Washingrow, May 14.—The regular diplomatic reception held by the Secretary of State yesterday was of quite an interesting character. In the first place the so-called alliance between England, France and Spain was very much spoken of by everybody, but believed by none. It is understood that the representatives of the three above named powers disclaimed in the name of their governments any such intentions. Then the Cuban matter came up, and Secretary Fish spoke freely of his settled intention to stop all forts of fillbustering expeditions under stop all corts of filloustering expeditions under any name and any shape they might assume to try to hide themselves. But he complained also of the bloody—and awkward—policy of Spain towards Cuba, saying that with such a power the keeping of neutrality was not an easy thing. On his part, Senor Roberts, the Spanish Minister, eald that he saw very well the bluff game played by the Cubana in the United States to force Spain to declare the blockade of the Island, but that his country would not be led to make this blunder.

As a whole, the most peaceful spirit prevailed during the reception. A Murderer Fordened. (Special Despatch to the Phila. Evening Bulletin.)
WALHINGTON, May 14.—On Monday last Chie atice Chase delivered an opinion at Richmond, reversing the decision of Judge Underwood the case of Cæsar P. Currency continues abundant, and lenders are quite lively in their effocts to find channels of employment for their large balances. The condition of trade is such as to give large balances. The condition of trade is such as to give an appearance of plethora to the money market, which has no reality. The chief cause of the ease which has prevailed during the last two weeks is due to the very limited demands upon the market for husiness purposes. If the latter were in a normal condition, such things as balances at 4 per cent, would be very few and far between. At present there is an ample supply to meet all wants at fair but firm rates.

We quote call loans at 6@7 per cent, on stock and othersecurities. Street loans are easy at 6@3 per cent, for prime business paper.
