold enough to keep it frozen. A little prudence and the expenditure of a little time and money, in removing snow when it is soft, would confer a blessing upon the community which those who perform such commendable acts would enjoy as much as any one else. CITY NOMINATIONS.—Last evening the Republican party of Camden held their City Convention. A full attendance of delegates was present, and after the regular organization had been effected, the convention proceeded to go into nomination. Charles Cox, the present incumbent, was nominated and selected by acclamation, for Mayor. John Kelley Brown, also present Marchal, was likewise nominated. Both nominations were thereupon made unanimous. The tions were thereupon made unanimous. The Republicans feel determined to let no effort be memployed in the present canvas towards electing their whole ticket. Their ward nominations will be made on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The Election.—The municipal election in Camden takes place on Tuesday, the 9th of

THE COURTS.

Sentence of Joseph M. Bonahue. OTER AND TERMINEE—Judges Ludlow and Browster.—This morning the dock contained three prisoners, brought into Court to receive their sentences upon convictions of various grades of homicide. Surrounded by relatives and friends auxiously awaiting the result of the Judges'deliberations, the scene in Court was a sad

Joseph M. Donahue, convicted of man-slaughter, was visited by his wife, daughter and sister, and had also the presence of Messrs. Gross, Page and W. L. Hirst, Jr., the three counsel who have so carefully watched his interests, since the case was entrusted to their keeping. When case was entrusted to their keeping. When Donahue was called for sontence, Mr. Page made an eloquent appeal for mercy. The prisoner, be said, bowed with submission to the verdict, but the counsel for him asked the Court to pause a moment, and consider the circumstances of the case, before entering judgment. The evidence presented a man, quiet, retired and avoiding contention, attacked in his own home, after being compelled to submit to insult. His adversary was a strong, muscular man, and the character of the wound established that the blow was given inside Donahue's room, and within ten feet of the wall. Mr. Page, in conclusion, urged the Court, while administering justice with a conscious regard of their duty the community, to let mercy plead with them for the prisoner.

Mr. William L. Hirst, Jr., who followed, made a feeling address, setting forth the facts of the case, and appealing to the kind consideration of the Indrees. Here was a defendant against whom Here was a defendant against whom the Judges. Here was a detendant against with there had never before been a charge preferred, whose first appearance in a Court of justice grow out of his effort to protect what he believed to be the sanctity of his home and the reputation of his wife and child. His character of his wife and child. His character was so well known that during the three days of the trial, Mr. Esler, his former employer, sat in court, ready in case of an acquittal to take him back into his employ. He has been a good father and kind husband; industrial of the court of t trious and peaceable, and his removal now from this family leaves them entirely destitute. What shall become of them in his absence, God only knows, for they are dependent upon him for support. At the close of the addresses, which seemed to have produced an effect, the Judge conferred together, after which Judge Ludlow announced that the court had taken the circumstances of the case into consideration. They remembered that the prisoner endeavored to avoid contention, and had retired to his own home and to bed when the deceased, who was in liquor, repeated the insults of the night. The Judge said he did not recollect to have ever tried a case in which there was greater provocation by words than in this case. Words do not justify a killing, but the Court took the facts into consideration, and would impose a sentence such as was required by law. Donahue was then sentenced to two years in the Eastern Penitentiary.

The McKieve Homicide.

Joseph Hart, the lad convicted of manslaughter (with a recommendation to mercy) in causing the death of William McKieve, on the 15th of November last, in West Philadelphia, was next November last, in West Philadelphia, was next called for sentence. Messrs. Kneass and White-sides made an appeal for mercy.

Judge Brewster, who entered judgment, said there appeared to be a growing mawkish state in the community upon the subject of homicide. All nurderers appear to be divided into two classes. One class is where the party escapes conviction through the absence of witnesses, the presention or the invenuity of neglect of the prosecution, or the ingenuity of counsel. This class are called by the public "he-There is another class who do not escape roes." There is another class who do not escape conviction, and who are executed, and they are called "martyrs." It is this sentiment that has led to the exhibition which this case presented.

