Daniels held an inquest in the case of Casper Weiss, aged 26 years, who died at the German Hospital on Wednesday morning, from the effects of a beating received on the evening of March 6th, at the house of Jacob Helck, on Thirty-first street, near Jefferson.

John Horlacher, employed at Walter's brewary, on Thompson street, between Thirty-second and Thirty-third, testified—i and Joseph Doll wont to supper and afterwards threw dies for something to drink; Casper came in; Doll said that who ever entered had to treat; Casper became excited and wanted to fight Doll; witness interfered and Welss said then that he would whip him; Weiss took hold of Doll and butted his head against the wall; Doll said, "I don't want to fight; we have worked together at Bergdolt's and don't want any dispute;" myself and Cornellus Bauman placed ourselves against the bar; Doll left the house to go home; Weiss followed him out; I went out; beckoned to him to come back and told him that he ought to be ashamed of himself to try to get up a fight; Casper said, "I'll show him something to fight with a Swiss;" Casper went to the tavern of James Keller, because Doll generally went over there, and Casper made the expression "I will fight him;" I saw a man sitting at the window of that tavern, but could not distinguish who it was; Casper came back, but went over again; I went into the house and in a few moments my attention was called to a fight; I did not see who was fighting, but after it was over I helped to carry Casper home; Dell and I went home together; Doll said that he a ngnt; I did not see who was ngning, but after it was over I helped to carry Casper home; Dell and I went home together; Doll said that he hoped that the man would not die of the affects of the fight.

Jacob Helck testified—Weiss and Doll boarded in my house; Weles got into a fight with Doll; he got him by the neck and pushed him against the wall coveral times; Doil didn't want to fight; wall several times; Doil didn't want to fight; Weiss asked Doil out on the street to fight; a short time afterwards Doll went out and Weiss followed him; heard a noise, and went out; saw Weiss lying on the pavement on his face, and Doil ran away when I opened the door; the next morning we found a stick, about three feet long, lying on the side of the street; didn't see any blood on it; an hour afterwards Doil came back home and asked how that man was-whether he was dead.

Jacob Baltz, Thirty-first and Thompson streets, testified that Doll told him that he had beaten one of his | Baltz's | men, Casper Weiss, and if he didn't kill him it was not his fault; Weiss was soon brought to his house, and Dr. Brown was sent for; he said that the man couldn't live, and he had better be sent to the hospital; the next morning Doll went to witness's browery again and asked if Weiss was not dead yet. was dead.

and asked if Welss was not dead yet.

Other witnesses were examined. None of them saw Doll strike Welss, but the most of them testified that Doll had said that he had beaten one of Sergeant Amos W. Atkinson testified that Doll Sergeant Amos w. Atkinson testined that Doll had acknowledged that he had struck Welss with a stick, and that he had done it in self-defence.

Dr. E. B. Shapleigh testified to having made a post mortem examination of Welss. There were three wounds on the head and the skall was three wounds on the head, and the skull was greatly fractured; death was caused by inflammation of the brain-the result of the blows described. It is singular that a man with such a terrible fracture of the base of the brain should live so long.

The verdict of the jury was—

'That the said Casper Weiss came to his death from violence (blows on the head) at the hands of Joseph Dolt on the evening of March 6, 1869, at Thirty-first and Jefferson streets."

Doll was then committed by the Coroner.

An OLD Swindle Revived .- An elderly gentleman named William Harris, a resident of Sussex county, Delaware, came to the city Sussex county, Delaware, came to the city from Wilmington on the steamboat Sagual M. Felton, this morning. On the boat a young man catered into conversation with him. He stated that he was from Massachusetts, and had been in Wilmington on business. Upon arriving in the city the young man told Mr. Harris that he had a bill to pay, and asked for the loan of $70, at the same time handing him a buckskin purse containing six pieces, which without careful scrutiny would readily be taken for $20 gold pieces. On Walnut street above Third the young man went into a place, telling Mr. Harris to wait. He did wait, but his acquaintance did not make his appearance again, and upon examining the purse Mr. Harris discovered that he had been swindled. The "gold pieces" were brass, were swindled. The "gold pieces" were brass, were light in weight, and had on the Liberty head and

THOSE BONES .- We published in the BULLETIN yesterday an account of the discovery of some numan bones and a human skull with hair on it in a cellar at Twelfth and Market streets. Our in a celler at Twelfth and Market streets. Our reporter with a gross negligence, attributable perhaps to the fact that it was the lat of April, falled to state that the bones and the skull formed a portion of a live man, who walked away after being found in the cellar pantry. The same reporter, actuated by a flendish desire to sell his professional brethren, gave a startling account of an attack made upon a daughter of Otto B. Schott, of Frankford, by a mad dog. The compositor set the type wrong. The daughter was a kitten, the offspring of a Thomas cat, which ought-to-be-shot, as all Tom cats should for the peace of the neighborhood. We mention these things by way of explanation and correction, because the latter story is published in most of the morning papers with such yar ations as the remorning papers with such var ations as the re-portorial imagination could suggest.

