The Alabama Claims

Opinion of John Bright, Lord

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE.]

LONDON, April 30, 1869.—The London papers, this morning, open their editorial pages with comments on the speech lately delivered by Senator Sumner in the United States Senate, on the subject of the Alabama claims, and the relations generally existing between Great Britain and America. The writers support the text of the speech, however.

The London Star, John Bright's organ, says that the claims of Mr. Sumner are so new and startling and so vaguely put that they must be regarded simply as enormous and without understanding. It says that the claims are so vague that the English Government is at a loss to know what to do. It says that the English Government is at a loss to know what to do.
It says that the English Government is at a loss to know what to do.

The London Times designates the estimates of American damages put forth by Mr. Sumner as portentous, as it has already reached $122,000,000.
It says that the English Government is at a loss to know what to do. It says that the English Government is at a loss to know what

The London Standard, a Tory organ, says that the treaty as it has given the world reasons to believe that the English Government is at a loss to know what to do. It says that the

THE DOGS AND HYDROPHOBIA

At a Cabinet meeting yesterday the subject of the speech was informally discussed.
Mr. Bright declared that the embarrassment which he had produced served England very properly, but he agreed not to consent to a material change of sentiment foreshadowed by Mr. Sumner.

Mr. Gladstone professed to have good assurance, from reliable quarters, that the recent rejection of the treaty on this subject by the American legislature was purely a political movement. The present administration will endeavor to settle the Alabama claims by a friendly arrangement. Outside the tone of the English people is anti-American, and more so since having read only a partial publication of Senator Sumner's argument.

There is a very general feeling among the people of England that the English Government is at a loss to know what to do.

New Culverts

There are now in course of construction two large culverts, one on North Broad street, the other on Broad street, the one on Broad street is nine feet in diameter, commencing at the intersection of Gunner's Run and Broad street, near the Connecting Railroad station, and extending to the intersection of Broad street and the Connecting Railroad station, thence to Smedley, thence to Tioga, and thence to Twenty-second street, at which place the culvert will terminate, the culvert being nearly a mile in length. The object of this sewer is to drain that portion of the city, which is fast improving and increasing in population rapidly.

A Fight with Indiana Gallant Con-

duct of a Young Corporal.

A letter dated Fort Fetterman, Wyoming Territory, April 15th, received in this city, contains the following:
"A warm Indian fight occurred on La Bonte Hill, 20 miles southeast of this post, last week, between about sixty Minnecegon Sioux and eight soldiers of the 4th U. S. Infantry, garrisoned here. The soldiers were out repairing the telegraph line. The sergeant in command, named Robert Shea, being a short distance from the train, was cut off, and doubtless captured, as no trace of him has been found, although every effort has been made to recover him, by the commanding officer, Col. C. H. Conlton, and his subordinates. His saddle was found on the trail, about seven miles from where the fight occurred, and a private named Smith, who had been with the party, was also brought in, and the remains of the party were found, and the body of the deceased, and a despatch to be acknowledged by the public press generally."

MORE ANEXATION

A Big Slice of Mexico Coming to Us.

Washington, April 30.—There was a full meeting of the Cabinet to-day. There were members, who were absent on yesterday, were summoned by telegraph to be present. The case of the extraordinary session was the reception of important despatches from Gen. Rosecrans, Minister to Mexico. Dr. C. W. Brink United States Consul at Mexico, arrived here yesterday, direct from the Mexican capital. He brought a despatch from the President of Mexico, and Secretary Fish from General Rosecrans. It has transpired since the meeting that when the despatches were opened the President required the Secretary of State to take a certain portion of the territory for a specified sum in gold, the object being, evidently, to replenish and such a sum, the present depleted treasury of Mexico. The territory which is proposed to be ceded lies on the Gulf of California, and is believed to include the States of Sonora and Sinaloa.
The negotiation originates with Senor Romero, the present Secretary of the Treasury of the Juarez Government, who was formerly Mexican Minister to the United States, but of course, meet the approval of President Juarez.
No conclusion has been reached to-day, and it is likely that the negotiations will be subject to several consultations before any decision is made.—World.

—Lamartine's barber saved all his clippings from that bard's head, and is now asking monstrous money by selling them in locks.
—The day-slaver at the Cincinnati post was badly chawed up by a big specimen of the bull species the other day.
—The Post-Office has been appointed postmaster at Columbus, Mississippi, the post office advises the citizens to step the use of boxes, and due out down the revenue of the postmaster.
—A shrewd but unenlightened school director, saw out West, next to say, on examining a candidate for the post of teacher, "Dulca, a, b, c, e, i, o, u, v, w, x, y, z, and we want to know why they is vowels."

—The overland westward travel is increasing rapidly, and the direct passage of crowds of emigrants are daily arriving at St. Louis, and en route for the Platte Valley and Pacific Railroad line.
—A cruel transition from romance to reality was that experienced by a young man, who other evening, who tried to draw himself for love, but was rescued and locked up over night on a charge of drunkenness.
—The Cuban meeting, last night, was a huge success, and had a head and a neck, toward its close. Some of the people who tackled themselves on to the regular programme, and some who tried hard to do so, but failed, came within an arm's length of the whole affair.
—One of the rooms in the new palace of the Sultan at Tcherassan Yalies is to be furnished by his Majesty's mother. The furniture and hangings are to be of the richest description, and the expense of fitting up this single room will be not less than $150,000.
—A family feud in St. Louis was nearly settled the other day. One of the aggrieved parties put a lot of gunpowder in the collar of his enemies' clothes, and lit a fuse to a lighted candle.
The candle tipped over and the powder exploded, and the whole apparatus was found the next day.
—The Empress Eugenie is going to visit Car-lots at Laeken, about the first of May. As both Carlots and the Queen of Belgium are known to dislike the Empress intensely, the gossip in Paris are at a loss to know what may have induced the Empress to resolve upon visiting them.
The Prince Imperial will accompany his mother.
Western editors do not vary "the fact" man-nerism criticism extensively, as witness the following on Parepa-Ross: "We cannot imagine, with her great feckiness and awkward figure, how Parepa-Ross could be successful in her career. In a concert she is a wash-tub full of melody."
—The Paris Figaro probably refers to the fact when it says: "While we are talking of the approaching marriage of the Emperor and the Princess, it is not surprising to find that the duchess of a recent tour her husband lost a little more money than the artist made." —It is stated that the Pope has given M. Gottard three commissions, the composition of a mass, a national song and an oratorio. The last two are in three parts, and will be written for three choirs—a terrestrial choir upon the stage, an infernal chorus below it, and a celestial choir beyond it.
