Remarkable Result of a Trial for Murder in Maryland. (From the Baltimore American, March 23.) On Christmas Eve last, at Cumberland, Md., a gang of ruffians broke into the Colored Methodist Church in that city, where a fair was being held by the members of the congregation, and without any provocation murdered a colored man named Wesley Ross, who was attending the fair with his wife and child. The assassins and their accomplices, "ultra nigger-haters" and active Democratic partisans, were arrested, taken before a magistrate, and during their examination deliberately walked out of the Magistrate's office. The State's Attorney, who then again taken into custody, and George W. Sills and John McGirr were indicted by the Grand Jury of Allegany county for murder, and another of the gang, Thomas Sammons, was indicted there on the charge of assault with intent to kill, but was acquitted. With this fact before him, and it being evident that justice would not be awarded the alleged murderers, and a fair trial had in Allegany, the State's Attorney had the cases of McGirr and Sills removed to the Circuit Court of Washington county, where the trial, if such it can be called, took place last week. The prosecution were nearly all colored persons, but they had been eye-witnesses to the tragedy. One testified to having seen Sills and McGirr enter the church on the night of the murder—Sills with knife in his hand, and McGirr with a razor. This testimony was corroborated by several persons. Three witnesses, who were standing in the immediate vicinity of the murdered man, testified to having seen "Sills cut Ross," and to McGirr striking him immediately afterward, and jumping upon and trampling his body when he fell to the floor from loss of blood. Upon this indisputable testimony the State rested its case. The evidence for the prisoners was that principally of the parties who were engaged in the outrage. They testified that "a strange man" entered the church with intent to kill, and saw him leave after the murder was accomplished. Of course they did not know who the "strange man" was. It will hardly be believed, in the face of positive evidence, that the guilt of the prisoners, that a Washington county jury, after thirty minutes' deliberation, rendered a verdict of "not guilty," and let these ruffians again loose upon society.

CITY BULLETIN. DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN.—We regret to record the death of Mr. Alexander M. Walkinshaw, which occurred at his residence, this morning. Mr. Walkinshaw has been in failing health for several years past, but his death was very unexpected, as he was engaged in his regular business. Mr. Walkinshaw has been widely known in Philadelphia ever since the organization of the Republican party, as one of its most active and influential members. He was closely identified with the "workingmen" among the Republicans of Philadelphia. He has occupied many positions of importance and responsibility among which was that of Deputy Collector of the port under Col. Wm. B. Thomas. He was one of the secretaries of the National Union Club, and also in several campaigns of the City Executive Committee. Since the last general election he has been earnestly engaged in the prosecution of the contested election cases, and has rendered important services in that relation. Mr. Walkinshaw was a gentleman who won strong friends, on all sides, by his quiet, pleasant, but earnest manners, and his devoted adherence to the principles which he adopted at his entrance upon manhood. His sudden death will be deeply regretted by a wide circle of personal friends and political associates.

Successful Swindling Operations.—Samuel Watson was arrested yesterday, at Ninth and Green streets, by Policeman Dunlap, of the Eighth District, upon the charge of obtaining money and goods under false representations. He seems to have been operating quite extensively. His plan has been to make purchases, and direct the articles to be sent to certain places. Upon the arrival of the goods he would tell the messenger that he would have to return to the store and get the change, making the difference between the amount of the bill and a $20 note. When the change was brought, Watson would take it, pretend to go into the office to get his greenback and then disappear, leaving the messenger minus the money. He never took the articles purchased. At the hearing before Ald. Massey several charges were preferred against him. From E. C. Hamill, No. 900 Spring Garden street, he purchased a trunk and pocketed $14 50; from Wilhelm Schneider, dealer in woodenware, No. 724 North Second street, he got $10 07; from J. E. Collier, dealer in woodenware, No. 311 North Second street, $16 78; from Thomas Brothers, hardware store, Ridge avenue and Green streets, $16 75; from John M. Melloy, tinmith, 725 Market street, $17; and from George Price, tinmith, No. 814 E. Third street, $10 00. Frick's messenger had the full amount of change, and passed it to Watson, expecting that his bill would be paid out of it. The accused was held in $2,000 bail to answer.

A Desperate Fellow.—Johnson Kelley, who frequently gets into the hands of the police on different charges, amused himself last evening by assaulting nearly every person who passed along Locust street between Eighth and Ninth. One old, infirm colored man was struck in the back and was severely injured. The drawers of the assault were returned, and Kelley got his head pretty well punched two or three times. He was finally arrested by two policemen, but he made a desperate resistance, and it required the greatest exertions of the officers and two citizens to bring him to the Station-House. On the way Mr. John Bunn, one of the citizens, was pretty roughly handled by the prisoner. Kelley will have a hearing at the Court Station this afternoon.

