OHIO POLITICS. How Reservans Came to be Nominated

From the Cincinnati Commercial, Aug. 10.] The mystery of Rosecrans's inomination has never been satisfactorily solved. The osten-sible were not the real reasons. The party never been satisfictorify solvat. The osten-sible were not the real reasons. The party was not so anxious for a "new departure" as was pretended, or at all concerned about the availability of any member in good and regu-lar standing who might be brought forward and put at the head of the ticket. There was a deeper motive. Some months ago leading Democrats in Northern Ohio and New York city put their heads together to fix up things for the Presidency in 1872. The New Yorkers are anxious to make Hoffman the candidate at this time, and agreed with their Ohio brethren that the second place on the Presidential ticket should be given to Judge Ranney, and in order to give the latter the necessary prestigeit was thought advisable to press his claims at Columbus for the nomi-nation for Governor. If elected it would put him in the proper position to go before the National Convention in 1872. These negotiations were very secretly and him in the proper position to go before the National Convention in 1872. These negotiations were very secretly and quietly conducted, but not so covertly that the interds of Mr. Pendleton did not get hold of it. They were in a quandary. He had only to say the word and he could have been nomi-nated at Columbus, without a doubt. But that was not the rub. Could he be elected? The risks were considered too great to be taken. A defeat now would inevitably put an extinguisher on his chauces for the great national prize. But it was neces-sary to show his strength and head off the Hoffman-Ranney movement. So his friends cast about for a man who would carry the Con-vention against Ranney. The availability of Cary, Sayler and others, was closely can-vassed, and it was finally decided that none of them had the strength to beat the most popular Democratin the northern part of the State. The name of General' Rosecrans was mentioned, and ultimately agreed upon as the one which the friends of Genternen and the store mentioned, and ultimately agreed upon as the one which the friends of Gentleman George one which the friends of Gentleman George should rally to. Through the diplomatic agency of a well-known Cincinnatian, the Butler county Demo-cracy were persuaded to accept the arrange-ment, and it will be remembered that they led off the Rosecrans movement in the Convention in fine style and years much to the survive of on the style, and very much to the surprise of the uninitiated, who presumed on the stub-bornness of the delegation from that county should any attempt be made to take a new de-parture; and put any but an orthodox Demo-crat at the head of the ticket.

The contest in the Convention was really a test of strength between the Pendletonians and Hoffmanic Democrats, and as the result showed, the latter were the weaker party.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

The Cubans and the Spanish Revolution --Interesting Disclosures,

Hints have been, from time to time, throwu out relative to an understanding which is said to have taken place between the leaders of the present Government party in Spain and the Cuban revolutionists. But certain facts have lately come to light which present the matter in a more definite form. Previous to the revolution of September the exiled Generals told one or two leading Gu-bans, then in Spain, that they were going to make a revolutionary attempt, and asked to know what the Cubans would do in the pre-mises. To this it was answered that they would aid as far as they could; and after cer-tain conferences and some delay (pending which a Commission arrived from Cuba) it was agreed that the Cuban patriots, through the Junta at Havana, should pay whatever expenses might accrue in the district of Cadiz, but only upon the express condition that autonony was, in case of success, to be immediately conceded to Cuba. The understanding was thorough, and Udaeta, Modet, and two others, colonels in the Spanish army in Cuba, were let into the secret; and were to have aided in carrying out the programme. It was further understood that in case the Cadiz movement should fail, the Generals would take a part of their squadron, sail over would take a part of their squadron, sail over to Havana, and, proclaiming autonomy, fight out the question with the Cubans. The move-ment succeeded, as every one knows; the Cuban Junta sent over $500,000 (the estimate of expenses incurred at Cadiz), which was paid over to Count Brunel, and afterward dis-bursed. Serrano, Prim, and Torpete, however, failed in their promises. It has been stated, and perhaps it is true that certain leading Cubana perhaps it is true, that certain leading Cubans, who were not sure of success in the Cuban movement, wrote over to Dulce to hasten his coming to the island, because they believed that he would carry out the understanding re-ferred to, which would, as they thought, have ended the war.

