The Yerger-Crane Homicide. The Jackson, Mississippi, Clarion, of June

10, says: The trial of Mr. E. M. Yerger was commenced to day at 11 o'clock, before the Milli tary Commission now sitting in this city Messers, W. P. Harris, Fulton Anderson and The Wm. Yerger represent the prisoner. The Commission adjourned till 3 o'clock this after noon, in order to give the prisoner time to consult with his counsel.

The same paper publishes a communication containing these particulars touching the deceased:

ccased: Colonel Grane was born at Dayton, Ohio, in the month of October, 1825. Was a gentleman by blood and education. His family for generations had been one of the most exalted in the land. He was a son of the late Hon. Joseph H. Crane, member of Congress from the Dayton District many years ago, and was long one of the leaders of the Ohio bar. Col. Crane was admitted to practice law about the long one of the leaders of the Ohio bar. Ool. Crane was admitted to practice law about the year 1849, and after practicing a few years was elected Probate Judge of his native county, which position he held for three years (that being the term for which he was elected, with marked credit and distinction. At the breaking out of the re-cent civil war he accepted the position of Commissary of Subsistence, with the rank of eaptain. He was frequently promoted during the war for gallant and meritorious conduct. For the past two years he has been Chief Com-missary of the Fourth Military District, and the greater part of this time a resident of the the greater part of this time a resident of the State of Mississippi. At the time of his death he was Mayor of the city of Jackson, by military appointment. Col. Crane was about six feet two inches in height, imposing and distingue in his personal appearance. In all the relations of life, as son, usband, father, citizen, Judge and soldier, husband, inther, chizen, Judge and soldler, he was a model of the purest type. A most thorough, accomplished, polished gentleman in his bearing, he was truly loved and universally admired by all who came in contact with him. Perhaps no officer, of the army of equal rank had more warm personal friends. Col. Crane leaves a widow and two most promising and interesting soms aged seventeen and fourteen reaves a whow and two most promising and interesting sons, aged seventeen and fourteen vears, respectively. Mrs. Crane is the daughter of Commodore James Findlay Schenck, of the United States Navy, and the niece of General Robert C. Schenck, the present distinguished member of Congress from the Dayton District. She is a most charming, amiable and Christian lady, a worthy representative of her illustrious family. Herself and husband were both born

The Clarion says: In order to satisfy the pub-lic demand for a fair and detailed account of the tragic affair last. Tuesday, we have pub-lished below the testimony taken before the Jury of Inquest, held over the body of the de-ceased immediately after its occurrence. It is proper to preface it by stating that the difficulty grew out of certain official proceed-ings of the deceased, which are better ex-plained by the following advertisement that appeared on the 3d of June: "Nortice.—By virtue of a Warrant of Dis-tress, dated this 4th day of June, 1869, to the undersigned, Marshal of the city of Jackson, dirocted by the Honorable, the Mayor of said city, I have distrained and levied upon the hereinafter described personal property of E. M. Yerger, for taxes due and in arrears by him to said city, and will proceed to sell, in front of Bloom's store, in the city of Jackson, Mississipp, at public outcry, for eash, to the Mississippi, at public outcry, for cash, to the highest hidder, on the 16th day of June, A. D. 1869, within legal hours, the following de-scribed personal property, levied on to satisfy the amount of said taxes and all costs: One

"Jackson, Miss., June 4, 1869." When this property was attached E. M. Yer-ger was in Memphis. On his return Tuesday morning, he sent several messages to Colonel Crane, the purport of which was an invitation to meet him on the street, divested of his offi cial character, in order to give him satisfac tion for what he esteemed to be an affront.

We are informed that Dr. Harrington, who after repeated solicitations, bore one of these communications, finally consented to do so, with a purpose in his mind, when explaining to Colonel Crane the intent of Yerger, to ad to Colonel Crane the intent of Yerger, to ad-vise him not to go upon the streets, and that he did so, stating that Yerger was armed and that his passions were greatly intensified by liquor. Unfortunately there is no living witness of this fact. But it is the statement of Dr. Harrington, who is a truthful, kind-hearted, generous man of peace, and would be the last person on earth to produce dissension, and the first to save a fellow mortal from the horrors of such a death as overtook the deceased. Chief of Police Isler, as will be seen by his testimony, gave the same advice which Dr. Harrington had given, but unfortunately it was not taken.

-Inst night the First United States Infantry BLUE, Band, which accompanies the Commandery, tendered a complimentary serenade to Gen Meade This afternoon it is expected that the Commandery will be drilled in Independence Square. The officers are-John A. Barnes, Eminent Commander; John P. Fiske, Generalissimo: E. I. Garfield, Captain-General Joseph B. Bampton, S. W., and S. C. Randall,

Several other Commanderies will remain in the city until to-night. This morning all of the public institutions in the city have received visits from the Knights from abroad.

