The New Constitution Read to the People —Serious (Riot in Madrid—Two Men Killed and Several Injured—Imposing Demonstration—Serrano to be Regont. MADRIO, June 6.—The new Spanish constitution was promulgated with great pomp and ceremony to-day. At about half-past one o'clock in the afternoon the members of the Executive Council of the nation, together with the deputies to the Cortes, sallied out of the chambers on a platform which was erected in front of the halls of Congress. After the deputies had taken their allotted places and silence was obtained the secretary commenced to read the constitution, which was received to read the constitution, which was received with loud cheers by the great mass of people assembled in front of the stand. When the deputies were retiring a tumult broke out, consequent on the utterances of hisses by a number of persons in the crowd. lisses by a number of persons in the crowd. The disturbance increased in spite of the efforts of the troops to put down the demonstration. The troubles continued for some time, until the military governor of the city appeared, and with great presence of mind rushed in among the foremost of the rioters, shouting, "Viva Soverania Nacionale." This changed the sentiments of the mob, and the growd took up the cry and joined in loud crowd took up the cry and joined in loud cheers. Two men, however, were killed in the disturbance, and a good many persons were seriously injured.

The deputies subsequently returned to the platform, when the troops outside the building, to the number of 30,000 men, filed past in marching order. Great enthusiasm was manifested by the spectators who congregated in the streets. None of the republican members, it was noticed, participated in the ceremonies. A salute of fifty guns was fired in honor of the occasion; fireworks were discharged in the Health of the Pope...A Novel Project to Prevent Wars...Arbitration as a Sub-stitute for Fighting...His Holiness on Agrarian Outrages in Ireland, Agrarian Outrages in Ireland.

Rome, May 18, 1869.—The Pope's last public benediction for the season was conferred by his Holiness to his faithful troops and subjects and such sight-seers as still lingered at Rome for this closing festival on Thursday, the 6th instant, from the balcony of St. John Lateran, as customary on Ascension Day. Pio Nono was in excellent voice, and the sight was very brilliant on the irregular but nicturesque prilliant on the irregular but picturesque piazza of St. John, which, with its background of the old Aurelian walls, the aqueducts, Campagna and the Alban hills beyond, is infinitely more attractive than the piazza of St. Peter's, in spite of the formal grandeur of the latter.

Although his Holiness appears to enjoy capital health, his medical advisers are anxious that he should get some change of air this sum-mer; but he has hitherto resisted their suggestions, at any rate with respect to Porto d'Anzio, where they wished him to inhale the mild sea breezes of May. A few days since, how-ever, the Pope allowed himself a day in the country, having invited a few cardinals and ecclesiastics of rank to dine at his summer ecclesiastics of rank to dine at his summer place of Castle Gandolfo, 14 miles from Rome. Pio Nino says that if he were to leave the capital this summer he should prefer going to Frosinone to drink the mineral waters, but his Holiness adds, jokingly, "We are too poor for such excursions."

A movement in the direction of doing away with wars and constituting the Popularities.

with wars, and constituting the Pope arbiter and peacemaker between quarrelsome nations, according to a sort of code of international law, which it is proposed shall be drawn up by the Catholic Bishops assembled in the Ecumenical Council, has been initiated by several French and English Catholic journals, and some appeals and addresses from Protestants some appeals and addresses from Protestants to the Pope have also been published tending to the same purpose. To do away with expensive standing armies would be doubtless an immense advantage, but it is to be doubted whether the Pope's arbitration will suffice to establish such a feeling of reciprocal good will and good faith between rival nations as to allow them to convert their cannons and as to allow them-to convert their cannons and rifles into plowshares and reaping hooks, although the Osservatore Romano of the 7th advocates the scheme in an enthusiastic article entitled "The best means of preserving peace."

I hear that Cardinal Barnado, Prefect of the Propaganda, has written in the Pope's name to Cardinal Cullen, complaining that the influence of the Catholic clergy in Ireland is not more powerfully exercised in preventing the commission of so many agrarian murders as the Irish peasantry have been indulging in of late. If this is correct, the measure is a step towards the realization of the office of peacetmaker proposed to be conferred on the Pope maker proposed to be conferred on the Pope, and it is to be hoped that the Irish clergy will act according to his suggestion.

—A singular accident happened at Astley's Theatre, in London, a few days since. In the play of the "Battle of Waterloo," Napoleon, with his staff, rides upon the stage on horseback. On this occasion an aide-de-camp's horse suddenly became restive and unmanageable. It pranced about the stage, then backed on to the footlights, which he smashed, and finally fell backwards into the orchestra, throwing his rider, and creating considerable alarm among the occupants of the stalls. The musicians tried to escape from the dangerous proximity of their unwelcome and unexpected visitant; but one had his collar-bone broken, and had to be conveyed to the hospital. The and had to be conveyed to the hospital. The damage done to the instruments was considerable. Violins, violoncellos, flutes and flageo lets were broken to atoms, and the music was torn and scattered in every direction. The horse was with some difficulty extricated after a delay of about twenty minutes.

CITY NOTICES.

BOWER AT HIS NEW DRUG STORE, 406 CHESTNUT STREET—The neighborhood has been a gainer by his coning. His reputation as a druggist, perfumer and manufacturer of exquisitely palatable soda waters preceded him, and will insure a plethora of patronage to his new place. He comes from Sixth and Vine streets, in which locality he was known by overybody. His new store is a few strides ahead of his old one, however. It is beautifully fitted up, cool and inviting in its marbled whiteness, pleasant to the eye in its appearance, and seductive of the change in one's pockets in the goods it displays. A full and complete assortment of fresh medicines, English, French and American perfumery, and divers other articles of the fancy kind, can there be found. Mir. Bower will also make a specialty of the preparation of soda water, rendering it free from all impurity, and manufacturing his syrups from the juice of the fruit. The artificial waters of Vichy, Kissingen and Saratoga will likewise be kept on draught in ice-cold fountains.

The highest encomiums which have been lawished upon him do not by any means, overrate the beautiful work of this meritorious artist. MISCELLANEOUS. FOUND AT LAST! BURGLAR-PROOF SAFE.

[York Democratic Press. June 4th.] The First National Bank, on Tuesday, placed n their vault one of

MARVIN & CO.'S Chrome Iron Spherical Burglar-

Proof Safes, which was purchased from their agent, Mr. Hervy Herman, formerly of this place. The safe was sold to the bank subject to s test as the Directors saw fit to put it to. They invited machinists and others to try their hands at safe-breaking and boring. The Bank employed Major Epley, one of the best machinists in this section of the country, to "DRILL THE SAFE, IF POSSIBLE."

The Major, with the assistance of his son, spent several hours in preparing his drills and tools, and having secured a strong leverage. went to work and after entirely using up his drills, and hardly making an impression on the safe, gave his opinion that drilling through inside of two weeks was out of the question. The safe was then attacked with heavy sledges. Messis. Small, Billmeyer & Co., were called upon for three of their best BLACKSMITH STRIKERS, who were furnished with heavy sledges. After placing the safe in the middle of the sidewalk, they commenced whacking away in regular forge style, dealing blows that were heard for squares, but with no effect on the safe. It may be imagined with what strength they dealt their blows, when they were sufficient to crack the sledges and render them useless. The trial created quite an excitement