DRATH OF A MERCHANT.-We regret to learn the decease of Mr. E. P. Middleton, liquor merchant, doing business at No. 5 North Front street. At a meeting of the Commercial Exchange A sociation, held this morning, Major J. A. Blake, Vice President, was called to the chair, and Mr. S. W. Winslow submitted the following, which was

W. Winslow submitted the following, which was unsylmously adopted:

Whereas, The inscritable ralings of Providence have again removed from our midst another member, in the person of E. P. Middleton; therefore, Recolved, That in the decease of Mr. Middleton the Commercial Exchange has lost a worthy member, and the business community one whose life has been characterized by energy, industry and unswerving integrity.

Resolved, That a copy of the above preamble and desolution be presented to his afflicted relative, and that a Committee of five be appointed to make arrangements for cur attendance at his funeral.

Mesers. P. B. Minele, John B. Bankson, H. C. Kennedy, Joseph W. Miller, and A. J. Catherwood were appointed on the Committee.

Атьюко Рискроский: -- Samuel Rue had his pocket picked of $50 while on a Union Passen. ger Railway car, at Ninth and Callowhill streets yesterday afternoon. The alleged thief ran and was pursued by Policemen Dautrechy and Lane, of the Eighth District. He was captured at Tenth and Morgan streets. The prisoner gave his flame as Googe W. Hall. He had a hearing before Add. Massey and was committed in default of $1,500 to at swer at Court.

TRAINS DELAYED .- The passenger trains of the North Pennsylvania Railroad were delayed this morning by the collision of two freight trains, near Fort Washington, where several cars and a locomotive were bacly smashed. As far as we can learn no one was injured. The way passengers below that point were brought to the city by special trains, sent up for that purpose.

PASSENGER RAILWAY ACCIDENT .- Susan Guth rle, aged four years, was run over by a Lombard and South street passenger railway car, on South street, west of Twentieth, last evening, and was hadly injured. She was taken to her home. No. 2052 South street.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING -Henry Richards tell into the Delaware river, at Pine street whart, at 2 o'clock this morning. He was rescaed from drowning by Officer Donan, of the Harbor Police.

To-mornow is Saturday, and will be almost a repetition of opening-day at Oak Hall, because of the grand rush the people always make on the last day of the week for new "Sunday Clothes."

The house will be open from early morning till late night, and a little army of salesmen will be in attendance to give prompt and polite attention to all customers. Be sure you test their prices and the quality of their clothing before you conclude your purchase anywhere.

AMERICAN ART. This evening concludes the sale of paintings, crystal medallions, &c., from the American Art Gallery, of New York. The sale commences at 7½ o'clock, at Scott's Gallery, 1020 Chestnat street.

THE COMMERCIAL LIST AND LETTER SHEETS PRICE CURRENT will contain, to-morrow. a vast amount of information of importance to the merchant and others.

"JAMES W. HAVEN'S PHILADELPHIA Real Estate Register," is the title of a beautifully printed paper, the second number of which has been laid paper, the second number of which has been taid on our table. It contains a list of properties which the publisher offers for sale and for ront, many of which, on examination, we find are located in the northwestern part of the city, now, by universal consent, deemed the most beautiful and desirable part of Philadelphia. The Real Estate Register is published by James W. Haven, 859 North Broad street.

THE MYSTERY SOLVED.

Chemists being unable to discover the ingredients in fragrant Sozonost, which removes all status from the teeth, and imparts such a peculiar rosiness to the gums, the public are hereby informed that it is a preparation from the bark of the Quillays Saponaria or Soap Tree of Cl ili, imported for the first time into this country for this special purpose, Such is the purifying and innocaous effect of this rare botanical agent that it removes discolorations from the most fragile textile fabrics, without injuring a single thread.

THE BUSINESS OF LIFE INSURANCE HAS, IN recent years, assumed a magnitude which few people dream of. An ineured man used to be a sort of curiosity, but now, in the city at least, the curiosity is rather a man who is not insured. Such progress proves life insurance to be a good thing, and the American Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia is, by the same measure of increase of business, one of the very best of companies. best of companies.
