CITY BULLETIN.

THE LATE JOHN LAWLOR.—A meeting of journalists was held yesterday afternoon, at the rooms of the Press Club, to take action with regard to the death of John Lawlor, of the Sunday Dispatch, E. W. G. Greene was called to the chair, and William B. Fisher acted as Secretary. On motion of Fred W. Grayson, a committee was appointed to prepare a fitting expression of the sentiment of the profession in regard to the death of their friend, John Lawlor. The committee, consisting of Messrs. Grayson, Winslow and Sheppard, reported the following resolutions:

Whereas, It hath pleased God, from whom cometh all life, and who recalleth it by His sovereign will, to remove from the midst of being our late professional brother, John Lawlor; and,

Whereas, The custom of publicly lamenting the death of those who are endeared to us by the ties of friendship and fellowship, as well as by their high qualities as good and exemplary citizens, is one which not only appeals to the honorable exemplifies the best instincts of our human nature; therefore,

Resolved, That we, members of the Press of Philadelphia, regard with sincere sorrow the death of our late professional brother, John Lawlor, whom we all know as a most amiable gentleman in the walks of private life; as a journalist who, in his calling by his integrity and intelligence; as a citizen, who loved his own country; and as one who by his every action worthy of universal praise and imitation, as a man who won his way to usefulness, independence, and high public esteem by manly energy and self-reliance, as a true and true Christian, attested his devotion by a charity which was as numerous as it was discreet and unobtrusive, as well as by a consistency of life which is a most excellent evidence of sincere religion and the highest possible testimony which can be given to the truth of the Christian faith.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of our deceased friend our sincerest sympathy in their bereavement, with an earnest prayer that God, in His infinite mercy, will help them to bear it with all possible resignation.

Addresses were made by Messrs. Stephen N. Winslow, Thos. E. Watkins, E. W. G. Greene and Wm. H. Fisher, after which the resolutions were adopted, and ordered to be sent to the bereaved family.

THE COURTS.—The second term of the extra court established by the last Legislature for Cambria county subdivided yesterday. This is an important court, and its proceedings materially lessen the business in the Quarter Sessions. About thirty cases were disposed of, most of which were for assault and battery, and were punished by a small fine and a term of a day, and in one or two cases imprisonment in the county jail; but one case went to the State Prison. All these cases were heard without a trial by jury, and the result thus far has been a great saving to the county. The court then adjourned to Tuesday, the fourth day of May, at which time the regular term of the Quarter Sessions commences.

FAIR FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE HOMOEOPATHIC HOSPITAL.
Measures for the permanent establishment of a Homoeopathic Hospital in Philadelphia, have been taken by a number of ladies, who have formed themselves into an Association, under the name of the Ladies' Homoeopathic Hospital Association, and have decided to hold a Fair in aid of the Hospital, to be held next Autumn for the benefit of the Association. The Fair will be held in Philadelphia, as well as personal effort, to make it a complete success.
The Association has received from the City Councils a donation of that square of ground bounded by Girard avenue, Parrish street, Broad street, and by an act of the Legislature the action of the Councils has been affirmed, and the title to that part of the avenue bounded by Broad street and Twenty-first street west of this ownership has prevented any material improvement at the point, and the Association has, except just such necessary conveniences as their location and purposes required. Gradually they added to their property by purchasing all the ground, or nearly all, north of Bridge avenue to Taylor's avenue, preparatory to the commencement of efforts to obtain the vacation of said avenue. This has been effected, and so soon as some other lesser arrangements shall have been made, the property so long an impediment to them will be of the greatest advantage, not only to the companies, but also to the citizens of Camden, by the erection of handsome residences and commodious depots, freight-houses and passenger station-house, on a grand and extensive scale. Not the least important in their improvements will be the arrangement of their tracks so that the drilling of cars through the city inside their own enclosed grounds, in order to avoid all danger of collisions and accidents at the street crossings. This will secure safety to pedestrians and vehicles, and render the crossing of the tracks unnecessary, and will give employment to a very large number of workmen.
CLEANING STREETS.—The utmost care is to be observed by the Board of Health and the authorities of Camden, to preserve the sanitary condition of the city, by keeping the streets thoroughly cleaned and purified. Efforts are also being made to have the streets sprinkled during the dry weather, in order to keep the dust from blowing about. This is a good measure, and should be carried out.

