St. Mark's, Florida, March 11, 1869.—Colonel Stockton, of Pennsylvania, arrived from the Cuban rebel camps bearing the enclosed message from the chief of the rebels to President Graut. After some delay and difficulty I procured the enclosed copy, which rapid copying may have enclosed copy, which rapid copying may have made alightly incorrect. The Colonel gives the most encouraging accounts of the prospect and future of the rebels, but his report will probably reach you before this by telegraph.

To His Excellency the President of the United States—Six:—The people of Cuba, by their Grand Sopreme Civil Junta and through their General-in-Chief, Senor Cespedes, desire to submit to your Excellency the following, among other reasons, why your Excellency, as President of the United States, should accord to them belligerent rights and a recognition of their independence:

Because from the hearts of nineteen-twentieths of the inhabitants of the island of Cuba go up prayers for the success of the armies of the republic; and from the sole and only want of arms and ammunition these patient people are kept prayers for the success of the armies of the republic; and from the sole and only want of arms and ammunition these patient people are kept under the tyrannical yoke of Spain. The unalimity of the masses of the people for the republished lic is ominous.

Because the republic have armies numbering over 70,000 men actually in the field and doing duty. These men are organized and governed on the principles of civilized wariare. The prisoners whom they take—and so far they have prisoners whom they take—and so far they have taken three times as many as their enemies have from them—are treated in every respect as the prisoners of war are used and treated by the most civilized nations of the earth. In the hope of recognition by the United States, they have never yet in a single instance retailsted death for death, even in cases of the most provoking nature.

Because the Spanish authorities have almost invariably brutally murdered the soldiers of the armies of the republic who have surrendered to them, and have recently issued an official order requiring their military forces hereafter instantly to kill and murder every prisoner of the republic requiring their military forces hereafter instantly to kill and murder every prisoner of the republic who surrenders. This is done, the order cheerfully tells us, "to save trouble and vexation to the Spanish civil authorities." This is an outrage the civilized nations of the earth ought not to allow.

Because the United States is the nearest civilized nation to Guba, whose political institutions atrike a responsive chord in the hearts of all Cubans. The commercial and financial interests of the two peoples being largely identical and reciprocal in their natures Cuba earnestly appeals for the unquestionable right of recegaition.

Because the arms and authority of the republic

Because the arms and authority of the republic of Cuba now extend over two-thirds of the entire geographical area of the island, embracing a very great majority of the population in every part of

Because she has a navy in course of construc-the island.

Because she has a navy in course of construction which will excel in point of numbers and reficiency that heretofore maintained by the Spanish authorities in these waters.

Because these facts plainly show to the world that this is not a movement of a few discontents, but the grand and sublime uprising of a people thirsting for liberty, and determined with this last effort to secure to themselves and their posterity those unquestioned rights—liberty of conscience and freedem of the individual.

Finally, because she is following but in the footseps of Spain herself in endeavoring to banish tyrannical rulers, and in their stead place rulers of her own choice. The people of Cuoa, having a tenfold more absolute and potent right than Spain had, because Cuba's rulers are sent without her voice or consent by a foreign country, accompanied by and with various offices created only for their individual comfort, drawing their sustenance and support from the hard earnings of the natives of the soil.

Allow us to add, with the greatest diffidence and sensitiveness, that the difference between the rebellion in the United States and the present revolution in Cuba is simply that in the former a small minority rebelled against laws which they had a voice in making and the privilege of repealing, while in the case of Cuba we are resisting a foreign power in crushing us to the earth, as they have done for centuries, with no appeal but that of arms open to us, and appointing, without our knowledge, voice, advice or consent, tyrannical clitzens of their own country to rule us and eat our substance.

"Patria y libertad!" ns and eat our substance.

"Patria y libertad!"
Approved by the Supreme Junta and ordered promulgated by Senor General Cherebers. Commander-in-Chief Republican Forces of Cubs HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, March 1, 1869.

The Proposed Protectorate—Bestre of President Baez.

