iARKISBURG, Pa, April 9.—Several facts of interest have transpired in reference to the Eston and Twitchell tragedy. It is found on inquiry that Mrs Twitchell has never said or written a vord to Governor Geary in behalf of her hasband. On one occasion a closely-veiled woman called at the Executive Department and obtained an interview, in company with a female friend. The friend spoke a few sentences in favor of Twitchell, but the veiled woman who, was after-I witchell, but the verter would be worked to work words represented to have been Mrs. Twichell remained both willed and silent during the short remshed both which and shell during the desired interview. The only appeal made by Twitchell to the Governor was the following:

The Unreconstructed States. (Special despatch to the Phila. Evening Butletin.)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—When the Senate met,
Mr. Colfax being absent, Mr. Anthony was again elected President pro tem., Mr. Trumbull called up the House Reconstruction bill.

Mr. Morion offered as an amendment his provice that before being admitted the unreconstructed States must ratify the Fifteenth Amendwire second and fixturer, valued at $20,000, were Mr. Trumbull earnestly hoped this amendment Mr. Trumbull earnestly hoped this amendment would not be adopted. It would be imposing a new condition and breaking the faith of the government, which was solemnly pledged that upon compliance with certain conditions, the rebellicus States should be restored.

Mr. Morton replied that it was not a breach of faith. In no other way could the vexed question of suffrage, which the Democrats wanted to keep open for use in future campaigns, be shally settled. keep open for use in future campaigns, be finally settled.

Mr. Conkling opposed Mr. Morton's amendin no manner failed to comply with the condi-tions imposed. She had a right to reconstruction on the same terms upon which the other States had been admitted.
