CITE BULLETIN.

AGAIN IN TROUBLE.—The Democracy of the Twenty-fifth Ward are giving as much trouble as possible to the policemen of the Eighteenth Dispossible to the policemen of the Eighteenth District who resigned last week. Hussey has been before Ald. Devitt again. He was charged with carrying concealed deadly weapons, and was held in $1,500 ball. Hussey and Samuel Baxter, another ex-policeman, were on their way home last week, after resigning. While walking along Richmond street they were grossly insulted by a mob. Baxter attempted to resent the insult, when he was knocked down, beaten, kicked and jumped upon. He was so seriously injured that he is yet confined to his bed. In order to intimidate the assallants Hussey drew his revolver, but none of the barrels were loaded. Upon tuis fact the additional charge is based. It is understood that Baxter will be arrested and taken before Ald. Devitt as soon as he is able to leave his house:

PROBABLE HOMICIDE.—On Saturday evening, between 8 and 9 o'clock, two Germans named Joseph Doll and — Welss, were in a lager Joseph Doll and — Welss, were in a lager beer saloon at Thirty-second and Thompson streets. They got into a quarrel and Doll seized a stave from a barrel andbeat Welss upon the head with it. Welss was so badly injured that his life is despaired of. Alter committing the murderous assault, Doll fied. An account of the affair was reported at the Ninth District Police Station, about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and Lieutenant Loveaire detached Sergeant Atkinson and a squad of men to look after the assailant. He was traced along the line of the Reading Railroad and was captured about three miles below Phonix-ville. He was brought back to the city, and after a hearing before Alderman Pancoast, was coma hearing before Alderman Pancoast, was committed in default of $2,000 bail.

ANOTHER RUSH. The hungry Democrats who bave a partiality for blue clothes with brass buttons and metallic shields, are not very good at tons and metallic shields, are not very good at taking hints. Mayor Fox intimated pretty plainly on Saturday that applicants for police appointments would diminish their chances of success by loitering about the office, waiting for an interview with him. Notwithstanding this announcement of the Mayor, there was another rush of applicants to his office this morning, and by ten o'clock the large room was filled by the office-seekers. When the Mayor emerged from his private office to receive the reports of the Lieutenants, he cast an indignant look upon the assemblage, and many of the individuals composing the crowd immediately sneaked out of the apartment. the apartment.

BROAD STREET.—The fine weather yesterday afternoon caused North Broad street to present a very lively appearance. During the entire aftervery lively appearance. During the entire afternoon the sidewalks were lined with promenaders.
An indvidual made his appearance on a velocipede and attracted much attention. A large number of carriages were out. There was no racing or disorder visible. The presence of a strong police force, under Day Sergeant Adam Reese, has had the effect of abolishing the imprompta trials of speed which were frequently indulged in on the Nicolson pavement, which was found to be so well adapted for that kind of amusement.

ALLEGED WIFE BRATER.-Hugh F. Kelley, re_ siding at 719 North Thirteenth street, was ar. rested on Saturday night, by Policeman Wolfington, and taken before Alderman Massey, upon the charge of abusing his family, threatening the life of his wife, and smashing the furniture. Mur-der was cried from the house, and the officer was compelled to enter the premises through the second story window, which he reached by means of a ladder. Kelley was held in $600 ball BEAT HIS WIFE .- William Ewing, residing in the neighborhood of Twenty-first and Christian streets, was arrested on Saturday, and taken before-Recorder Givin, upon the charge of having beaten his wife. It is alleged that he abused her in a shameful manner. He was committed in default of $2,500 bail, to answer at Court.

TILL TAPPING.—Charles Davis went into a tavern, at Sixth and Lombard streets on Saturday night, and called for a class of ale. When the proprietor went into the cellar Davis helped himself to $3 from the money drawer. He was arrested, and Alderman Carpenter committed him for trial.

