The stock market was feverish, owing to sales of long stock by the public, to realize the large profits offered to them by the sharp advance in-prices engineered by the cliques to-day. The cliques were the chief buyers, and the market is therefore unsettled, and may change at any moment if their programme requires it. The cliques will make powerful efforts to unload before July 1, and the bank expansion of last week, if continued, will assist them in doing so. The stocks selected especially to sustain and 'bull' the market were Michigan Southera, Lake Shore. Pitts burgh, and 8', Pyul. The Vanderbilt stocks were neglected, but kept steady, with limited transactions. [For the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.] The Weather for April. tarian. B. J.
