Twitchell's statement, while it does not relieve him from the onus of the crime, overturns some of the essential theories of the prosecution, and unless further confessions shall explain away some of the glaring inconsistencies of the present statement with the evidence given at the trial. it will not be received as we should wish to

THE CUBAN AOELDAUA. Just as the telegraph furnishes us with an account of more brutal murders of political prisoners in Cuba by the Spanish soldiery. the mail brings a proclamation from the rebel chief Oespedes, hoisting the black flag and declaring a war of extermination. This was not unexpected. It is the natural result of not unexpected. It is the hatural result of the hideous and cruel policy adopted by the Spaniards against the rebels. Vast numbers of those captured have been shot down in cold blood, without time to communicate with their friends, or to prepare for deatb; most of those who have been spared from butchery have been exiled to Feraando Po, to meet a lingering the cortain fate in a climate that is poisonous with malaria. From the beginning of the present struggle, the Spaniards have treated the brave Cubans with a merciless ferocity which recalls the cruelties of Cortes and P.zarro, and seems t fasten a hereditary taint of inhumanity marks and the second start of fasten a hereditary taint of inhumanity upo the nation. There is no reason to suppose that retaliation in kind will induce them to change their policy. The only effect will be to intensity their hate and rage, and to make them more thirsty for the blood of their enemies. Indeed, it is very likely that General Dulce has not power enough to stop the carnage if he desired to do so. The volunteers in his army seem to be entirely uncontrollable, and to exercise their sanguinar proclivities often without regard to the order of their superiors. But there is no reason to suppose that the Spanish government desires to be more merciful. The fault that is found with General Dulce, strange to say, is that he has been too lenient; and a successor has been appointed who has an infamous reputa tion for his brutality. With such a man in power, and a determination on both sides to | give no quarter, we may look for carnage which will equal in horror that which oace desolated San Domingo.

Our duty in the matter seems obvious enough. The President is said to hesitate to recognize the rebels as belligerents, in the SAVALE'S URSINA. present stage of our negotiations with Eogand upon the question of the Alabama mhistirps that there is not a moral obligation realing upon us to interfere in some manner to pre vent the sacrifice of human life which seems likely to ensue in Cubs. We will not permit. any other nation to interpose; and, as the mearest great power, it seems our duy to do so in the interests of hu nanity and civilizi erretching out their hands to us, and claiming the right of protection as a people who are truggling to be fice as we are, and who have proved their sincerity by the abolition of slavery and by the shedding of their blood. It cannot be denied that popular sentimen in this country is overwhelmingly in sympathy with the Oubage, and that their success would be hailed, with delight by the American people, And this is not incon-sislent with the deep interest felt in the efforts f the people of Boain to establish a f ee G > remment at home, The same enthusiasm or liberty which makes us the friends of pain, evokes our sympathy for Cuba. It is ecause the Spaniards have been inconsistent hat we oppose them in the Cubin war; for, astead of giving to the dependancy the libeal laws which were bestowed upon the peole at home, they have oppressed the Oubson with a tyranny which is more offensive and terrible than that of Is ibella. Justice and generosi y from the begioning would have prevented this war, and the Spanlards will find that their criminal negligence in this respect was fatal. It will cost them the island. it is not too much to say that the people of the United States will rejoice at that result.

Strange Story

The Murder Charged on His Wife

He Helped to Dispose of the Body

Mrs. Twitchell Fled From the

George S. Twitchell, under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. Hill, has at last made a tatement to his spiritual advisor, the Bev. Mr. Bringhurst, of a most extraordinary nature. He charges his wife with committing the murder. and confesses that he was accessory after the Strange as the statement is, it is corroborated in some degree by the conduct of Mrs. Twitchell, who has, for some time past, ceased her visits to her husband, and is said to have expressed a great anxiety that reporters should be excluded from the scene of his execution. We are informed that the accused murderess left the city at an early hour this morning. in anticipation of her hueband's confecsion. The o"owing is Twitchell's statement

Statement of George S. Twitchell, Jr I went to my room on the night of the marder. and instead of going to bed I laid down on the lounge is my room, and fell saleep. My wife was in bed at the time. I was roused by her repeated calls, and ran down to the diving-room, where I found her much excited, saying "I have had a quarrel with mother and killed her;" I do not know whether she said "save mel" or "help me hide it!" but at last we threw the body of Mrs. Hill out of the window to make it look as if she fellout; I went downatilies and washed my hands and face at the bydrant; then wert to my room, undressed and went to bed; my wife came up afterwards and got into bed, where we stald until Sarah Campbell rung the bell. I think we were in bed ten or twenty minutes; I made a solemn vow to the eternal God that night that I would never reveal it; but I cannot keep it any longer. I am forry that I have said I knew all son or nothing of it; but I did it with the vow in my mind, and to save my wife. I now make these disclosures that I may have peace with God. |Signed] GROBGE S. TWITCHELL, JE. In presence of Rev. George Bringhurst and

Mr. Summer introduced a bill to repeal the act to prevent the importation of certain percons. (slaves) into the United States when, by the laws thereof, their importation is prohibited. This bill, he sold, was designed to repeal the only laws relating to elevery remaining on the statute books of the United States, and as it had been favorably reported by the Judiciary Committee and pareed by the Senate at the last session, he boped there would be no opposition to its immodiate considers Mr. Davis objected, and the bill was laid on the table. Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution in-structing the Judicisry Committee to report a bill more clearly defining the meaning of the law making eight hours a day's work for mechanics and laborers in the service of the United States.

Adopted. On motion of Mr. Howe, the bill to extend the time for the construction of a railroad from the St. Croix Lake to Bayfield, on Lake Superior. was taken up. The pendlog motion was that of Mr. Mortill to recommit the bill to the Com-mittee on Public Lands. Messra. Conkling and Scott supported the motion on the ground that there were objections to the bill; which could not be fully or fairly conidered at this sess eldered at this session. Merses. Howe and Carpenter opposed it, and the motion was lost. The bill was passed. NAVAL AFFAILS. WAPHINGTON, April 3.—The movements of the versela of the South Pacific equadron, as reported by Rest-Admiral Turner in a despatch dated March 1 at Valparaico, are as follows : The Powhatau (flag-ship) sailed from Valpa-risto Jan 12, for the Island of Chilos, but the besvy bead sea and wind prevented herizoin fujther south than Lata, which port she visited sito. Telcubbo, and returned to Valparaiso 124 Rehmary.

Personary, Owing to the prevalence of yellow fever along the Southern cost, the vessels have remained southward, away from the infected districts. One vestel only is kept in the vicinity of Callao, where the fever is epidemic. The Decotab is now there. The Kearsarge has visited San Carlos, Island of Chilos and Talcuano. The Tuscarora returned to Callao, 7th Feb-

The Inceasors returned to Callao, 7th Feb-ruary, from Panama, to which point she had been sent for a draft of men. She has been de-cpatched to Buepa Ventura to investigate the re-ported outroge upon the U.S. Consul there. The Opward is under orders for Valparaiso. She is to be kept running as much as possible, and the young officers of the squadron are to be placed on board, changing them from time to the that they may have practice in handling a ship under sail. The Nyack is at Valparaiso, ro pairing. The following naval general order was issue on the table. Mr. Cake then modified it so that the rescind-ing order shall apply only to the accounts of the Treasurer of the United States. After considerable discussion the resolution as modified was adopted. Mr. Buller (Mass), from the Committee on the Judicisty, reported a bill to allow parties charged in criminal cases in the United States Courts to be witnesses at their own request and not other-wire.
