TO ARCHITECTS.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE EXECTION OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

PITTSBURGH, April 12, 1869.

Design for new Public Building, to be erected on Independence Square, in the city of Philadelphia, to be submitted to the commissioners of the same, will be received at the OFFICE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY, PITTSBURGH next, at 12 M.

Architects intending to submit plans will receive circulars containing the details of the same, and the amount of compensation to be provided, &c., by applying either personally or by mail to the Office of the Commissioners of the Army, Pittsburg, at the southwest corner of Walnut and Fifth streets.

A premium will be paid for the design proposed, and the most merit, $100 for the second best, $10 for the third, and $50 for the fourth.

Architects are requested to work again for their year, and to make no charge for their services. Hence the late Spanish revolution broke out they were finally maturing their plans to free Cuba from the military sway of Spain.

THE PRESENT URGENT.

That revolution improved their opportunity, and on the 10th of October last they rose up in arms, and regulars, from the following extract of the telegraphic news, dated October 10, 1868:

"The revolutionaries of Spain have manifested their determination to be free, and to be independent, and to be masters of their own destinies."

"In arming ourselves against the tyrannical government of Spain we must, according to precedent in all civilized countries, proclaim before the world the cause that impels us to take this step, which, though likely to entail considerable difficulties, is present, will insure the happiness of the future."

"It is well known that Spain governs the island of Cuba with an iron and bloodstained hand. The former holds the latter, deprived of political, civil and religious liberty. Hence the unfortunate Cubans being illegally prosecuted and thrown into exile, or executed by military commission in their places. Hence they have kept from public meetings and forbidden to speak or write on affairs of State; hence their remonstrances against the evils that afflict them being looked upon as the proceedings of rebels, from the fact that they are bound to keep silence and obey. Hence the ever-enduring spirit of rebellion, which has given Spain to the product of her industry and labor. Hence their exclusion from public stations and want of opportunity to skill themselves in the art of government. Hence the restrictions to which public instruction with them is subjected, in order to keep them so ignorant as not to be able to know and enforce their rights in any shape or form whatever. Hence the great expenditure of an enormous expenditure from their country to meet them bind their knees and submit their necks to the iron yoke that disfigures them. Hence the grinding taxation under which they labor, and which would make them all perish miserably but for the marvels of their endurance of the yoke. On the other hand, Cuba cannot be said to be out, because while in separation that suits her best, she is in the hands of the Spanish government, and as Spain has many a time promised to us Cuban to respect our rights without having hitherto fulfilled her promise; as she continues to tax us heavily, and as we like to destroy our property, our lives and our honor under further Spanish domination; as we have reached a depth of degradation utterly revolting to man; as great nations have sprung from revolt against a similar disgrace, after exhausted pleadings for relief; as we despair of justice from Spain through reasoning, and cannot turn to another people to aid us. Hence our efforts in these directions are concentrated to appeal to arms to assert our rights in the battle-field, cherishing the hope that our grievances will be a sufficient excuse for this last resort to redress them and secure our future welfare."

"To the God of our conscience and to all civilized nations we submit this sincerity of our purpose. We demand justice, and we demand that we be not abandoned in our guide. We only want to be free, and see all men with us equally free, as the Creator intended all mankind to be. Our earnest belief is that all men are brethren. Hence our love of law, order and justice in every respect. We desire the gradual abolition of slavery, with indemnification; we advocate universal suffrage, as it insures the sovereign right of the people to choose their representatives for the amicable rights of man as the basis of freedom and national greatness."

Such are the facts showing the oppression of Cuba and her efforts to be free to the 10th of October last.

THE PROSPECT TO-DAY.

Since then the Cuban liberating army has been gradually increasing, notwithstanding the consequent opposition of the Indians. Two other soldiers and one citizen were badly wounded. It is rumored that the Crow Indians have burned their treaty who is the Commander-in-Chief of that army and who is the proposse going on the war path.

FROM THE PLAINS.

Indian Depredations.

A despatch to the Omaha Republican, from Helena, Montana Territory, April 11, says:

"Advice from Fort Ellis state that on the 6th instant a party of ten Indians stole cattle and horses from a ranch on Dry Creek. As soon as 11 A. M. followed a party of fifteen or twenty Indians and four horses to the ranch. Ellis started in pursuit, and followed the trail seventy-five miles, and came up with the Indians. The party killed and scalped nine, the tenth one making his escape on a stolen horse. Private Coyle, of Fort Ellis, was killed. Two other soldiers and one citizen were badly wounded. It is rumored that the Crow Indians have burned their treaty who is the Commander-in-Chief of that army and who is the