GUNFOWDER HAMMER.—The first public ex-hibition of Thomas Shaw's Gunpowder Ham-mer, as applied to pile-driving, took place on Monday afternoon, at the ship-yard of John W. Lynn, Reed street wharf. Mr. Shaw acted as engineer, and a committee consisting of W. W. Wood, Esq., Chief Engineer of the United States Navy; T. J. Lovegrove, Esq., Inspector-of Boilers, and H. L. Hoff, Esq., of the Eagle Iron Works, kept the record. They report the following result: The cartridge used contained one-third of an ounce of gunpowder; the ham-mer weighed 675 pounds, and the cylinder or gun 1,500 pounds. This was loaded and fired fifty-five times in one minute and a quarter. The driving power is eight times as great as that of the steam ham-mer, and the speed ten times. The rapidity of the movement allows the pile no rest, thereby overcoming the lateral pressure. The motive power is always ready, and there is no waste of power as with steam. The pile requires no ringing, and the force being applied in the form of a squeeze, the pile is driven home without the slightest injury or indication of the means employed. GUNPOWDER HAMMER .- The first public ex means employed. The exhibition was a complete success, ex-ceeding the expectations of the inventor and big trioute

A NEW HOUSE.—The new house of the Shif-fler Hose and Steam Engine Company, on Moyamensing avenue, below Dickerson street, is very nearly finished. The first-story street, is very nearly finished. The inst-story of the front is of iron, bronzed, and the apper stories of pressed brick. The editice is sur-mounted by a cupola nearly one hundred feet high. A clock and bell are to be placed in the cupola, the city having made an appropriation for that purpose. This will be a great accom-modation to the residents in that section of the citr. city.

INCORPORATED.—The Young Männerchor was, yesterday, granted a charter of incorpora-tion by the Court of Common Pleas. This is the first singing society chartered in this is the first singing society chartered in this city. The Y. M. is one of the leading German musical societies in the city, and the members are now going through a complete training for the next General Sängerfest, to be held in Baltimore; where, it is highly probable, they will secure one of the prizes offered for the best singing. Mr. William Hartmann is the leader of the society.

BILLIARDS .- At the saloon of Mr. Palmer, BILLIARDS.—At the saloon of Mr. Palmer, No. 609 Chestnut street, this evening, matches will be played by John McDevitt, ex-cham-pion of the United States, Victor Estephe, and E. J. Plunkett, ex-champion of Pennsylvania, and James Palmer. The matches will consist of the French game and the four-ball Ameri-can game, push barred. Mr. Palmer will play the French game with McDevitt, and as both are in excellent play a builliant match is both are in excellent play a brilliant match is expected.

ASSAULTING POLICEMEN.-John Devine, alias "Piggy," and Jno. McGonigle were arrest-edjyesterday, at Ninth and Chestnut streets, by Reserve Officers Henderson, Flood and Cloak, for having thrown astone at a manin a wagon. They resisted the officers violently, and also ssaulted them. The prisoners were held to answer.

LARCENY OF WASHED CLOTHING .-... John Brown, a negro, was arrested last night, at Seventh and Federal streets, on suspicion of the larceny of washed clothing which was found in his possession. He was committed by Alderman Tittermary. The clothing is at the Second District Station House awaiting an owner.

LARCENY OF A WATCH.—James Smith, colored, was committed yesterday by Alder-man Carpenter, to answer the charge of lar-ceny. It is alleged that he went into a house at Seventh and Bedford streets, and stole a watch.

Tule and well recognized principles, here was in end of the matter, and I declined to ober his unreasonable in-structions. Under all the circumstances, attacked and surprised as I was. I could neither do or say more or less. This next day L received noice of my removal. The practice of the detective department which I pur-sued is followed in every municipal government in this country and Europe. If regulates the 'revenue depart-ment, and the executive branch of the State, and ma-tional fovernment. The principle is elementary. In Bouth's case, the rule was adopted and observed in the distribution of the revert offered for his capture, and some of the officers now connected with the city govern-ment under Mr. Fox received their share of that re-ward, as they were engaged in the pursuit, although n=more under Mr. Fox received their share of that re-ward, as they were 'engaged in the pursuit, although n=more in where for violating no rule of the Detective Department or easy government, and for no misconduct or malfeasance on my pirt. The humblest and meaned tulprit, shielded by the law, is entitled, under its forms, to be heard in his defence before he is condemned. Drumhead courts-martial eren are never forgetful of that solutary principle. But the acting Chief Executive of a great city, in the mean course pursued towards me, has been guided by no principle of equily or inspir story pastions, prejudged an official of his own selection, over-ridien all principle and precedent, and in the presence of subalterns, dramatically. I had almost sold tragetally, arrayed for the occasion has trannically sought, by a single word and a stroke of the per, to be my judge, jury and executioner. U pon a caun survey of all the surroundings of my case, I can arrive at no other conclusion thau that Mr. Fox through motives unknown to me, has privating there it is to be use regreted that one so recently held SHEPPARD, VAN HARLINGEN & ARRISON 1008 CHESTNUT STREET. Have opened a large stock of By case, his might definited on my removal without de-liberation, and without invite acquainted bimself, or desiring to acquaint binself, with the facts. the same actives which Dr. Harmington mar-given, but unfortunately it was not taken. Strange enough, the deceased did not, as a con-rsevator of the peace, order the arrest of Yerger, not withstanding his belligerent message, from the streets, nor did he prepare himself with arms for a deadly encounter, nor still did he keep out of harm's way. The cause of his failure to adopt some precautionary measure is explained in the testimony of Isler. A short time before the fatal meeting, he was on President street, examining a side-walk which had been reported to him to be in a condition to need repairs. The parties met on the corner of State and Capital streets. We will leave what followed to the recital of wit-nesses:
