THE CATHEDRAL OF MILAN.

The cathedral, at the first sight, is bewildering. Gothic art, transported entire into Italy at the close of the middle ages, attains at once its triumph and its extravagance. Never had it been seen so pointed, so highly embroidered, so complex, so overcharged, so strongly resembling a piece of jewelry; and as, instead of coarse and lifeless stone, it here takes for its material the heautiful instrous Italian marble.
