THE REGISTRY LAW. at Nisi Prius, upon the unconstitutionality of the Registry Law, we took occasion to comment upon the transparent political partisanship of the learned judge's decision. That this criticism was just, is abundantly demonstrated by the action of the Supreme Court, which, through the masterly argument of Judge Agnew, now reverses the specious reasoning of Judge Sharstional. This decision of the Supreme Court. npon principles so rudimental that the common people can easily understand it, and Judge Agnew's earnest assertion of the true principles which should and must govern our popular elections will be read and pondered by thousands in this community who ordinarily turn away from voluminous legal documents as from something beyond their comprehension. Judge Sharswood labored to save his party from the fatal effects of this Registry Law by showing that it overthrows "free and equal elections." He endeavored to show that, in various particulars, the elections in Philadelphia would differ from those in the State, and therefore they would not be "free and equal." This was the sum and substance of that partisan opinion. Judge Agnew sweeps away the fallacies of and equal elections" which commends itself to the good sense of all honest men. He truly says:

deposit their ballots in safety, and unpreju-diced by fraud. That election is not free and equal where the true electors are not separat from the false; where the ballot is not e posited in safety, or where it is supplanted by fraud. It is, therefore, the duty of fraud. It is, therefore, the duty of the Legislature to secure freedom and vote. A free and equal election is the end: ns to attain it are the means. If the or diversity of the regulations by which the That a city of 800,000 inhabitants requires [Special Despatch to the Philada. Evening Bulletin.] New York, July 8.—The steamer Deutsch land sailed, to-day, for Bremen, with $70,000 AMERICAN CITIZENS IN CEBA.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says:
The attention of the President has been called to recent executions in Cuba of American citizens without trial or color of law. The case of Speekman, in particular, has been made the subject of Cabinet discussion, and I have the highest authority for the announcement that an official investigation has been ordered. Not only have instructions been forwarded to our Consuls to inquire into all the cir cumstances surrounding the case, but in anticipation of some trouble, Admiral Hoff has been ordered to despatch a war vessel to San-tiago de Cuba to back up the efforts of our Consuls to obtain reliable information, and if necessary demand satisfaction. All the in-formation thus far obtained by our Govern-ment relative to Speekman's execution tends to show that it was destitute of a particle of justification. The facts forwarded to you by one of your Cuban correspondents are corrobo-rated by the intelligence received at the State Department, and leave no room to doubt that the execution was completely inexcussible on the ground of in-ternational law. Indeed, it would seem that outside of the city of Havana the Spanish authority is powerless, and that the volu do just as they please, without the slightest regard to the wishes of Rodas or his subordinates. There is reason to believe that the Governor of the district in which Speekman was executed was opposed to the act, but was overruled by the volunteers, who, spite of the protests of our own Consul and the Consul of Great Britain, put their victim to death without waiting for the shadow of investigation.