ROBBERY ON SHIPBOARD .- John Battery was arrested yesterday by Policeman Kelley, of the he charge of having stolen $20 from the forecastle of a vessel lying at Shippen Street Wharf. He was taken before Alderman Garpenter, and was committed for trial.

LARCENY.-Matthew Larkins was arrested yesterday by Harbor Policeman Lex upon the charge of the larceny of a cost from a canal boat lying near Noble Street wharf. He was committed by Ald. Shoemaker.

More Rescues .- John O'Brian and Benj. Hart were prevented from walking into the Delaware at Callowhill and Willow street wharves, yesterdaymorning, between one and two o'clock, by Officer Morris, of the Harbor Police.

AN OWNER WANTED .- A lot of pig-iron, supposed to have been stolen, was found on Dickerson street wharf on Saturday, and awaits an owner at the Second District Police Station.

A Shor Thier. Mary Dunkey was caught in the act of stealing a pair of shoes from a stere at Sixth and Spruce streats, on Saturday evening. Ald. Carpenter sent her to prison.

THE SEATING RINKS.—The ice at the Mammoth Skating Rink at Twenty-first and Race streets is now in splendid condition. The skaters were out in ful force during Saturday afternoon and evening. Many ladies were on the Ice, and the geene was a brilliant one. There was also an interesting exhibition of velocipedes. This evening no doubt there will be another rush of visitors, as the weather this winter has been very treacherous towards the rinks, and the mercury in the thormometers has already commenced to ascend. There may not be another opportunity to enjoy a skate.

The Chestnut Street Skating Rink was opened on Saturday evening, and was well attended. A band of music was present. The ice is in fine condition to-day, and the skating is excellent.

$1,000 REWARD FOR THE COUNTERFEITER
OF HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.
HOW TO DETECT IT.
The genuine has the name blown in the bottles,
while the counteriet has not.
And the contexts are not at all similar to the genuine, but of lighter color. In fact it is a most miserable imitation in this respect, and possesses no medicinal qualities whatever, but seems to be filled with some simple decoction. The counterfeit has been found in four different drug stores in this city within a week. I will appreciate the kindness of dealers if they will examine their stock at once and report.
GREAT INJUSTICE MAY BE DONE TO PATIENTS.
I look to draggists for protection. Patients that have been wing the genuine readily detect the spurious, and in three distinct cases they called at the store.
Notwithstanding the cruggists in each case having assured them of the genuineness of the article, they may have rooken conscientiously.

The Pall Mall Gasette says:

M. Gounod, who passed the winter at Rome working at his "Francesca di Rimini," has now, we are told, returned to Paris to superintend the rehearsals of the new "Faust," which, in its latest development, becomes a French "grand opera," or opera supplemented by a ballet. Appropriate ballet scenes for the new "Faust" at once suggest themselves. First, there is the "Walpurgis Night," of which a good deal was made (Mendelssohn's music aiding) at Drury Lane, in the very original adaptation of "Faust" produced at that theatre two or three years ago. Then there is the apparition of "Helen in the second part of "Faust," upon which Helne based a whole series of ballet scenes in his "Mephistophelia," originally designed for Her Majesty's Theatre. Heine went to the Scriptures as well as to the classics for heroes and heroines of the dance—King David was to have figured in one scene, and Salome, the daughter of Herodias, in another; but the ballet-master who is arranging the dancing scenes of M. Gounod's "Faust" confines himself to the "goddess of antiquity." Three magnificent set scenes have been prepared for the remodelled work. The most brilliant of these represents the "Palace of Mephistopheles." Gounod's New "Faust,"

