we, by accepting money for this injury, say to the world that we are a nation of peddlers; that we look only to cash balances; that any foreign nation is at liberty to fire upon our flag insult our sovereignty, wring our noses, and send us a check.

The insolence of England in the matter of Mason and Slidell was even more insupportable than the injuries she committed by the Alabama. They were on their way to Europe in a British vessel, one the accredited representation of the responsibility of ministers. This is the principle upon which the English nation has withstood and advanced upon arbitrary power,

After determining to release these prisoners,
Seward's reply should have been couched in veying the field eastward, and her present con- ten lines. He should have informed England the people, and against the privileged classes. In this condition of the world the United dition and the relations which exist between that her demand was technically right, and was that government and ours, merit a more extended consideration than the time will warrant.

For all these injuries and all this insolence, a floured for the people and the Bishball follow in demanding our rights of English Lancaster, between the people and in the future.

For all these injuries and all this insolence, we have a right to hold England responsible, lancaster, which is a monarchical government; a queen; a floure of the realm; and a House of Commons, standing for the people. The House of Commons is overwhelmingly republican; the House of Commons is overwhelmingly republican; the House of Commons is overwhelmingly republican; the House of Commons is not rights by war, to be an instrument in the floures are engaged in a ferce strugh gle for the supremacy, and the Cueen is a gle for the supremacy and the Queen is a gle for the supremacy and the Commons have passed a bill disestablishing the preponderance of the republicant in gle for the proportions of the following the fol ing the Irish Church; the Lords, after the most violent and disorderly debate ever known in that House—a debate during which by-stand-or from the first time in English history groaned at the nonsense of a Lord—destroyed the effect of the bill by amendments which the Commons have indignantly rejected. The difference between the Houses is one of principle which no committee of conference can reconcile, and one House or the other must recede; and it is certain that the Commons will not, because they are supported by the people, and the voice of the people is omnipotent, even in Great Britain. This bill may be delayed, it cannot be defeated.

Then the Bishops must leave the House of Lords; and then the House of Lords, purged of its only popular element, may well apprehend the accidents which John Bright threatened them with, and the crown itself will be in equal danger. Revolutions in popular feeling never go backwards. The movements in England at the present time give goodly promise that at no distant day Great Britain will be a Republic in form as it already is in substance. At all events it is safe to predict that the people of England will hereafter control the government whatever may be its form.

Vice Presidents-Nancy Whitmore, of Rochester, New York, and Miss Bates, of Auexponent, alike to citizen and foreign visitor, of the battle of Gettysburg.

The more effectually to accomplish this its purpose, and before proceeding to erect the indications, the association desires to derive the impertant requisite information from authonic and original sources. It earnesfly realizes that justice to themselves and fidelity to the truth of history entitle the officers who commanded the forces in action to designate the mositions.

Chester, New York, and Miss Bates, of Authorn, Maine.

Secretary—Miss Abbie Jacques, of Lynn.

The Committee on Credentials reported thirty delegates present, representing the following towns and cities:

Lynn, South Abington, Stoneham, Danvers, North Easton, North Enidgewater, Auburn, Me., Rochester, San Francisco, Chicago and Philadelphia. The objects of the Order are identical with those of the Knights of St. Crisin, and the purpose of this Convention is art of war, and an ever-cloquent though silent the forces in action to designate the positions and define the movements thus to be perpetuated.

Crispin, and the purpose of this Convention is to form a National Grand Lodge, so that the various Lodges in the Order may be competuated.
With this high historic purpose in view, I am bined. instructed by the board, as secretary and on oehalf of the association, to invite you, Gene-behalf of the association, to invite you, General, to co-operate in this work of indication and to attend a reunion of the officers of your brigade, division, corps, and army upon the battle-grounds, there to confer together and battle-grounds, there to confer together and Saratoga Springs.