CITY BULLETIN. HOP AT CHESTNUT SPRINGS .- The quests of Chestnut Springs boarding house, at Chestnut Hill-one of the finest establishments of its Hill-one of the finest establishments of its kind in the rural section of Philadelphia-gave a grand, hop, last evening, and a number of distinguished Philadelphian's were invited. The entire party numbered about two hundred and fifty, and a more select or wealthy assem-blage of ladies, gentlemen, and families, has not joined in any of the festive scenes of the season. The house and trees were dressed in flags and particulared lanters. The view flags and parti-colored lanterns. The view was splendid. The Orchestra was under the leadership of

J. P. Watson, Assistants—Messrs. Heaton and Beaswarger. Committee of Arrangements—Messrs. J. P. Watson, W. D. Dutton, Wm. F. Smith, Jr. . The programme for dahcing was well se-lected. At mine o'clock the sound of the cor-bet announced the commencement of the feslected. At nine o'clock the sound of the cor-net announced the commencement of the fes-tivities. Hon. Daniel M. Fox, Mayor of Phil-adelphia, led off on the grand march. The scene presented during the evening was like a magnificent panorama, charming in every rc-spect. The ball was kept up until two o'clock this morning, when the orchestra, with piano accompaniments, performed Thalberg's "Home, Sweet Home," and the participants retired, all well satisfied with the evening's en-tertainment. At 1240 a special train was in readiness at Willow Grove station for the ac-commodation of the invited guests, most of commodation of the invited guests, most of whom returned to the city at this hour.

JUNGER MÆNNERCHOR .-- The annual pic JUNGER MENNERCHOR.—The annual pic nic of the Junger Männerchor came off yes-terday, at Engel & Wolf's farm. The mem-bers, with their families and friends turned out in full force, and nearly one thousand per-sons, a large portion of whom were ladies and children, assembled on the grounds. Professor Ritter's brass band and orchestra were present. During the afternoon some fine selec-tions were sung by the members of the Society, and elicited hearty applause. Music, dancing and other amusements were indulged in, and anybody who participated in the yerv pleaanybody who participated in the very plea sant affair had no reason to complain of the sant affair had no reason to complain of the want of enjoyment. In the evening the grounds were brilliantly illuminated with varie-gated lanterns, and the festivities were kept up until a late hour. The Männerchor and Philadelhhia Turners were present by special invitation. The annual picnics of the Junger Männerchor have always been noted for so-ciability and general good cheer; and, as great care is always taken to rigidly exclude "roughs" and disreputable characters of all kinds,... have always passed off in the most agreeable manner. The picnic of 1869 fully sustained the excellent re-putation of the society for furnishing most de-Rightful entertainments for its members and their friends.

PHILADELPHIA MARTERS.—There has never been a more profusely abundant supply of summer fruits and vegetables in the Philadel-phia markets than at the present time. Peaches, tomatoes, apples, potatoes, egg plants, melons, &c., are a drug in the market, and are selling at all sorts of low prices. The margin between the wholesaler and retail markets is, in many cases, a most inordinate one, as the following comparison will show : Dock Street Market. Peaches from 30 to 50 cents per basket. Tomatoes from 10 to 15 cents per basket. Apples from 50 to 75 cents per basket. Sweet Potatoes $2 00 per basket. White Potatoes from 15 to 30 cts. per basket.