Threats.—Dennis Mead, Philip Thomas, Charles Alexander and John Alexander were before Ald. Kerr last evening, upon the charge of breach of the peace. It seems that they went into the saloon of Mr. Philip J. Lauber, several glasses of beer, and indulged in a frolic, which led to a disturbance, and Thomas knocked a hole through the large and valuable glass in the door of the saloon. The drawers of the party were returned, and Kelley got his head pretty well punched two or three times. He was finally arrested by two policemen, but he made a desperate resistance, and it required the greatest exertions of the officers and two citizens to bring him to the Station-House. On the way Mr. John Bunn, one of the citizens, was pretty roughly handled by the prisoner. Kelley will have a hearing at the Court Station this afternoon.

Robbery.—The house of Patrick Finley, No. 700 Pine street, was entered last evening, as is supposed, through a front second-story window, which was reached by climbing up the awning-post on the sidewalk. The drawers of the bureau were ransacked, and from one in the third-story a gold watch and $162 were stolen.

HOWARD ROBBERY.—John Quinn and Charles Meanon were arrested yesterday on Filiter street, below Second, upon the charge of highway robbery. It is alleged that on Sunday morning they attacked a gentleman who was walking with a child along Second street, near Berks, knocked him down and robbed him of his watch and $1.50. At a hearing this morning before Alderman Helms, the prisoners were fully identified as the robbers, and were committed for trial.

OWNERS WANTED.—The Fifth District Police detective in search for a horse-blanket found at Broad and Spruce streets. At the Second District Station House there is a firkin of butter, which is supposed to have been stolen, and was found in an alley on Monroe street, near Second.

THE LINCOLN INSTITUTION.—President Grant has paid the Lincoln Institution of this city the compliment of appointing its Captain, Jennes Kendall Dexter, a midshipman "at large" of the United States Navy.

THE ITALIAN OPERA SEASON.—CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG and MAD. LA GRANGE.—The brief season of opera commencing on the 31st proximo promises to be one of the most brilliant upon record, and will doubtless be a notable one, from the fact that the very limited period of nine nights will witness the farewell operatic representation of two of the greatest Italian artists of the age, Clara Louise Kellogg, America's gifted bird of song, whose warblings have both entranced the admirers of music in this land and the old world, will once more charm us by her melodious voice, and Mad. La Grange, in "Don Giovanni," will once more lead us captive when she sings us "Amore e Crimine" in "Don Giovanni," and then she will leave us for other climes, where she will find, doubtless, admirers true, but none more warm-hearted or generous than those of her own native land.

Another fact that will make this too brief season one to be remembered, will be, that Mad. Anna De La Grange, who has proved herself to be a marvel of vocal power and artistic talent, will make her final appearance on the operatic boards in this city (she will leave New York on the 16th of April); it therefore behooves every admirer of La Grange to embrace the last opportunity which will be afforded them of seeing this eminent prima donna in her greatest role, that of "Elda," in "La Prophete," which will be given in Philadelphia for the first time in many years. This operatic review, "La Prophete," promises to be very brilliant, as we are informed that the same care and elaborateness which characterized its representation in New York will mark its reproduction here. Other novelties are promised; among them, "Belisario" and "La Casa Lutra." The subscription for the nine operatic nights opens to-morrow (Thursday).

MAKE YOURSELF PERFECTLY AT HOME TO-MORROW AT OAK HALL. Walk right in as if you belonged there, and roam all over the building at your pleasure. Examine everything you want to, and see the good clothes that the rest of the people of Philadelphia are going to wear, and you are not. The salesman in attendance will answer any questions you may put to them as to price, materials, &c., but you will not be asked or expected to make any purchase.

THE SECOND REFORMED CHURCH.—Rev. Robert A. Browne, recently of Hazletown, Maryland, and formerly of Chicago, has been occupying the pulpit of the Second Reformed Church, on Wednesday evenings, under the resignation of Rev. Mr. Talmage. As a Bible exponent, Mr. Browne ranks high, his expounding of Scripture being clear and convincing. During a recent visit to New Jersey, this clergyman was instrumental in bringing into the Church quite a large number of persons.

Not long ago, in tearing down an old English house, the workmen came across a secret cupboard, in which were found a quantity of diamonds and jewelry to the value of several hundred pounds. It is believed that the diamonds had not before been seen by the public.

When Rosalind went to see Parliament at Madrid of Spain, His Majesty handed her the great diamond necklace which she had worn at the great court ball. It is believed that the diamonds had not before been seen by the public.
