THE BEGISTRY LAW. The Commissioners Ordered to Furnis

COMMON PLEAS—Judge Peirce.—This morning the case involving the enforcement of the Registry law came up and was argued upor a return to the alternative mandamus to com pel the City Commissioners to issue the neces sary papers and blanks.

The answer of the Commissioners sets forth t. That by Section 5 of the act of April 1858, it is provided "that no debt or contrac hereafter incurred or made shall be binding hereafter incurred or made shall be binding upon the City of Philadelphia, unless authorized by law or ordinance, and an appropriation sufficient to pay the same be previously made by Councils; provided that persons claiming an authorized debt or contract may recover against the person or persons illegally making the same."

That by section 4 of said act of April 21, 1838, it is provided (that the City Commissioners of t is provided "that the City Commissioners of the said city hereafter chosen. * * * And hat no debt shall be contracted or warrant drawn against the city by said Commissioners except for purposes legally authorized, and not to exceed the appropriation therefor made by Councils." That by section 26 of the act of May 13, 1856, it is provided that "hereafter all goods, merchandise, and other articles of any kind, and labor and service required for the city of Philadelphia, in any department thereof, shall be purchased or contracted for only in such manner as shall be prescribed by ordinance, and for that purpose the Councils of said city are hereby required to direct by ordinance the manner and time of making the yearly estimates by the several departments of said city, and of receiving proposals for such supplies as aforesaid, which proposals shall be preceded by advertisement; and no contract shall be awarded to any but the lowest bidder, who shall 'give the requisite security therefor." That by Section 41 of the act of April 17, 1869, under which the present application is made, it is provided, "That it shall be the duty of the Councils of the city of Philadelphia to fix the amount of county tax to be assessed personally and annually on the fix the amount of county tax to be assessed personally and annually on the qualified electors of the said city at a rate sufficient to provide for the payment of all election expenses in the said city; and no part of said tax assessed and collected shall be an lied to any other purpose, and the said Cou cils shall appropriate annually a sufficient sum for the said purposes; and the City Commis-sioners shall furnish all the books, blanks, stamps, stationery and materials necessary for the purposes of this act, which shall be paid or out of the appropriations to be made as aforesaid."

That no appropriation whatever has been made by Councils, providing payment for the books, blanks, stamps, stationery and materials which the relators demand, that the respond-ents shall furnish under said Section 41 of the ents shall furnish under said Section 41 of the act of April 17, 1869.

That the respondents are advised, in view of the premises, that any contract entered into on measures taken by them for the purpose of furnishing the said books, blanks, stamps, stationery and materials demanded by the said writ of alternative mandamus would be unauthorized and illegal.

The return is signed by David Weaver and John F. Ballier, two of the three Commis-Mr. Dropsie, at some length, argued that the Mr. Dropsie, it some length, argued that the City Commissioners could have no power to nullify a great State law; and yet if the return of the gentlemen is sustained, this will be the effect. He urged that the Court had the power to direct the respondents to furnish the papers in order to enable the officers, under the Registry law, to carry out the purposes of the City Solicitor Barger, in reply, said that the Commissioners had no disposition to defeat the law, but in view of suits against public

After the passage of the Registry act the Commissioners lost no time in forwarding to Councils the estimate of the amount required to carry out the law. That estimate is the basis of the ordinance which failed in Select Council for want of a duorum. want of a quorum.

Judge Peirce, at the conclusion of the argument, said — I have no doubt that the City Commissioners have been acting in good faith in this matter. Their position is one of great delicacy and responsibility, and they have delicacy and responsibility, and they have acted wisely in requiring some construction of this act, and in asking to be informed of their duties under the provisions of the law. I think all public officers, in all matters affecting their duties, should putse and hesitate, in doubtful cases, until light from some quarter shall come; and they should not take upon themselves unnecessarily duties which do not belong to them. This is a question of some importance.