THE LATE MILLARD FILLMORE. Another Ex-President on the Situation-What a Political Fossil Thinks of Grant. A reporter of the New York Herald, in the course of a conversation with Millard Fill-more, extracted the following opinion from The first subject of conversation introduced was that of the eneral Grant and his administration. Mr. I Impre believes General Grant means well tishes to do right, but that through his in perience in politics and public affairs he Las got himself into the meshes of the politicians, and has lost the finest opportunity for benefitting the country. He referred particularly to Gen. Grant's position immediately after the inauguration with regard to the ately after the inauguration, with regard to the Tenure of Office act and the difficulties which the politicians in Congress raised about the Cabinet. He thinks that had Grant been firm ned the Senate would have vielded for formed the Senate would have yetded, for Grant held at that time the confidence of the people and would have been supported by them. Besides, Senators as well as members of the House wanted the distribution of the offices, and the President had, in offices, and the President had, in the power of nomination, the winning card. Had he refused to make any ap-pointments, unless this act were repealed, the Senators would have been so impressed by his firmness and so anxious to get the offices for would they have embarrassed the President about his Cabinet, nor have led him to change he original cast of it to suit their political view and ends. Distasteful as were his first Cabine appointments and the policy in making them t these politicians, and much as they wished t eling to the power they had acquired over the Executive, they would have surrendered for Special advices from Puerto Rico announce that a great revolution against Spain has broken out in that island. The city of Ponce has been set on fire by the insurgents and nearly burned to the ground. Circulars have been distributed ordering the negroes and the natives to burn all houses marked with blood. All houses of wealthy Spaniards were thus designated, but those who owned them were not discovered; however, some of the most prominent were killed after the fires. During the confusion several soldiers were also killed, and the authorities did not attempt to maintain order. Most of the richest families have left for St. Thomas on their way, for Europe whether they had not been victimized by the clis again. The circulation of the story at such a time he-very suspicious appearative. It is to be hoped of cor-that Secretary Bontwell will release currency to gen use; but the report to-day seemed premature and as-gambling device. Whether true or not, it was very fully used by the cliques. In the rush to lond more the close, they probably added the buoyancy of the ment by contributing to the supply of: funds avail for loans, while the sundler dealers in money frightened into letting their money go at any pric tain order. Most of the richest families have lett for St. Thomas, on their way for Europe and the United States, among them Mr. Cabriera and family, Dr. Pijal, Mrs. Maudri and family, Mr. Molinda, and Don Manuel Ferris y Sonos and family. Many poor people fled to the mountains. The overseers of the neighboring plantations and the white laborers have been conscripted by the authorities. A general uprising was momentarily expected. The soldiers were mostly raw recruits from Spain and were rapidly dying of yellow fever. The revolutionists were becoming bolder, and were only waiting the yellow fover to continue a little longer its deadly work before commenral uprising was momentarily expected. The soldiers were mostly raw recruits from Spain and were rapidly dying of yellow fever. The revolutionists were becoming bolder, and were only waiting the yellow fover to continue a little longer its deadly work before commencing an active warfare. The negroes, too, had of late displayed much dissatisfaction, and many had left their masters and escaped to the mountains, where the revolutionists are fast congregating in large numbers.

[Special Despatch to the Phila. Evening Bulletin.] THE INDIAN PEACE COMMISSIONERS. WASHINGTON, July 8 .- A nice little quarrel has been going on for some time between cer-tain members of the Indian Peace Commis-tion and Commissioner Parker and Secretary Cox, which, at one time, assumed a very serious aspect, but through the decision of Preous aspect, but through the decision of Fre-sident Grant an open rupture was avoided and the affair partially arranged. Thus far the matter has been kept secret from the pub-lic. It appears that after the appoint-ment of this Commission by President Grant, certain members, including Mr. Wm. Welsh, its President, maintained that the Commission was not merely an advisory body, but possessed, under the law, executive power, and that all moneys appropriated by Congress and that all moneys appropriated by Congress to be distributed among the Indians, and to car-ry into effect the law which created the Board night properly to pass into their hands, and not o the Indian Bureau. Secretary Cox and Commissioner Parker took opposite ground mon the law they would be nothing than mere clerks, and Congress certainly never intended this. Considerable feeling seems to be manifested by one or two members of the Commission, who prepared a confidential letter addressed to their associates, in which both Secretary Cox and Commissioner Parker were referred to in not very complimentary terms. Finally President Grant was appealed terms. Finally President Grant was appealed to, and he sustained the views of Secretary—Cox and Indian—Commissioner—Parker, that the Commission was merely an advisory body, not vested with Executive power. An interchange of views between the members of the Commission disclosed the fact that all but two members were in favor of acting in accordance with the interpretation placed upon the law by the President and his Cabinet, to whom the question was submitted. This not being satisfactory to Mr. Welsh, the President of the Commission, and Mr. Campbell, of Missouri, they tendered their resignations to the President, who Welsh, the President of the Commission, and Mr. Campbell, of Missouri, they tendered their resignations to the President, who promptly accepted them. It is understood that the President will not fill these two vacan-cies for the present, at least. The Commission leaves next week for the Indian country on an extensive tour of observation. The country-has been cut up into three districts, and the Commission so divided that each district can be visited at the same time by one or more members. THE REPORTED RECALL OF ADMIRAL HOFF Admiral Porter authorizes a denial of the report that it has been determined to recall Admiral Hoff from the command of the Cuban squadron. He says that the course of Admiral Hoff has been in every way satisfactory to the Department, and there is not the least intention of ordering him home or to turn over his command to another.