The Judge then referred to the unprovoked attack made upon Mr. McKieve by a crowd of boys, and his murder on the public highway on a Sunday afternoon, and the fact that the prisoner first need a cinb and then stones, and, when arrested expressed his regret that he had not killed a half dozen more.

Sentenced to two years and four months in the Eastern Penitentiary.

CITY NOTICES.

THE DIFFERENCE IN DRESS between a man of a nee and a fop is, that the fop values himself upon his dress, and the man of sense laughs at i.; at the same time he knows he must not neglect i.. It is a common saying that the "dress makes the man." It same time he knows he must not neglect 1... It is a common saying that the "dress makes the man." It certainly does, so far as your genteel appearance is centerned, which is a very important consideration when you wish to appear in society to the best advantage; for who would telerate a badly-dressed person in circles where fashion is respected? When properly represented, there is no necessity to go lato extremes in dress to be fashionable; a reasonable in circles when material, when it is selected in good taste, is allowed and admired. Awkwardness of carriage is very alienating, and a total negligence of dress and air an impertinent insult upon custom and fashion. Always dress well and in good taste. If you doubt your own judgment in selecting the material for your wardrobe, be sure to secure the aid of an artist whose reputation is well established, and who you are satisfied will dress you as a gentleman of taste and refinement. Such an artist you will be sure to find at the well-known Temple of Fashion,

FIRE-PROOF SAFES.

CHAMPION SAFES GEO. J. HENKELS

PHILADELPHIA, January 18, 1869.

Messrs. FARREL, HERRING & CO., No. 629 CHESTNUT Street. GENTLEMEN: On the night of the 13th instant as is well known to the citizens of Philadelphia, our large and extensive store and valuable stock of merchandise, No. 902 Chestnut st., was burned The fire was one of the most extensive and dethe heat being so intense that even the marble cornice was almost obliterated. We had, as you are aware, two of your valuable and well-known CHAMPION FIRE-PROOF SAFES; and nobly have they vindicated your well known reputation as manufacturers of FIRE PROOF SAFES, if any further proof had structive that has visited our city for many years, been required. They were subjected to the most intense heat and it affords us much pleasure to inform you that after recovering them from the ruins, we found, upon examination, that our books, papers and other valuables were all in perfect condition.

Yours, very respectfully, JAS. E. CALDWELL & CO. P. S.—THE ONLY SAFES THAT WERE EX-POSED TO THE FIRE IN CALDWELL'S STORE

WERE FARREL, HERRING & CO.'S MAKE. PHILADELPHIA, January 18, 1869.

Messrs. FARREL, HERRING & CO., No. 629 CHESTNUT Street. GENTLEMEN: On the night of the 13th instant our large store, S. W. corner of Ninth and Chest nut streets, was, together with our heavy stock of wall papers, entirely destroyed by fire. We had one of your PATENT CHAMPION FIRE-PROOF SAFES, which contained our principal books and papers, and although it was exposed to the most intense heat for over 60 hours, we are happy to say it proved itself worthy of our recommendation. Our books and papers were all preserved. We cheerfully tender our testimonial to the many already published, in giving the HERRING SAFE the credit and confidence it justly merits. Yours, very respectfully, HOWELL & BROTHERS.

STILL ANOTHER. PHILADELPHIA, January 19, 1869. Messrs. FARREL, HERRING & CO.,

629 CHESTNUT Street. GENTLEMEN: I had one of your make of safes in the basement of J. E. Caldwell & Co.'s store, at the time of the great fire on the night of the 13th inst. It was removed from the ruins to-day, and on opening it found all my books, papers, greenbacks, watches, and watch materials, &c., all preserved. I feel glad that I had one of your truly valuable safes, and shall want another of your make when I get located.

Yours, very respectfully, F. L. KIRKPATRICK, with J. E. Caldwell & Co., 819 CHESTNUT Street.
