LETTER FROM ATLANTIC CITY.

The Glorious Fourth-Celebration at At-Indic. The "Ledger" Excursion-Fire Norks, Patriotism and Glory, Atlantic City, July 6, 1869.—Editor Evening Bulletin-Sin: At this place we have had a glorious celebration in honor of the "na tion's birthday."

On Saturday evening last, at the Sea View Hotel (the new Excursion House), a beautiful display of fireworks was given, under the directionn of Messrs. Horace Whiteman and William Cantlin, attachés of the railroad company. These gentlemen, at their own expense, procured the material for the exhibition, and conducted it in a manner as creditable to themselves as it was gratifying to those who witnessed it. After the display a number of the ladies and gentlemen present adjourned to the spacious parlor, where the band (Carn-cross & Dixey's) attached to the hotel dis-coursed most excellent music. The company separated at a late hour, highly pleased with coursed most excellent music. The company separated at a late hour, highly pleased with the evening's entertainment. On Sunday evening a parlor concert was given at the Sea View, in which Messrs. Prest-wich, Holden and Coxe, assisted by the band, took part. The room was well filled, the greater part of those present being ladies. Monday was a gala day. In the morning the Ledger excursionists arrived, and were welcomed by nearly all the residents of the place. There were some five or six hundred people assembled around the porches of the hotel, anxiously awaiting their arrival, and about half-past twelve they came. The train was drawn by two locomotives, and consisted of 21 cars, containing between 1,500 and 1,700 people-men,women and children. After alighting from the cars, they took complete possession of the hotel. The balconies, rooms, in fact, all the apartments, soon found occu pants. After getting the dust off of them, some strolled on the beach, others bathed, rode, etc. Shortly after one o'clock dinner commenced, and was continued until about half-past four, when all hands having satisfied rode, etc. Shortly after onle of the bound and commenced, and was continued until about half-past four, when all hands having satisfied their appetites, the room was cleared for the dancing, which was kept up until twenty minutes after seven, and at 7.30 the train, with minutes after seven, and at 7.30 the train, with its tremendous amount of human freight, started on its homeward trip. On Monday evening, at the Sea Side House, located on Pennsylvania avenue, Messrs. Evans & Haines proprietors, a grand time was had. The house was beautifully illuminated, Chinese lanterns of every shape and color being hung in profusion over the house; the doors and windows were all thrown open, the rooms lighted up, etc., and the effect was rooms lighted up, etc., and the effect was splendid. Carneross & Dixey's band was in splendid. splendid. Carneross & Dixey's bala was in attendance. The proprietors gave their guests the benefit of a very fine pryrotechnic dis-play, and had a sumptuous collation prepared in their dining hall, to which some 70 or 80

Haffeltinger, Louis Grosholz, J. L. Newbold, Mr. Reath and Daniel Donovan. All these residences were handsomely illuminated, and were in a perfect blaze of glory, as far as fireworks were concerned. Taken altogether, fireworks were concerned. Taken anogenet, it put one in mind of the way the Fourth of July used to be celebrated in Professor Jack-son's time in your city. The exhibition was certainly creditable to the above gentlemen. So you can see that we have had any quantity of 4th of July celebrations. You can now run down to this place in one of 4th of July celebrations. You can now run down to this place in one hour and three-quarters. The railroad com-pany is keeping up with the times, running five trains daily to and from this place—David H. Mundy, the efficient agent, being con-stantly at his post looking after the comforts of those who are to travel over the road. Horace Whiteman is an excellent secretary, and the Messrs. Alexander Boardman, O. Beecker, Archibald Fields, John Lee and John Leven on all obliging and gentlemanly John Layer are all obliging and gentlemanly conductors. They leave nothing whatever undone that will in the least promote the comforts of their passengers. So, with the in-creased facilities, etc., the railroad expects to do an immense business, exceeding any of former years.

