We have a higher and colier vocation. While a double band of iron With weapons drawn from such an armory, and our feet firmly planted on the Rock of Ages, which no hostile sappers can undermine, and the glorious Cross with "In hoc signo vinces" emblazoned on our standard, we march to certain victory.

But we are selected. And Tennylors to usure and industry, there is a golden wire of electric communication unseen by the profane, but felt everywhere, which unites all parts of our land by a bond of brotherhood. The Masonic Orders, true to their principles amid the whirlwind of passion and the clash of arms, whispered in the ears of the combatants on both sides, "Ye are brethestorm has spent its fury, the same brotherly love one another." And now that the storm has spent its fury, the same brotherly love which erewhile staunched the blood of the wounded, and gave a cup of water to the dying, and fed the starving prisoner, whether he wore the blue or the grey, still animates the breasts of Masons, and with its powerful attraction has drawn together this vast assemblage of representative men of the fraternity, that we may know one another better and love one another more.

Masonry is not a political society. Partisan disputes cannot be lawfully admitted into its lodges, chapters, or asylumes, and yet, individually admitted into its lodges, chapters, or asylumes, and yet, individually admitted into its longer of the commander of the france of honor which rightly belongs to the authorized expounders of Christian truth. The Evening Exercises.

The Knights were dismissed until exercises of the day, and the those who are protected with the trustiest armor, and wield the sharpest together; and let those who are protected with the sharpest weapons, and are best trained and disciplined for the encounter, whether elergymen or lay men, march to the front. I admit that the clergy should stand in the first line, but not alone. The arms of Moses grew weary in the battle with Amalek until Aaton and lay uphold the hands of the Christian clergy.

I yield to no man in sincere respect for those learned and able servants of God rectly and unconsciously, its influence on the putes about forms, and ceremonies, and ordinances, and canons, andrituals, and vestments, and genealogies. As in the days of Paul, some said, I am of Paul; I, of Apollos; I, of Cephas; and I, of Christ; so in our day too many say, the firmest pillars of free institutions. Thus lisputes cannot be lawfully admitted into its odges, chapters, or asylums; and yet, indi-ectly and unconsciously, its influence on the power. It has always flourished most under regord free governments, and in return, has been one of the firmest pillars of free institutions. Thus by reciprocal action and reaction freedom the Pope; until we are ready to exclaim, Who is of Christ? Is Christ divided? was Calvin the Pope; and the Pope; until we are ready to exclaim, Who is of Christ? Is Christ? Is Christ divided? was Calvin the proposed for you? or were ye baptized in the proposed free their representatives. action freedom y defends free-y defends free-governments name of Wesley?

But in Masonic Knighthood there is no place supports Masonry and Masonry defends freedom. Under despotic governments t has suffered relentless persecution. Driven from the habitations of men by for denominational disputes or distinctions; all walk on the same level, kneel at the same tyrannical power, its votaries congregated on mountain summits or in sequestered glens and altar, bow before the same Saviour, pour the mountain summits or in sequestered glens and inder the open canopy of heaven, or in the gloomy shade of forests, taught their sublime lessons to neophytes in search of light. But in free England nobles and princes have been its patrons, and have deemed it an honor to walk on the level where caste and rank are merged in an all-embracing humanity. The ts patrons, and have deemed it an inclusive walk on the level where custe and rank are walk on the level where custe and rank are walk on the level where caste and rank are merged in an all-embracing humanity. The third name on the English Bill of Rights, by which the great charter of English liberty was wrested from King John, was the name of the Grand Master of Templars. But America, more free than England; America, whose Constitution is an enlargement and improvement of the Bill of Rights and Magna Charta, has proved to be the most in comprehending and cherishing those eter-nal principles of love to God and love to man which are the foundation of the Order, as they are the basis of pure morality and the life of rue religion.

Many ministers of the various denominain the various denominations are active members of our Order, and we invite all who are worthy to enter. With their assistance, Templar Masonry would do more to break down the partition walls of sect, and specific active of each circuit and experiments. and Magna Charta, has proved to be the most fertile soil for the growth of Freemasonry. In America it has kept time and pace with the march of political liberty. In America it has disseminated its principles unrebuked and un-

We sometimes hear the ominous questions, clamor, sought to exclude its members from all civil offices, and even to deny them social "Is Christianity a failure?" "Is the world really any better for it?" One poet exclaimed recognition. But the sober second thought in anguish during the late war: of the people succeeded to an unreasoning and fanatical excitement, and the reasoning and fanatical excitement, and the institution which had survived the persecutions of kings and popes, and stood firm when dynasties were overthrown and empires wrecked, demonstrated its power to brave the madness of the people, which is more to be dreaded than the wrath of kings. Purified from its dross in the furnace of persecution, it shone forth with brighter lustre than ever before, and now, counting its members by hundreds of thousands, it stands a mighty host against the pretensions of caste, the prejudice of race, and the encroachments of power.

Ancient speculative and symbolic Masonry

In anguish during the late war:

"Two thousand years! two thousand years!

The here red eye of carnage still!"

The device red eye of carnage still Ancient speculative and symbolic Masonry is a social, moral, beneficial, and charitable institution. While it teaches the purest principles of morality, and is thus far the handmaid of religion, it claims not to be a religious society. It is a universal order, which ensisted the Abba and is limited by no cread.

if otherwise worthy and qualified, may be admitted to its benefits, and taught the lessons of a broad philanthropy. But no atheist can pass its portals. A firm belief in the existence of a Supreme Being, and of man's moral needs to the supreme Being, and of man's moral needs to the supreme Being, and of man's moral needs to the supreme Being, and of man's moral needs to the supreme Being, and of man's moral needs to the supreme Being, and of man's moral needs to the supreme Being, and of man's moral needs to the suprementation of the follics and crimes which have been perpetrated in its nature. These are not its natural fruits. They are fungl, fed by the fogs of ignorance, and the malaria of bigotry, which have fastened the malaria of bigotry, which have faste ity-a Christianity whose fruits shall be jusf a Supreme Being, and of man's moral accountability to Him, are indispensable to the first and to every subsequent step. Masonry is founded on the Bible; and as in the first verse of the Bible we read "In the beginning, God," so at the very threshold of Masonry we recognize the great primal truth "In the beginning, God," God, the trust of the candidate for apprenticeship—God, the strong the algorithm of the specific properties and truth the second to the specific properties of the strong pressed, defence of the innocent, ponitive for apprenticeship—God, the strong the strong pressed, defence of the innocent, ponitive for apprenticeship—God, the strong the strong pressed truth, humility in prosperity, fortitude in adversity, charity to the erring consolation to the afflicted, protection to the opport pilgrims of earth, deliverance to the opport pressed, defence of the innocent, ponitive for single protection and truth in the Region of the strong pressed to the strong pres date for apprenticeship—God, the adorable name of the Royal—Arch—God, invoked in every intermediate degree.

See The Canada and things, having the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come." O, how far we fall short of our every intermediate degree.

But while ancient symbolic Masonry is world-wide, Templar Knighthood is a limited order. To the four objects of the former—social, moral, beneficial, and charitable—it social, moral, and of the first moral in the state flow is, and of that which is to come."