NATATORIUM AND PHYSICAL INSTITUTE, MASONIC HALL, CHESTNUT Street.
SWIMMING SCHOOL FOR GENTLEMEN AND LADIES.
Swimming the most important of all bodily accomplishments.
Swimming the most complete Gymnasium.
Swimming the most healthful exercise of all manly sports.
Swimming the cessate of corporeal debilities.
Second Division of Swimming Class for Gentlemen will commence on MONDAY, April 26th, at 4 P. M., and continue every afternoon at 4 o'clock.
Ladies' Class, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at 4 o'clock.
Applications for admission may be made at the Natatorium, on the north side of Franklin Institute, on the Fifteenth Ward side of the city of Philadelphia; connected with the Natatorium are Gymnasium, Bowling Alleys, &c., &c., in connection with the school of swimming, which will provide that a sensible eight of the act to further promote the efficiency of the militia of Pennsylvania, passed 21, 1861, be amended so as to read as follows: "That the hours of labor and the rate of wages of all laborers in the navy-yards shall conform, as nearly as consistent with the public interest, with those of private establishments in the immediate vicinity of the respective yards, to be determined by the commandants of the navy-yards, subject to the approval and revision of the Secretary of the Navy."
In reply, I have the honor to state that the above proposed change is considered in the opinion of my predecessor (Mr. Evarts) to the President, on the 13th of December, 1869, to which I beg leave to refer you, and from the conclusions of which I see no reason to differ. In my opinion the statute of June 25th, 1868, has nothing to do with the compensation of laborers employed in the navy-yards, and leaves that to be determined under the provisions of the act of July 16, 1862. The provision that eight hours shall constitute a day's labor has no tendency whatever to show whether the rate of wages established shall be paid at a lower or higher rate than is paid in the yards for the same rate. The rate of compensation is still left by law to the discretion of the Secretary, subject to the limitations described by the statute of July 16, 1862, so as to conform as nearly as may be to the rates of wages in the vicinity of the private establishments in the immediate vicinity of the navy-yards, to be determined by the commandants of navy-yards, subject to the approval and revision of the Secretary of the Navy. If private establishments in the neighborhood of the yards pay for eight hours the same day only, there would obviously be no justice in requiring the labor of those employed in the navy-yards for eight hours to be paid for at the rate for ten hours in the establishments, and the law intended no such result. Nor would it be just to require a difference between the hourly wages prevailing in the yards and those in the vicinity, when private establishments pay for eight hours' labor which private establishments pay for ten hours' labor at the same rate per hour. The result would be a reduction of the quantity of work make the fewer hours of labor in the navy-yards, and to the longer time hired in private establishments, or for more hours' labor in accordance with public interest.
Very respectfully your obedient servant.
E. R. HOAR, Attorney-General.
In consequence of the above opinion the Secretary of the Navy sends the following circular letter to the commandants of navy-yards:
NAVY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22, 1869.—Sir: The act of Congress, approved June 25, 1868, reducing the hours of labor to eight per day for all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed on behalf of the government, does not in terms establish the length of a day's work. Congress omitted to repeal the act of July 16, 1862, by which the hours of labor in the navy yards to conform, as nearly as consistent with the public interest, with those of private establishments in the immediate vicinity of the yards. Until those laws are repealed, the department must abide by them. The department does not consider that it is entitled the hours of labor by having more than eight hours a day's work done, or the right to employ mechanics, workmen and laborers extra hours, and pay them extra for such extra labor. Where, therefore, necessity exists for extra labor, you are not allowed to employ it without reporting the matter, so as to assist the working classes, and at the same time to maintain the government. Very respectfully,
A. E. BORIE,
Secretary of the Navy.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For the Renovation of the Hair.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and to the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such a preparation can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous as well as injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil the most delicate, yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