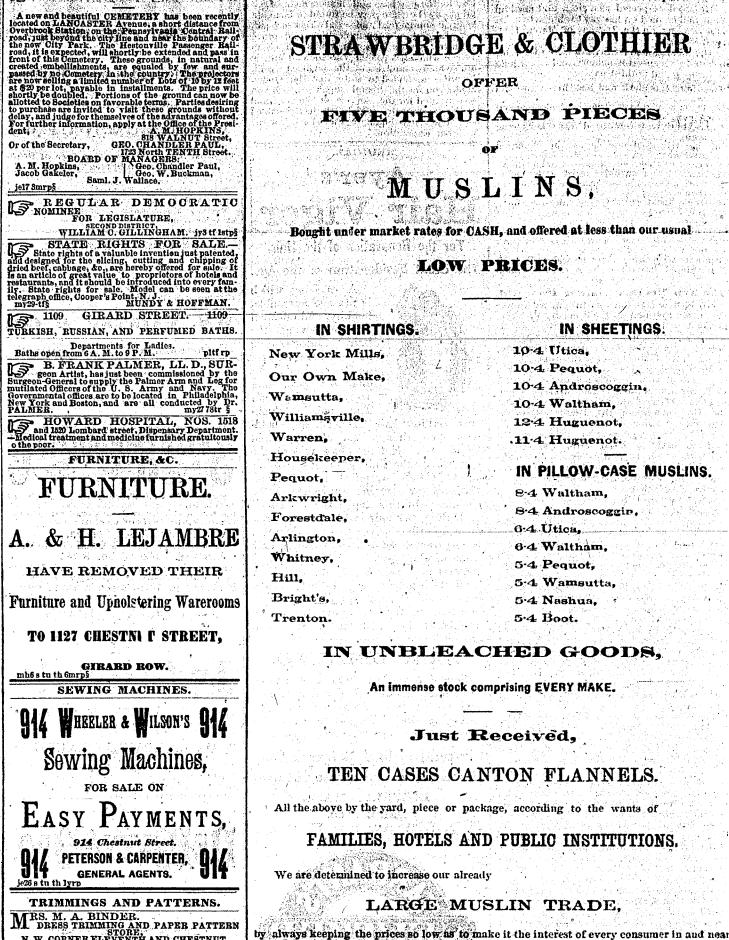

SCAROTY OF WATER.—During the whole of the past month the water in the Schuylkill, has been unprecedently low and is still de-creasing. In volume. The exigencies of the Sohuylkill Navigation Company, who claim the prior right to the water by the tarms of their charter, require the stopage of all the whoels at Fairmount for a portion of every day, this with the enormous consumption of water at this season of the year have taxed the works to their utmost. It is now difficult to keep up the supply even with all the available power in operation, and therefore our citizens should be careful not to waste any water and use it sparingly as possible. BOSE HILL CEMETERY. DWELLING ON FIRE .- This morning, about HOUSE ROBBERY.-The house of William Manning, No. 241 Currant alley, was entered by forcing open the trap door, last night. Bonds valued at $250, and $1,000 in United States notes, gold and silver were stolen.

ANOTHER NEW YORK BAY EXCURSION. The New York Bay Excursion, given by Beck's Band, on Saturday last, was very suc-cessful, and it has been determined to have cessful, and it has been determined to have another one on Monday next. The excursion-ists leave Walnut Street Wharf at 7.30 A. M., proceed by rail to Amboy, and then take its splendid steamboat William Cook. The trip around New York Bay and Staten Island is delightful, and every opportunity is given for a view of the magnificent scenery which lines the steamer's course. The members of the-band furnish both promenade and dancing music., The price of tickets is remarkably low, and those who desire to make a very cheap and enjoyable excursion can have no better chance afforded to them.

The Fernando Po Exiles.

The New York Tribune says: The three-Fernando Po exiles are still in the city. They are not much troubled with visitors, as their place of abode is not generally known. They are, of course, highly elated at meeting with their countrymen once more on free Ameri-can soil, and feel it difficult to entirely com-prehend the situation. They say the volun-teers who guarded them on their passage-treated them very roughly, and were not treated them very roughly, and were not sparing in threats and abuse, and sometimes even blows. Their food they purchased at a most exorbitant-rate, paying as high as $10 in-gold for cheeses worth about $1 apiece in Havana. They were 65 days on the passage, "and on their arrival at Fernando Po they, wore of loader but to loave the were released, with orders not to leave the colony. Many of the prisoners had very little colony. Many of the prisoners had very little money, and to such the Spanish authorities issued for a day's rations a small piece of bacon and a little rice in an uncooked state. Those who had money assisted those who had none. The gentlemen at vpresent in New York boarded with twelve others in a miscrable place called a "hotel," and paid " war prices" for every-thing. The rest of the prisoners rented wooden shanties, and messed together. At the time the exiles now in New York left the colony, many other prisoners had strong hopes of soon the exites how in New York left the colony, many other prisoners had strong hopes of soon effecting their escape. It appears that many of the gentlemen arrested had really done nothing that would justify their arrest, but all are now, very naturally, hearty sympathizers with the cause for which they have suffered.