The Arabs in Spain. In the days of the patriarch Jacob, the peo-ple of Arabia were far enough advanced in civilization to maintain an active overland trade with Egypt. The Midianites, mer-chantmen, to whom Joseph was sold for twenty pieces of silver—about a dozen dollars were from Arabia. Yet for more than two thousand years after that time the Arabs continued divided into so many hostile clans

that they were almost unknown to history. The religion of Mohammed first united them. The history of the Arabs really commences with the Hegira or Flight of the Prophet from Mecca (A. D. 622.) For ten years Mohammed had proclaimed his new them. creed in Mecca. His followers had been few. and he had suffered incessant persecution. And now he was promised, at a secret meeting, by men from Medina, that if he would flee to that city his faith should be adopted and maintained. He made his escape from Mecca, though not without great risk, and reached Medina in safety, accompanied by a single friend. In Mecca he had preached patience and resignation to the wrongs inflicted by man. At Medina he had supporters, and his doctrine was, that one drop of blood shed in the cause of God-meaning the new faith, of course—was to be of more avail than two months of fasting and prayer. He first made war upon the caravan trade of his native city. Mecca sent out an army to meet him. Mohammed had but three hundred and twenty-four combatants; the Meccans were a thousand. But the Prophet assured his followers that three thousand angels were fighting on his side; and with this auxiliary force he utterly routed the enemy. After this, his first victory, conquest followed conquest in rapid succession. In less than a century from the Hegira, Arabia was but a small province of the empire which had been founded by his successors, an empire that extended from the Indus to the Atlantic, and included Syria, Phonicia, Meso-potamia, Persia, Bactriana, Egypt, Libya, Numidis, Spain and many important islands of the Mediterranean. How the Arabs were invited into Spain by Count Julian, a relative of the dethroned King Witiza, and how king Roderic was defeated and slain at Xeres de la Frontera, has already been related. After that battle the Arabs, or Moors, as they are also called, almost immediately took possession of the whole country, except Biscay, Navarre, an angle of Aragon, and the mountains of the Asturias. Here a few resolute spirits among the Goths made a stand, under Pelayo, and established a king-dom, a stronghold which enabled the Christians, step by step, to recover the lost territory, until after nearly eight centuries the last foot of Spanish soil was redeemed from the yoke of the Moslems. During more than forty years after the conquest, Moorish Spain was ruled by viceroys, dependent on the caliphs, who reigned at Damascus. This was a time of discord and civil war, and towards its close many a village and city was laid in ruins, never to rise again. -Oliver Optic's Magazine.

A Reminiscence of a Poet In the spring of 185— I was a student out of health and out of funds. To be sure there was nothing remarkable in that, for students are apt to be in that way. But it led me to ramble towards the sea, and that took me through Amesbury, the home of Whittier. I carried the universal black bag, filled with 'pins, needles, thimbles, sewing-silk," &c., which served me instead of a purse; to all intents and purposes, then I was a de facto peddler, a class of individuals not generally mentioned the same day with the minister, nor thought much of in comparison with quarterly meetings.

When I came into Amesbury I was tired and hungry, with a long day's walk without a dinner. I had little money in my pockets, so I depended on the bag. It was near dark, and Saturday night. So I began the inquiry for an abiding place for the Sabbath; but what right had 1, a peddler, to expect any family to put themselves out to accommodate me? "There was a good hotel in the place." But with me a hotel was out of the question. And so I trudged on: and got substantially the same reply from all. At length I turned into Friend street. I had entirely forgotten that the "Quaker poet" lived in the town. And in going on indis-criminately in my applications, I approached a neat cottage, embowered in shrubbery, and the yard adorned with flowers, and through an open window I observed a table piled up wi'h books and newspapers. "Probably a lawyer or a minister," said I, "little luck for me here." I rang the bell, and a tall, spare man, with prominent features and mild countenance, opened the door. From the portraits I had seen, I recognized him in a moment. I had stumbled upon the poet.

"Good evening, young man," he said.

I responded. But I was abashed, and, observing a hesitation in my manner, he invited The benevolence in his voice gave me assurance.

"I am a peddler, sir," said I, "in pursuit of a place to spend the Sabbath." Quier and soothe the pain of children teething.

unfortunately there is a quarterly meeting of Friends here, and I have my beds all full. But there is a good man lives in that house (pointing) who will. But you look tired,"

said he, "are you well?"
I confessed I was not.
"I think Mr. Barnard will do well by you," said he; "if he cannot, come back to me. I am sorry to send you any further. It is a I went to Mr. Barnard's, presented my request, and was at once received. But I had scarcely disposed of my bag and hat when Whittier came in.

