THE ARSENAL ROBBERY-HEARING BE-THE ADSENAL ROBBENT-HEARING BE-PORE ALDERMAN KERR-DISCHARGE OF THE DEFENDANT.-A. hearing took place this morning before Alderman Kerr, at the Cen-tral Station, in the case of William Henry Gill, Jr., who, with othersalready discharged, was held to await identification as the person who had obtained the new key-by which the arsenal safe, containing the stolen money, was unlocked. William Cullen, on being sworn, said that the safe referred to was in Cantain said that the safe referred to was in Capitain Gill's office. The proper key to open the safe was kept in a drawer in the office, and was in his possion on the night of the robbery. The money which was stolen had been deposited in the safe during the day, for safe keeping, it being in part the proceeds of an auction sale authorized by the Department.

There were nineteen watchmen about, and some one, as a matter of course, must have passed the building in which the office is located, at short intervals. Foot-prints of a man were visible on the fence opposite the window through which it is supposed the perpetrator of the robbery entered, but no one has yet been identified as the person whose foot-prints the ones in question resem-ble. Charles Widder, on being sworn, stated that he was a house-carpenter, and employed at the Arsenal. When the sink in the yard was ordered to be cleaned out, he was detailed to oversee the men, that any arwas detailed to oversee the men, that any ar-ticle belonging to the Arsenal, found in the well, might be recovered. After proceeding with their work a short time, a key was found which resembled the one used in unlocking the safe. [Witness was here shown the key, which he identified.] This key was taken in charge and put in a place of safety. Claistian Reith, locksmith, No. 169 Poplar street, on being sworn, testified to having made the new key. He was not able, however, to identify any one among the persons in the Alderman's office as the person for whom he made it. Detective Franklin was then sworn, and stated he had no new evidence to pressue. The defendent was then discharged from case

The defendent was then discharged from castody, there being no evidence to show that he was the person for whom the new key had vention. — Since the death of the late President of the Union, the duties of that office have devolved upon the Vice President, Mr. C. H. Lucker, of New York, who has just issued the following: OFFICE OF THE NATIONAL LABOR UNION, OFFICE OF THE NATIONAL LABOR UNION, PHILADELPHIA, July 30, 1869.—To the Working People of the United States: The recent sudden death of our honored and lamented leader, Mr. William H. Salvis, has unexpectedly de-volved upon me the cares and responsibilities attending the Presidency of the National Labor Union. While we deeply deplore our almost irreparable loss and bow in submission to the decrees of all inscruticle Providence, it becomes my imperative duty, as his successor. to the decrees of all inscruticle Providence, it becomes my imperative duty, as his successor, to urge upon the workingmen and women of the country, with renewed earnesthess, tho importance of being represented at the pre-sent session of the Labor Congress, and of re-pledging our devotion to those principles, in the promulgation and carrying out of which, the welfare of the toiling millions of the coun-try is involved. The session, as heretofore the verifie of the country minons of the coun-try is 'involved. The session, as heretofore amounced, will be held in the city of Phila-delphia, commencing on Monday, August 16, at 10 o'clock A. M. Delegates will please re-their substance and spirit. We want no toadying politician to spread a net with promised power as bait. Of all such men we say to our members beware, for he who is not with us in pocket, heart and soul, is against us is againstaus.

is against us. Our members are steadily increasing. There is now a large majority in the South, eager, carnest men, ready to join us, urging us to come and aid them to organize, and to show them how so great a power as we already possess may bless them. The great West with all its virality and vigor becknows onward and forward parallel vigor beckons us onward and forward, naught remains but to accept the offer, and the num-ber which are already knocking at our doors take it. There are two echoes in the gult which divide us. On one side we hear the nation promises to pay honorably on the other we hear repudiation; and of the latter term, which seems to shock these patriots, let us say more. It is not the voice of the few who have grown desperate and reckless; it is the sober second-thought of the old men of our time, who look out into the darkness about us, and know in their souls there is no hope for the generation who shall-follow them, naught but one sure gliding into decay and destruction.

We demand a hearing and a recognition which has been asked again and again, and now we have only to say we can and will take it.

destruction. destruction. This is not a thing to pray for, nor a time to fold hands in silence, and leave to thought and hope that which action and a determined power should do. We join ourselves to settle in one solenn compact-men and women-moving a solid phalanx against these oppres-sors, who have made the Government their sols, who have made the dovernment their tool, and which obeys their nod and beck as a spaniel obeys his master. Well may Mr. Sumner ask, "Are we a nation?" But, no doubt, the gentleman thinks, without him in Congress we should not be. But there are Congress we should not be. But there are others asking this question, and we believe it is to be answered only by the people. We, the people, will make it a nation. We know that our united strength, will enable us to extend that practical sympathy to all powers struggling in bondage which has been so com-pletely denied those whom they humbled with said struggle. Nay, friends, we have no time to us this moment asking what is to be the fate of Republican America. Some of your committee have traveled "personally and your committee have traveled personally and alone, at their own expense, through the de-solated homes and hamlets of the South We solated homes and hainlets of the South. We have talked with men who have seen all sides. of the policies offered by all, and what is their hope or their trust?. Nothing has been done for them that was promised, not one single thing which the Government declared should be, has given the slightest relief from the oppression which constantly pursuesthem; reduced to the last extremity, their remaining; acres depart under that law of necessity which has so long crushed them into earth.

reduced to the last extremity, their remaining acres depart under that law of necessity which has so long crushed them into earth. Think you, friends, there is no restitution? Is there nothing to fear where the Goverment usurps the power, and when the nation's finances are swayed by the selfish tyrant who seeks only his own pleasure? If this a repub-lie? And is it right that the popple are silent? My friends! All ages have produced their special power at the right time to stand against oppression. Men have been ere this raised up to go forth, clothed in the might which truth brings out of the gloom of despair, and we will gather together in the great cities of our great Union; we will make a power which would feign ignor-ance of our existence.

Signed in behalf of the President and Ex-ecutive Committee: Horace W. Day, A. C. Cameron, R. Trevellick, A. T. Cavis, A. M. Puett, J. C. Whaley.
