THE TWO CANDIDATES

Within a few weeks the people of Pennsyl political power. vania will be called to decide upon the merits of the two political parties which now struggle for the mastery, their platforms and candi ates. The Republican party has presented for the suffrages of the people, a gentleman who has made his record as an incumbent, of the office which he seeks to retain, and upon the basis of that record must stand the scruinv of his fellow-citizens whose votes he so-

ECUADOR! Guayagun, July 25.—We are all frightened over the predictions of the German savant who declares that this/year we shall experience the greatest earthquakes that have ever been known. These predictions are believed ence the greatest carthquakes that have ever been known. These predictions are believed by a great many, particularly as we have every now and then a good shaking. On the 21st inst. we had quite a severe shock of carthquake here, which was felt as far as Paita and Callao. Two days afterward a shower of ashes fell over this city, which, it is believed, proceed from the old volcano Pichinchi, the mountain on which the City of Quito is situated. A story illustrative of the character of Attorney-General Hoar has just been brought to light, in connection with the nomination of Daniel E. Sickles as Minister to Spain. The appears that the nomination of Sickles, inker that of most other foreign ministers, was discussed in Cabinet council previous to his appointment. When Sickles and the previous to his appointment when sickles and the previous to his appointment. When Sickles and the previous to his appointment when sickles are the previo wises its his appointment. When Sickles's name was mentioned by the President. Mr. Hoar, raising his spectacles above his eyebrows, said, "if! recollect right it appears to me that General Sickles' was mixed up with the Ostend manifesto. I don't know how that would do in connection with his appointment to Spain." Secretary Fish. who was never enthusiastic for Sickles, seemed to take courage at the remark of Mr. Hoar, and interposed that his recollection was similar to that of Mr. Hoar concerning the Ostend manifesto. He also expressed some doubts of the propriety of sending Mr. Sickles to Spain, in view of his connection with that affair. There was a brief pause, after which Secretary Bawlinssaid, "Well, I was in favor of the Ostend manifesto myself at the time it was issued." "Yes, "said Creswell, "and so was I in favor of the then." There was another brief silence, when the President, looking at the council board in a thoughful manner, said, "Gentles men, I believe I was in favor of that manifesto myself at the time it was issued." This put an end to the cavil. Hoar made no further obtain end to the cavil. Hoar made no further obtain end to the cavil. Hoar made no further obtain MEXICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION.
