Our merchants and manufacturers need all the accommodation the banks can afford them to put in motion the wkeels of spring business. Commercial paper is duller, as to the number of transactions, but firmer as to rates, which double names.

To-morrow being Good Friday the two boards of brokers, the Gold Exchange and Long Room have adjourned over to Saturday, to which time transactions were made in gold to-day. The day is not a legal holiday, and therefore the banks will remain open as usual.

Gold was extremely dull to-day, and fluctuated
