THE POURTEENTH OF APRIL. To-day is the unniversary of the darkest and saddest day that ever fell upon the people of America. Four years ago, on the fourteenth day of April, 1865, Abraham Lincoln was murdered; and the event rests in the hearts and memories of the people as a horror without parallel in the extent of its influence or the depth of its impression. On this coming night, four years ago, Abraham Lincoln, the strange, sad, weary, worn man of yet unconscious of the catastrophe which had befallen it. The miserable assassin had dealt wretched, worthless life. The grand work of success of the Board of Trusts will depend wisely, so humbly, so trustfully, so truly, was selections of its members, the judicious disended; and as the glory of victory dawned in the national horizon, the thick darkness of a national woe spread like a thick cloud over. all the coming brightness.

The anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's sassination should be solemnly cherished in the hearts of the people. The rising generation should have its sorrowful history mpressed upon them, and in these days, when so much has been done by a faithless Executive to exalt and reward the assassins of the Martyr-President, the loyal people o' America should enshrine his name and mem-THE TWITCHELL CRIMES.

Mr. Davis made a speech, short but strong, in which he urged the House not to make cowards of the meetves by undoing their own work. [It must be explained in reference to the tax bill that it has become apparent since its passage yesterday morning at 1½ o'clock that it imposes new taxes on oil and whisky and releases the railroad companies of the State from the burden of their taxation. This was done by tacking a few sections to the lengthy bill of over one hundred and tions to the lengthy bill of over one hundred and fifty ecctions. This was an action brought by the pisintiff, p-opisitor of the "American Variety Theatre," to re-over damages for loss sustained on the night of the '1th of July, 1888, when the city was in darkness. The plaintif alleged that, owing to the failure of the defendants to supply gas on the night in question, the theatre had to be closed, and receipts amounting to at least $600 were thereby lost. The defence, at the close of the picintiff's case, asked for a mun-spit which the Court was at first diep-sed to giant, but after argument suggested that perhaps it was more just to the defendants to allow them to show the cause of the faffure to supply the gas.