Kingsron, Jamaica, Feb. 26, 1869.—You have, of course, read of the move in the United States KINGSTON, Jamaica, Feb. 26, 1869.—You have, of course, read of the move in the United States Congress for offering "protection, alias annexation, to the people of the island." This is understood here, on the faith of letters from Washington, to be a collateral step with the projected acquisition of Cuba and Porto Rico, "with or without the consent of Spain, as events shall decide," says one high in official rank. Baez, however, will take no step in advance. He would prefer a general alliance between these islands, under treaty recognition and friendly countenance of all the leading Powers of Europe and America. This he has invariably and publicly stated, and, in pledge of his good faith, he proposed to make Samana a free and neutral port, if three or four of the great Powers would agree to make it the entrepot of their subsidized mail steamers. And this is most likely to be done. The country was startled last month by reports of a rising in the interior province of Seybo, but it was an insignificant affair, easily put down without bloodshed, though several prisouers were brought into the city for trial. You may be surprised to hear that, with all the reports of revolts, &c., there was not a serious commotion in any part of the Dominican territory, except the usual and noverthat, with all the reports of revolts, &c., there was not a serious commotion in any part of the Domnitcan territory, except the usual and neverending Caco forays over the borders of Haytl, in the whole of 1868. Just at its close the less than 200 insurgents at Seybo issued their proclamos and then disappeared so completely that the government soldiers had some trouble to pick up a score of fuglities as trophies of victory.

Washinoton, Sunday, March 14, 1869.—The supposition that Attorney-General Hoar's appointment to the Cabinet was intended to be of a temporary character, is not warranted by anything that the President has said or done before or since it was made. Many of the politicians are troubled by the fact that one State has two members of the Cabinet, and some friends with bers of the Cabinet, and some friends with whom the President consulted about the appointment thought he might be embarrassed by the choice of Judge Hoar, and desire to choose Mr. Bontwell, but he himself said at the time that this difficulty of giving two places to one State was among the least of the difficulties he had to encounter, and the idea that Judge Hoar should retire to made room for Mr. Boutwell was not of his suggestion. When Judge Hoar first talked with the President after arriving here, he said that he had no wish but to serve the country and would do whatever the President desired and would do whatever the President desired him to do. He was answered that the President had no desire except that he should qualify, and at once enter upon the active duties of his office. Judge Hoar did this, and is rapidly learning his work. There is the best reason for eaying that the President has no intention at present of superseding him. The question of locality, he says, is of far less comes of than the question of fitness, and Judge. quence than the question of fitness, and Judge Hoar is already proving himself a fit man for the place given him. His footing in the Caoinet is now as sure as that of any other man, and neople therefore need not worry themselves to find a new office for him, or pick out a new man for the Attorney-General-bite

BEMOVAL OF THE REMAINS OF BISHOPS EGAN AND CORNWELL.

Solemn Pontifical Mass. A solemn Pontifical Mass was celebrated this morning at the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, on the occasion of the removal of the remains of Right Reverend Michael Egan, first mains of Right Reverend Michael Egan, aret Bishop of Philadelphia, and Right Reverend Henry Cornwell, second Bishop of Philadelphia, to the vaults under the Cathedral Sanctuary, in the rear of the main altar.

At the hour named the funeral procession moved into the building. The remains were placed in neat cedar coffins, bearing the inscription of the names of the deceased, and dates of death. These arrangements were under the care of Simon Gartland.

of Simon Gartland.

Among the clergy present were the following:
Rt. Rev. Jeremiah Shanahan, D. D., Bishop of Harrisburg; Rt. Rev. William O'Harra, D. D.,
Bishop of Scranton; Rt. Rev. P. A. Lynch, D. D.,
Bishop of Charleston, S. C.

Pontifical Mass was sung by Rt. Rev. J. F.
Wood, Bishop of Philadelphia, assisted by the following: Very Rev. C. J. H. Carter, Assistant Priest; Very Rev. M. A. Walsh, V. G., and Deacons of Honor, Very Rev. P. Nagent, V. G., Rev. P. Reilly, of St. John's Church; Rev. P.
Carbon, Deacons of Mass.

The music was of a very solemn character. It was under the direction of, Michael H. Cross, organist of the Cathedral, and, instead of modern ganist of the Cathedral, and, instead of modern music, plain or Gregorian chant was used during the entire service. The service.

The service was preached by Rt. Rev. P. Lynch, Bishop of Charleston, S. C.. The speaker reviewed the history of the deceased, holding up as examples worthy of imitation their holy living and the good work accomplished by them in business. half of the Church. The sermon was an extem-poraneous and masterly effort. After the sermon the solemn absolution of the bodies was performed by each of the four Blahops in succession.

During this solemn ceremony the following prayer was recited in the Latin language:

ing prayer was recited in the Latin language:
"Enter not into judgment with thy servant, O
Lord, for no one shall be justified in thy sight, except thou vouchsafe to grant him the remission of all his sine. Let not, therefore, we beseech thee, the sentence of thy judgment fall upon him. whom the true supplication of Christian faith recommendeth to thee; but by the assistance of Thy grace let him escape the judgment of Thy vengeance, who, whilst he was living, was marked with the sign of the holy Trinity; who livest and reignest for ever and ever.