"You looked so pale, young man", said he, "that I felt I had not done right, and came on after you lest you should be compelled to walk further. I happened to think I could sleep on the sofa myself."

He then sat down and talked with me for an hour, while the good wife was preparing supper, as if I had been an equal. I was in fact, for he compelled me to be. He would not even receive my thanks for his kindness. The next morning, he invited me with him to their meeting, at the plain wooden meeting-house on the edge of the wood near the village. He showed me all the conveniences of the house, how they divided it by a slid-ing partition, &c. He then took me into his seat, and sat down with his hat on. Plain, intelligent, prim-looking men, tidy women and neat children came in and sat down quietly. There was never a doubt what each one had on; they were all dressed plainly and alike. And there we sat till the word was spoken. As we separated at the gate of Mr. B.'s yard he bade me the kindest of good days, and I stood and gazed after him with more admiration and reverence than I ever felt fo any other great man .- Cor. Springfield

UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD

ARE NOW COMPLETED

As 500 miles of the western portion of the line, begin ning at Sacramento, are also done, but

200 MILES REMAIN

To be Finished, to Open the Grand Through Line to the Pacific. This Opening will certainly take place early this season.

Besides a donation from the Government of 12,800 acres of land per mile, the Company is entitled to a subsidy in U. S. Bonds on its line as completed and accepted, at the average rate of about $26,500 per mile, according to the difficulties encountered, for which the Government takes a second lien as security. Whether subsidies fare given to any other companies or not, the Government will comply with all its contracts with the Union[Pacific Railroad Company. Nearly the whole amount of bonds to which the Company will be entitled have already been delivered.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

AT PAR

AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

By its charter, the Company is permitted to issue it wn FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS to the same amount as the Government Bonds, and no more. These Bonds are a First Mortgage upon the entire road and all its equip-

THEY HAVE THIRTY YEARS TO RUN, AT SIX PER CENT., and both

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST

PAYABLE IN GOLD.

Such securities are generally valuable in proportion to the length of time they have to run. The longest six per cent, gold interest bonds of the U. S. (the '81's) will be due in 12 years, and they are worth 112. If they had 39 years o run, they would stand at not less than 125. A perfectly safe First Mortgage Bond like the Union Pacific should approach this rate. The demand for European invest ment is already considerable, and on the completion of the work will doubtless carry the price to a large pre-

SECURITY OF THE BONDS.

It needs no argument to show that a First Mortgage of 826,500 per mile upon what for a long time must be the only railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States is PEEFECTLY SECURE. The entire amount of the mortgage will be about $20,000,000, and the interest $1,800,000 per annum in gold. The present currency cost of this interest is less than $2,500,000 per annum, while the gross earnings for the year 1868, FROM WAY BUSINESS only. OR AN AVERAGE OF LESS THAN 700 MILES OF ROAD IN OPERATION, WERE MORE THAN

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS.

The details of which are as follows: Freight. 2,040,283 19 Express...... 51,423.08 Miscellaneous...... 91,626 27 Government troops...... 104,077 77 freight..... 449,440 33 Contractors' men...... 201,179 09 "/ material..... 968,430 32

This large amount is only an indication of the immen traffic that must go over the through line in a few months, when the great tide of Pacific coast travel and trade wil begin. It is estimated that this business must make the earnings of the road from FIFTEEN TO TWENTY MILLIONS A YEAR.

As the supply of these Bonds will soon cease, parties who desire to invest in them will find it for their interest to do so at once. The price for the present is par and accrued interest from Jan. 1, in currency.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP WAS ISSUED OUT. ist, containing a report of the progress of the work to that date, and a more complete statement in relation to the value of the bonds can be given in an advertisement which will be sent free on application.