MILL CREEK SEWER .- On Monday of last week there was a contract awarded to Chas J. and James F. Kennedy for the construction

J. and James F. Kennedy for the construction of a sewer, to be built in the Twenty-seventh Ward, in the following streets: It will be upon the lines of Forty-third and Sansom streets, beginning at the intersection of the south line of Baltimore avenue with Forty-third street, and terminating at or about the west line of Forty-tourth street, on the line of Sansom street, with such minor branches as may during its prosecution be branches as may during its prosecution be found necessary. It will be constructed in rock and earth excavations, and also in the open channel of Mill Creek.

In shape it will have a circular arch, twenty feet span, upon abutments, with such batter, as will, in a height of six feet, give a width of eighteen feet, from which will spring a counter arch, having a versed sine (or curve) of two feet four inches. Both arch and counter arch rect four menes. Both arch and conter arch will be eighteen inches thick, built of brick. The abutments in the rock excavations are to be of the same material and thickness as the arch and counter material and thickness as the arch and counter arch. Where the sewer runs through the open channel of the creek a stone cradle will be re-quisite, and the abutments will be of stone, faced with brick, thirteen inches in thickness. The material used will be of the best and most substantial kind; where brick-work is neces-sary, there will be no half bricks or bats used, and the stone used for the cradle must be apand the stone used for the crafter but but the ap-proved both as to quality and size. In the rock cuts the main arch will be twenty-four tect in diameter.

feet in diameter. The contractors propose starting in the fall with the work. This is very large, and one of the most expensive sewers that have been built in Philadelphia for some years, and we hope the contractors will look to the interests of the residents in the Twenty-seventh Ward. The people residing in that section of the city decm it necessary to have a culvert of these dimensions, in order to carry the large quan-tity of stagnant water, that collects in different places during stormy weather.

places during stormy weather. YouTHFUL INCENDIARIES.—A one-story brick office on Broad street, above Wood, was destroyed by fire about half-past two o'clock. It was owned by Wm. G. Caldeleugh, and was unoccupied, having been recently vacated by Wm. Wester, lumber dealer. Two youths, named Robert Devine, aged fourteen years, and James Collins, aged ten years, were ar-rested by order of Fire Maxshal Blackburn, upon the charge of having fired the premises. The evidence shows that the lot, which was formeriv used for a lumber yard, has been conformerly used for a lumber yard, has been con-verted into a play ground. Yesterday after-noon about one hundred boys, of all ages, verted filled a place globality for the purpose of playing noon about one hundred boys, of all ages, gathered there for the purpose of playing ball. While the game was in progress, Devine and Collins slipped into the office, the rear door and window of which were open. A drawer in a desk contained a lot of old papers, and on the top of the desk was a lamp partly filled with coal oil. The juveniles took the lamp, poured the oil over the loose papers, and then applied a lighted match to the pile. They then closed the door and window and joined in the game of ball. In a short time the smoke oozed out through the cracks, and a cry of fire was, raised. All of the boys then rushed to the Western En-gine house and assisted in taking the hose-car-riage to the scene of the fire. The accused tell the same story in regard to the origination of the boys they in the same who arranged. same story in regard to the origination of the fire, but say that it was a man who arranged the papers and set them on fire. BREACH OF PROMISE.

The Sprague-Craig Case---S60,000 Taken Off of the Verdict. The Cincinnat Commercial gives an account of the revision of the Chronit Court, of Whea-ton, Illinois, of the Sprague-Craig breach of promise case, in which it will be recollected the jury gave Miss Sprague $100,000 damages. The Commercial's report says: "The Court then took up the question of ex-cessive damages, as it referred directly to the present suit. He stated that courts would rarely ever interfere or set aside a verdict of a jury in an action of this nature, unless it clearly

There appeared to be no undue influence, but he was not prepared to say there was no preju-dice; the minds of the jury must have been pre-judiced by the course the defendant's counsel assumed for their client, by holding him upto be a miserable and unprincipled wretch. The Court concluded by asking Mr. Tourtellotte, of the coursel for Miss Craig, if he would re-mit. Mr. Tourtellotte agreed to remit $60,000, and the Court thereupon entered a remitter of the amount, leaving the verdict to stand $40,000, and overruled the motion for a new trial, entering judgment on the verdict for $40,000.