Amen."
The office for the dead was then intoned by the officiating Bishop, and the responses were made by the choir, after which the absolution of the body was performed by the Bishop.

Prayer was then again offered up. The clergy then proceeded around the Cathedral aisles to the vault, when the blessing of the vault in which the bodies of the Bishops were deposited, took place. The following inscriptions are on the marble tablets enclosed in the vaults: MICHAEL EGAN, O. S. F.

in mourning, the work having been performed by temales at an early hour this morning. ST. PATRICE'S DAY .- The anniversary of the birth of St. Patrick, the Patron Saint of Ireland, occurs to-morrow. Popular legends have ascribed to St. Patrick many miraculous achievements, among which was the banishment of all venomous reptiles from Ireland by means of a croisier, or staff, which is said to have been preserved with great veneration in Dablin as late as served with great veneration in Dublin as late as the year 1390. According to the best authorities the life of St. Patrick was a very eventful one; some state that he was born in Gaul in 372, but the greatest number agree that he was born at the mouth of Clyde, in Scotland, in 372, and died at Down, in Uister, about the year 464. In the year 482 he began his missionary labors in Ireland, and preached the Gospel with wonderful effect. While preaching to the Irish he used the shamrock or clover, with its three leaves on one stem, to illustrate the Trin-

Irish he used the shamrock or clover, with its three leaves on one stem, to illustrate the Trinity; this accounts for its adoption by the Irish nation as its emblem. Perhaps no missionary ever accomplished a greater work than St. Patrick, or one more productive of good results; his life was passed in a rude age, and is consequently much obscured by tradition.

The day will be duly observed in this city. Solemn Pontifical Mass will be celebrated in the morning at St. Patrick's church, by the late pastor of that congregation, Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton. The panegyric of the Saint will be delivered by Bishop Lynch, of Charleston, S. C.

FIRE-PROOF SAVES. CHAMPION SAFES

mhis stroi

PHILADELPHIA, January 18, 1869. Mesers. FARREL, HERRING & CO.

No. 629 CHESTNUT Street. GENTLEMEN: On the night of the 18th instant. as is well known to the citizens of Philadelphia, our large and extensive store and valuable stock of merchandize. No. 902 Chestnut st., was barned. The fire was one of the most extensive and dostructive that has visited our city for many years, the heat being so intense that even the marble cornice was almost obliterated. We had, as you are aware, two of your valuable and well-known CHAMPION FIRE-PROOF SAFES; and nobly have they vindicated your well known reputation as manufacturers of FIRE-PROOF SAFES, if any further proof had

They were subjected to the most intense heat, and it affords us much pleasure to inform you that after recovering them from the ruins, we found, upon examination, that our books, papers and other valuables were all in perfect condition. Yours, very respectfully,

JAS. E. CALDWELL & CO. P. 8.—THE ONLY SAFES THAT WERE EX-POSED TO THE FIRE IN CALDWELL'S STORE WERE FARREL, HERRING & CO.'S MAKE.

PHILADELPHIA, January 18, 1869.

Messrs. FARREL, HERRING & CO., No. 629 CHESTNUT Street GENTLEMEN: On the night of the 13th instant our large store, S. W. corper of Ninth and Chest nut streets, was, together with our heavy stock of wall papers, entirely destroyed by Gre.

We had one of your PATENT CHAMPION FIRE-PROOF SAFES, which contained our principal books and papers, and although it was exposed to the most intense heat for over 60 hours, we are nappy to say it proved itself worthy of our recommendation. Our books and papers were all preserved. We cheerfully tender our testimonial to the many already published, in giving the HERRING SAFE the credit and confidence it justly merits. Yours, very respectfully, HOWELL & BROTHERS.

STILL ANOTHER.

PHILADELPHIA, January 19, 1869. Messis. FARREL, HERRING & CO., 629 CHESTNUT Street.

GENTLEMEN: I had one of your make of safes in the basement of J. E. Caldwell & Co.'s store, at the time of the great fire on the night of the 13th inst. It was removed from the rains to-day, and on opening it found all my books, papers, greenbacks, watches, and watch materials, &c., all preserved. I feel glad that I had one of your truly valuable safes, and shall want another of your make when I get located. Yours, very respectfully,

F. L. KIRKPATRICK, with J. E. Caldwell & Co., 819 CHESTNUT Street.
